VILLA LEADS TROOPS TO ATTACK CARRANZA ARMY

GERMANS NOW LESS THAN 50 MILES FROM CALAIS

MEXICAN CONVENTION ORDERS BLOW STRUCK

Washington, Nov. 12.—Gen. Villa, at the head of a large column of troops has begun marching south from Aguas Calientes to attack the Carranza forces under Gen. Gonzales at Queretaro.

Official advices today say the Aguas Calientes convention ordered the movement. Gen. Blanco, who had announced his intention of remaining loyal to the convention started for Mexico City to take command of his troops but was arrested at Silao by Gen. Gonales.

Geo. C. Carothers, American consular agent reported that he was accompanying Villa on his march south.

Uncertainty in Washington.

Uncertainty ruled again today in the Mexican situation. Gen. Eulalio Guiterrez has taken the oath of office as provisional president at the Aguas Calientes convention which declared Gen. Carranza, hitherto first chief of the constitutionalist army as being in rebellion. Many generals who have not severed their allegiance to the convention are leaning toward Carranza. This was the tenor of official dispatches from American Consul Silliman at Mexico City, and Leon Canova, special agent at Aguas Calientes. In the meantime President Wilson and Secretary Bryan are awaiting further word from Mexico before announcing the date of the evacuation of Vera Cruz.

Rumors of Fighting Near.

Carranza is still at Cordoba and may move to Vera Cruz to celebrate the departure of the American forces. The convention is still in session at Aguas Calientes with rumors of fighting in the vicinity.

During the last twenty-four hours, Carranza invited Gutierrez by telegraph to meet him in personal conference in an effort to reach an agreement. Gutierrez declined. Carranza submitted a new list of conditions under which he would retire but they were rejected.

Over the long battle lines of Europe comparative quiet prevailed today except in Belgium, where the conflict continues, still with deadly fury and still undecided.

On the Servian border sharp fighting is in progress and the Turks are in action against the Russian, but on the main positions through France along the east Prussian border and in Galicia there apparently is a lull. On the success or failure of the German attempt to force a way to the English channel at whatever cost, may depend the future of the campaign, not only in Belgium, but elsewhere.

Today's French official statement, the only authoritative word up to early afternoon, sketched out a battle line which adheres closely to that previously reported. In contrast with yesterday's frank admission of a German advance, including the capture of Dixmude, the French statement of today was non-committal. Fighting continues with violence on the western end of the line, but there are no indications that the Germans have succeeded in pushing further their advance.

Minor engagements are reported at other points on the line, but apparently there have been no movements of note. Along the Servian border the only other point from which heavy firing is reported, the Austrians are making a determined effort to crush Servia and complete the campaign before the opening of winter. Austria's recent assertions that her troops had defeated the Servians and were carrying the fight well on Servian soil found partial confirmation in official information from Nish, where it is admitted the Servians abandoned some positions along the border, for "strategic reasons."

A decisive victory, however, is claimed by the Servians in one of the numerous engagements in progress along both the western and northern boundaries. A force of 6,000 Austrians, who crossed the Danube at a point thirty miles from Belgrade, the Servian war office says, was put to route, 1,000 being killed, 2,000 captured and many drowned in the river.

The Russian pursuit of the Germans along the Silesian frontier has slackened and the Germans are strengthening their positions along the line of border fortresses in expectation of an attempted Russian invasion.

Fighting between the Turks and Russian army of Caucasia apparently still is in progress without definite result. The Russian staff reports that it is maintaining its position, routing the Turkish forces which attempted an enveloping movement. A Turkish torpedo boat, according to a dispatch from Athens, has been captured off the coast of Asia Minor.

England's recent feeling of optimism was altered by the latest German naval feat of sending a submarine to the shore of England and sinking the torepdo boat Niger in the Downs.

The American cruiser, North Carolina, one of the two warships sent to the relief of Americans in Europe, is safe in the harbor at Beirut, as the Tennessee, her companion ship, learned by way of wireless. This put an end to [illegible] that the North Caro-

LABOR TO URGE WILSON TO ACT

Asks Federal Supervision of Coal Mines if Operators Hold Out.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 12.—A resolution was presented at today's session of the American Federation of Labor urging President Wilson to insist that the Colorado mine owners accept the federal plan for peace and if they fail to comply that the president take steps to have the coal mines operated under government supervision.

The resolution was filed by Wm. Green, of the United Mine Workers of America, acting for the mining department of the federation. It was referred to a committee. The resolution recited the history of the struggle between the mine owners and miners in that state and asserted investigations have shown the justice of the miner's cause.

The convention, after listening to a number of addresses, including one by Frank P. Walsh, of Kansas City, Mo., chairman of the federal industrial relations commission which he discussed the work of [illegible] body, adjourned until tomorrow. [illegible] early adjournment was taken to permit committees to continue their work.

Mr. Walsh's Adddress.

Mr. Walsh said the first report would be made to congress next month. He stated the commission has examined 300 employers, representing the great industries of the country. Of these, he said, only five employers have disagreed with the underlying principle of collective bargaining, and the commission would so report. Collective bargaining, he said, according to his understanding, was a system devised by studious men to prevent the well fed from driving a hard bargain with hungry men.

The convention was swept by applause when Mr. Walsh exclaimed that no man should be satisfied until he had received the full product of his own toil. The commission in its travels, he continued, had heard many criticisms of labor unions and it had also heard of the exploitation of men and women and had made articulate the "stifled sob of the exploited child in the maelstrom of modern industry." The report of the commission, Mr. Walsh said, would hold nothing sacred but the truth.

HOLD IT'S NONE OF OUR AFFAIRS

Washington, Nov. 12.—No representations will be made by the United States to Mexico about the alleged unneutral use of a recently discovered wireless tower at Ensenada, Lower California.

One of the European belligerants has made representations direct to Mexico City and it is understood that the state department will expect all the European powers to handle the questions of neutrality with Central and South American countries themselves, under the local laws.

Britain's contention that coal and supplies have been furnished to the German squadron from the Pacific coast countries of South America is being taken up directly.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 12.—More than twenty men have been indicted by the grand jury of Pike county for buying and selling votes at the judicial election two years ago, according to a report received here today. The indicted men will be tried at the January term of the circuit court at Pikeville.

CALDWELL FAVORS GIGANTIC POOL

Investment Banker Suggests Fund to Safeguard Stock Exchange Opening.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 12.—The formation of a $250,000,000 pool to buy bonds and stocks that may be thrown upon the market by panic-stricken investors and thus insure the immediate opening of the stock exchanges in this country was recommended by Charles B. Caldwell, of Chicago, president of the Investment Bankers' association of America in his address at the opening session of the convention of the organization in this city today. After calling attention to the desirability of such a pool Mr. Caldwell said:

"What could be more reassuring than to have American bankers band together to purchase all American securities sent to us for sale from European investors, which because of the war would certainly follow the opening of our stock exchanges. Unless some such pool is formed our stock exchanges can't open except in a limited way and will do no good to the country at large for months to come." Mr. Caldwell praised the new federal banking law and was optimistic as to the future of the country.

More than 400 elegates representing banking houses in all parts of the country were in attendance.

SHE SURRENDERED SEDALIA.

Mrs. Surana Jackson, Noted for War Action, is Dead.

Sedalia, Mo., Nov. 12.—Mrs. Surana Jackson, who in 1864 surrendered Sedalia to Gen. Streling Price when the confederate leader was on his raid, died at her home here today. She was 78 years old. During the civil war Mrs. Jackson proved her devotion to the union. All of the men of Sedalia were engaged in battle elsewhere when Gen. Price attacked the town. Mrs. Jackson, seeing the uselessness of resistance procured a sheet nailed it to a pole and amid bursting shells marched to the outskirts of the town and surrendered to Gen. Price. Her action probably [illegible]

STRUGGLE TO REACH COAST IS DESPERATE

London, Nov. 12.—(2:30 p. m.)—The Russian successes in the east which for a time was a predominant feature of the war news must again divide space with the accounts of rekindled activity on the part of the Germans in West Flanders, where the forces of Emperor William have disputed the contention of the allies that their attempt to force their way to Dunkirk or Calais had finally failed.

With Dixmude in their possession the invaders were today less than fifty miles from Calais and much nearer Dunkirk, and the fight they have been putting up in the face of tremendous losses, seems to bear out what has been so often said—that they will not abandon this struggle to reach the coast unless they are utterly crushed.

The English and French theory is that the holding of Dixmude is only temporary; that its history will be much the same as that of other towns which have been taken and retaken in the fighting on the Yser.

In certain places north of Dixmude, the Germans are at the left bank of the river, that is, on the side nearest the French coast towns and their attacks instead of concentrating to the southward below Ypres, apparently have been renewed almost on the coast line. Here they drove the allies from Lombaertzyde only in turn to be driven out themselves.

The official announcement given out at Paris this afternoon says the Germans are trying to take Lombaertzyde, which is to the north of Nieuport and within a stone's throw of the sea. How they can operate in this locality as British and French warships are still standing guard off the shores, is not quite clear to British observers. For some time past there has been no mention of naval activity on this coast but it has been assumed that this was explained by the reported German retirement from the coast of France and Belgium that and the news that they were delivering their attacks further to the south.

CONTINUES WITH VIOLENCE.

Fighting Characterized by Alternate Advances and Retirements.

Paris, Nov. 12.—(2:45 p. m.)—The French official statement given out in Paris this afternoon says that the fighting on the left wing continues with violence and has been characterized with alternate advances and retirements, without importance. Generally speaking the statement declares the battle front shows no important changes since the 10th of November.

The text of the communication follows:

"On our left wing the fighting still continues with violence and has been conducted with alternate advances and retirements without importance. Speaking broadly, the battle front has not varied geatly since the 10th of November. In the evening of yesterday it extended along the line between Lombaertzyde and Nieuport; the Nieuport canal to Presse; the approach of Ypres; in the region of Zonnebeke, and to the east of Armentieres.

"There has been no change in the positions held by the British army which repulsed the attacks of the enemy and particularly an offensive movement undertaken by a detachment of the Prussian guard.

"From the canal of La Bassee as far as and up to the river Oise there have been minor engagements.

"In the region of the river Aisne in the neighborhood of Vailley we made

"In the region of Graonne and on the Heurtebise farm our artillery succeeded in reducing to silence the cannon of the enemy. Several of their pieces were even destroyed. We also made some progress in the vicinity of Berry-au-Back.

BOMB ECHO OF OLD HAYMARKET RIOTS

New York Bomb Explosion Now Believed Work of Anarchist.

New York, Nov. 12.—Amidst the ruin wrought by a powerful bomb exploded last night at the entrance to Bronx county's new $1,000,000 court house detectives found today what they consider strong evidence that the outrage was perpetrated by an anarchist who had in mind the Haymarket riots at Chicago more than twenty years ago.

Detectives who had believed that the explosion had been prompted by vengeance upon County Judge Louis D. Gibbs for heavy sentences imposed recently by him on seven traffickers in women, turned from their theory to follow the fresh clue. Among the fragments of metal clipped from the door casing and cornices of the court house they found the tatters of a pamphlet printed in Spanish and said: "Los Mortieres des Chicago" T(he martyrs of Chicago). The pamphlet so far as it could be pieced together purported to tell the story of the Haymarket anarchists who killed the Chicago police in the famous riots. A rough woodcut showed the Haymarket anarchists swinging from the gallows. There were incendiary statements concerning the duty of anarchists to avenge the "martys."

Close investigation today disclosed the fact there was only one bomb instead of two, as at first reported.

PLAGUE INVADES MORE TERRITORY

Washington, Nov. 12.—The foot and mouth disease in the Baltimore stock yard was reported today to the department of agriculture.

Spread of the foot and mouth disease to four more counties in Illinois—Hancock, La Salle, Warren and Mercer—and from Bullett county, Kentucky, to Henry county was reported to the department of agriculture today by field inspectors. The infection of two new herds of cattle in Allegheny county, Pa., also was reported.

THE SUFFRAGISTS ARE NON-PARTISAN

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 12.—By a decisive vote the executive committee of the National American Woman Suffrage association at the opening of the forty-sixth annual convention here today declared its political non-partisanship and went on record as opposed to attacks upon any political party.

This action was taken in the adoption of resolutions presented by Mrs. Raymond Brown of New York. It was considered as a preliminary victory for the so-called "administration" forces against the element in opposition and generally supposed to look with favor upon the congressional union.

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the association, called the convention to order and reminded the delegates that it was an auspicious date for the assembling of the convention, in that it is the ninety-ninth anniversary of the birth of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton, one of the pioneers in the woman suffrage movement in this country.

DEMANDS IMMEDIATE TRIAL.

Former Senator Lorimer Insists on Action at Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Former Senator William Lorimer, under indictment for participation in the wrecking of the LaSalle street bank, of which he was part owner, appeared before Judge Kersten today and demanded an immediate trial.

NEGRO'S TONE STIRS WILSON

President Resents Temper of Colored Men in Making Protest.

Committee Must Get a New Chairman If It Wants to Call Again.

Washington, Nov. 12.—President Wilson, while receiving a delegation of negroes today who came to the white house to protest against segregating the races in government departments objected to the tone adopted by their spokesman, William Trotter, of Boston, and told the committee that if it called on him again it would have to get a new chairman.

The president added he had not been addressed in such a manner since he entered the white house.

The delegation charged that Secretary McAdoo and Comptroller Williams in the treasury department and Postmaster General Burleson had preferred segregation rules in their offices.

The President's Reply.

President Wilson replied he had investigated the question and had been assured there had been no discrimination in the comforts and surroundings given to the negroes. He added he had been informed by officials that the segregation had been started to avoid friction between the races and not with the object of injuring the negroes.

The president said he was deeply interested in the negro race and greatly admired its progress. He declared the thing to be sought by the negro people was complete independence of white people and that he felt the white race was willing to do everything possible to assist them.

Trotter Takes Issue.

Trotter and other members at once took issue with the president declaring the negro people did not seek charity or assistance, but that they took the position that the negroes had equal rights with whites and that those rights should be respected.

They denied there had been any friction between the two races before segregation was begun.

President Wilson listened to what they had to say and then told the delegation that Trotter was losing control of his temper and that he the president wouldn't discuss the matter with him.

After leaving the president's private office, Trotter, Maurice V. Spencer and others of the delegation declared their talk had been thoroughly disappointing.

LAST-MINUTE NEWS

GERMAN CRUISERS SUNK? NOT CONFIRMED.

GERMANS AID AMERICAN RELIEF WORK.

London, Nov. 13.—(2:40 p. m.)—Jarvis E. Bell, of New York, the first member of the American commission for relief in Belgium, to return from Belgium since the distribution of relief began, states that instead of hampering the efforts to relieve the starving people the German authorities are doing their utmost to assist the commission in its work.

WAS SHORT OF AMMUNITION.

Tokio, Nov. 12.—Mayer Waldeck, who was in command of the German forces at Tsing Tau, according to a dispatch from Tsing Tau to the Asava, has sent a telegram to Emperor William, saying he was compelled to surrender the position on account of lack of ammunition and the heavy damage inflicted by the enemy on his forts.

DIVINE HEALER PLEADS GUILTY

Freeport, Ill., Nov. 12.—John F. Braun, of Rockford, Ill., who called himself "Dr. Schiller, Divine Healer," today pleaded guilty in federal court to the misuse of the mails. Prior to entering his plea Braun on the witness stand, assumed all blame for infractions of federal laws by himself or his wife, who was jointly indicted with him.

Braun advertised in many parts of the country.

GERMAN BLOW ANSWER TO STORY OF RETREAT

Paris, Nov. 12.—The battle in Flanders is as far as ever from a decision, according to the official communications and judging from stories told by eye witnesses arriving from the battle front.

The Germans have given an emphatic denial of the reports that they were in retreat by carrying Dixmude on the Yser, twelve miles north of Ypres and on the road to Dunkirk, which the Germans are striving to attain.

French blue jackets at Dixmude had held the town against them in the face of fierce attacks for the past week but were finally compelled to give way. The allies' attempts to drive the Germans out again have thus far failed.

On the rest of the front as far as the river Lys the situation, according to latest advices, remains practically unchanged.

As attention has centered to a large extent around Dixmude the Germans are entitled to claim the advantage but the French are strongly posed in the vicinity and the possession of the village so far has availed them but little.

The setback at Dixmude, in the opinion expressed here, is somewhat compensated for by the progress made by the Belgians along the Nieuport-Ostend road. If followed up, this advance apparently would threaten the German flank.

Fresh Masses of Troops.

West and south of Ypres the Germans centered on these farms, which are disseem to have found fresh masses of troops to hurl into the murderous fray but the allies seem to be holding their own. The country here is undulating, well wooded and covered with a multitude of farms which are surrounded by large elms. The villages are few and small and most of the population is centered on these farms the houses on which are distant from each other, at the most from two to three yards. These innumerable and solidly built brick houses with their walled country yards and sometimes with deep ditches make excellent bases for small detachments and play an important part in the long battle. The struggle is taking place among the farms in the direction of the border towns of Comines, Worvick and Menien.

The combats around La Vasse and Arras, where the British are operating, have shown no decisive change. The ground here has been successfully and steadfastly maintained, the British repelling attack after attack.

URGES HUMANS TO KEEP AWAY

Federal Department Issues Statement Regarding Cattle Plague.

Washington, Nov. 12.—Foot and mouth disease now raging among cattle in fourteen states is communicable to humans, the department of agriculture announced today, but its effect rarely is serious. The department urged, however, that humans keep away from diseased cattle to avoid spreading the infection and recommended the use of pasteurized milk.

The statement said in part: "The anxiety that has been expressed in several quarters in regard to the effect upon human health of the present outbreak of the foot and mouth disease is regarded by government authorities as somewhat exaggerated. The most common fear is that the milk supply might be contaminated, but in view of the precautions that local authorities in the affected areas are generally taking, there is comparatively little danger of this. Milk from infected farms is not permitted to be shipped at all. The only danger is therefore that before the disease has manifested itself some milk might reach the market. For this reason experts in the department recommend pasteurization.

"In this country the foot and mouth disease has been so rare that there are few recorded cases of its transmission to human beings. In 1902 a few cases were reported in New England, and in 1908 in a few instances eruptions were found in the mouths of children which were believed to have been caused by contaminated milk. In both of these outbreaks, the sale of milk was stopped as soon as the disease was found among the cattle. As long therefore as the disease can be confined by rigid quarantine to certain specified areas, the danger from this source is very small.

"Men who come in contact with disease in the animals may also become infected. In adult human beings the contagion causes such symptoms as sore mouths, painful swallowing, fever, and occasional eruptions on the hands, finger tips, etc.

"While causing considerable discomfort, however, the disease is rarely serious. Where it is very prevalent among animals, some authorities believe that it is fairly general among human beings, but that the disturbances it causes are usually so slight that they are not brought to the attention of the family physician. There is, however, a very good reason for everyone giving the diseased animals as wide a berth as possible, namely that otherwise they may carry the disease to perfectly healthy herds.

"The disease, in short, is dangerous because of the loss that it occasions to property, and not because of its effects upon the health of mankind."

SHOULD FOLLOW POPULAR WILL

Madison, Wis., Nov. 12.—A plea for greater responsiveness by legislatures to the popular will, with a suggestion as to the part a governor should bear in bringing this about was made here today by F. M. Byrne, chief executive of South Dakota. He spoke before the governor's conference which has been in session since Tuesday and his address followed a discussion of extradition problems, led by Gov. S. M. Stewart, of Montana.

After establishing his premise that because of the veto power and the right to recommend the enactment of desirable measures the governor is a part of the legislature, he said: "Why should not the governor in matters he deems of great importance or in support of a measure he believes the people desire enacted into law, accompany his recommendation by a draft of a bill for which he is willing to assume responsibility?

"How often we see a measure advocated in party platforms made the issues on which the party carries the election, urgently recommended by the governor and apparently earnestly desired by a great majority of the people and yet the legislature comes and goes without such measure being enacted into law and we see no way definitely to place the blame.

"I do not advocate an extension of the power of the governor, but present this as a means toward making his leadership effective and at the same time fixing with accuracy his responsibility."

NORTH CAROLINA SAFE AT BEIRUT

Washington, Nov. 12.—The armored cruiser Tennessee in the Mediterranean reported today she had been in wireless communication with the cruiser North Carolina yesterday and that the ship was safe in Beirut harbor.

The message was sent by Captain Benton C. Decker, of the Tennessee, and reached the United States by relays of wireless and cable. It was six words long, simply announcing the safety of both ships but made no mention of the reported landing of bluejackets from the North Carolina at Beirut.

The Tennessee's report disposes of persistent rumors of the last three days untraceable to any source and widely circulated through the country that the North Carolina had been sunk by a mine. Hundreds of friends and relatives of men and officers on board were thrown into great distress and besieged the navy department with inquiries. Navy department officials never had any fears for the safety of the ships and so assured all inquirers.

QUEEN VISITS WOUNDED MEN

London, Nov. 12.—(12:17 p. m.)—Queen Mary gladdened the hearts of 200 wounded "Tommies" in the American woman's hospital at Paignton, Devonshire, by a visit today and a personal gift to each wounded soldier. At the invitation of Lady Arthur Padget, chairma nof the American woman's committee supporting the hospital the queen left London early in the morning on a special train for the trip, accompanied by Lady Mary Trefusis, one of her ladies in waiting; Sir Charles Cust, of the king's household; Lady Arthur Padget, Lady Randolph Churchill and Mrs. Lewis Harcourt, the last three members of the hospital committee. Upon arrival at the hospital Dr. Howard N. Beal and the other surgeons and nurses, all of whom are Americans, were presented to the queen who remained for two hours, visiting the wards and talking to the wounded and presenting them with pipes, shirts, cigarettes and mufflers.

Two hundred thousand more are destitute in Holland. Little Holland is doing her bravest for them, but the war has paralyzed her industries, too.

WAVE OF ENGLISH OPTIMISM CHECKED

London, Nov. 12.—(9:55 a. m.)—The wave of optimism which has been sweeping England for the past week was checked today by news of the occupation of Dixmude by German forces and the renewed indication of the peril from German submarines by the fate of the torpedo gun boat Niger, which yesterday morning was destroyed by a torpedo launched from a submarine of the enemy. This occurred within sight of the English shore in the narrow part of the channel, where several hundred ships lay at anchor.

The importance of the fall of Dixmude is difficult to estimate without exact knowledge of how the opposing forces are disposed in this locality, but the town is on the direct road to Dunkirk, and if the [illegible] tions in their efforts to block the way to the coast.

The allies still hold Ypres, where the fighting evidently is of the most desperate character. Shells constantly are falling in the town, which also is the object of aeroplane attacks.

Too Hot for Occupation.

Armentieres, which has been constantly a bone of contention, being first occupied by the invaders, and then by the defenders, has now become too hot for occupation by either side. The Germans are on the hills on one side of the town and the allies are attacking it unceasingly from the other.

For the moment the Russian pursuit along the Silesian frontier has slackened. The Germans are reported in London to be making efforts further to [illegible] up reinforcements so rapidly that the German center is not likely again to be exposed to the same weakness which led to the retreat before Warsaw.

The rumor still continues in London that the German crown prince was in command of the German center which gave way before the Russian assault outside of Warsaw, and he is being blamed for this reverse.

A dispatch received here from Petrograd declares that the dissensions between Gen. von Hindenberg, commander of the German forces in East Prussia, and Gen. Dankl, the Austrian commander, are so acute that Austrian officers are refusing longer to keep with the German staff.

Vienna officially admits the withdrawal of Austrians from western Galicia and the complete investment by the Russians of the Przemyal fortress, but up to yesterday the Austrian general staff was reporting continued success in Servia.

1,569 LIVE IN CHICAGO BLOCK

Chicago, Nov. 12.—There are 1,590 persons, making up 357 families living in one block of Chicago's tenement districts, according to a report today by investigators of the bureau of social survey.

The investigators found only eight bath tubs in the block—an average of one tub for each two hundred people. Forty-six persons have the eight bath tubs, the remaining 1,550 having no tubs at all. More than one-fourth of the families live in three room apartments and have only one bedroom.

Wages of the householders were found to average $12.27 a week and the yearly family income was said to be far below $12 a week. Of the 1,596 persons living in the block 805 are children.

SHIELD AND FLAG ESCAPE.

Rheims, France, Nov. 12.—A German shell exploded yesterday in the street opposite the American consulate. The front of the building was cut up by the shrapnel, but neither the American shield nor the flag was damaged.

For six weeks passed German shells by the thousands have been falling into this quarter of the city, but this is the first time the consulate has been struck.

William Bardell, the consul, left here by direction of Ambassador Herrick three weeks ago, and the consulate is therefore empty. So far as is known there is not a single American in Rheims.

THOUSANDS SEE GUNBOAT GO DOWN

Deal, England, Nov. 12.—Thousands of people yesterday witnessed the sinking off Deal of the British torpedo gunboat Niger by a German submarine while lying in the Downs opposite the pier head.

At noon a loud roar of an explosion was heard, dense columns of black smoke were seen to arise and the Niger almost immediately began to go down by the bows. Though partially hidden by clouds of smoke and steam the stern of the Niger was seen to rise gradually in the air until the greater length of her keel was visible, then she slid slowly and gracefully beneath the water twenty minutes after she was struck. Her boilers exploded immediately before she disappeared and caused a further rush of steam.

Nearly all of the crew were below at dinner when the torpedo struck the ship and orders to close the water tight doors were shouted from the bridge. When the crew flew to obey one of them observed the white foam following the course of the torpedo. The explosion followed and a large hole was made just before the bridge in the forward part of the ship.

Boats were immediately launched, including two life boats and the crew, including Captain Muir and the officers, were rescued. Three of the survivors are injured and it is reported that two men are missing.

This is the first time a German submarine has penetrated the Downs where nearly a hundred ships were at anchor at the time of the disaster.

WAR EXHIBIT AT LEIPSIC'S SHOW

Given as Part of Germany's National Plan of Education.

Berlin, Nov. 12.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—An interesting exhibit of things connected with the war is to be seen at the international book exposition at Leipsic. Because of its popularity this branch was ordered kept open after the close of the exposition proper. The German government regards it as necessary to the education of the people, and as filling a mission.

One section is devoted to prominently displayed copies of foreign papers with a record of deliberately false reports contained therein. These papers are heavily bordered, and beside each is a translation. German newspapers from cities occupied by the Russians are also displayed, containing the proclamations and orders of the Russian commanders and blank columns where the Russian censor prohibited the publication of certain articles.

Literature evoked by the war is represented by a large collection. It includes cartoons from hostile publications, letters and postcards from the front—one of the latter consisting of a section cut from a Belgian aeroplane which had been brought down, and various engravings and paintings.

Another section is given over to uniforms, projectiles, captured weapons and flags. The collection includes a knout taken from a Cossack.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

11 Chronicles 35:16-27.

16 So all the service of the Lord was prepared the same day, to keep the passover, and to offer burn offerings upon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandment of king Josiah.

17 And the children of Israel that were present kept the passover at that time, and the feast of unleavened bread seven days.

18 And there was no passover like to that kept in Israel from the days of Samuel the prophet; neither did all the kings of Israel keep such a passover as Josiah kept, and the priests, and the Levites, and all Judah and Israel that were present, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

19 In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josiah was this passover kept.

20 After all this, when Josiah had prepared the temple, Necho king of Egypt came up to fight against Charchemish by Euphrates: and Josiah went out against him.

21 But he sent ambassadors to him, saying, What have I to do with thee, thou king of Judah? I come not against thee this day, but against the house wherewith I have war: for God commanded me to make haste: forbear thee from meddling with God, who is with me, that he destroy thee not.

22 Nevertheless Josiah would not turn his face from him, but disguised himself, that he might fight with him, and hearkened not unto the words of Necho from the mouth of God, and came to fight in the valley of Megiddo.

23 And the archers shot at king Josiah; and the king said to his servants, Have me away; for I am sore wounded.

24 His servants therefore took him out of that chariot, and put him in the second chariot that he had; and they brought him to Jerusalem, and he died, and was buried in one of the sepulchres of his fathers. And all Judah and Jerusalem mourned for Josiah.

25 And Jeremiah lamented for Josiah: and all the singing men and the singing women spake of Josiah in their lamentations to this day, and made them an ordinance in Israel: and behold, they are written in the lamentations.

26 Now the rest of the acts of Josiah, and his goodness, according to that which was written in the law of the Lord.

27 And his deeds, first and last, behold, they are written in the books of the kings of Israel and Judah.

Additions to the Prison Colony.

Six men who have been held in the Allen county jail came before Judge Eggeman, in the circuit court Wednesday, entered pleas of guilty and were given sentences of varying degrees of severity either to the state prison at Michigan City or the state reformatory at Jeffersonville. Even in so populous a county as Allen the swelling of the prison colony by so many as six additions in a single day is an unusual circumstance in criminology.

The crimes of which the men admitted guilt included petit larceny, burglary, horse-stealing, forgery and child-neglect, and most of them were very ordinary as such cases go. Society has become accustomed to breaches of the law of this character, and save when they are rounded up into such a collection as came into the limelight on Wednesday they attract little attention.

The exception in the present instance is that of the case of child-neglect, in which a husband and father was sent to state's prison for from one to seven years. The case was a flagrant one, and the accused had not one word to offer in mitigation of his shameless desertion of the helpless ones dependent upon him. It is gratifying to observe that in these latter years the law is coming to deal more severely with the human brute who fails to provide for the wife and the little ones to whom he is bound by every tie of human decency if not of regard. The mental picture of a penitentiary sentence before the man who is wilfully derelict in this regard ought to have a benificent influence, since his very course establishes the fact that he is deaf to the appeal of conscience.

Another Indiana state tax conference is to be held at Indianapolis early in December, when our present system of taxation will be discussed once more. Past experience, however, has shown that it is extremely difficult to make any sort of progress toward that millenial day when tax-paying becomes so easy that it will constitute an enjoyable recreation, in Indiana or elsewhere. But let us hope, let us hope.

The yellowed tips of two fingers of the right hand of the culprit convinced an Indianapolis judge that the delinquency of a young man arraigned before him had been due to indulgence in cigarettes. It must be admitted that evidence of this sort is extremely difficult to get away from. The mark of the cigarette is an ever-present attestation of its debasing enslavement.

Since the election, it is declared, the police at Kokomo have begun a crusade of law-enforcement. That it was not instituted before election day is one of the interesting peculiarities of modern political methods that has become so generally accepted that it excites neither surprice nor comment as a rule.

Japan, dispatches say, joined America in prayers for world peace on the date set by President Wilson for devotional appeal for the termination of histilities. There is no evidence, however, to show that our honorable oriental neighbors stopped fighting while they prayed.

Neighborhood gossip is credited with having caused the suicide of an Elkhart county farmer—and everybody will admit that the ordinary brand of it is bad enough to do it, all right.

COOLING OFF AND PEACE.

(Pittsburgh Dispatch.)

David Starr Jordan, in a talk before the Chicago City club, described the arbitration agreements which the Washington administration is negotiating with many nations as "cooling-off treaties." He meant by that to convey the idea that while arbitration treaties do not guarantee the makers against war, they perform an important purpose in securing the deliberation that in the majority of cases operates to prevent the resort to arms.

It is, of course, indisputable that to impose on all nations a period of deliberation before proceeding to the argument of force will be valuable, if more cannot be done. But since the case of the demand of Austria on Servia is used to illustrate this point, it is pertinent to say that the disregard of treaties by combatants in the present war gives little reason to hope that these treaties will be effective if nations get into the belligerent spirit that produced the European combat.

It is suggested that when the European war is over the United States should directly urge the belligerents, as well as to give them the example, to provide that a longer interval shall be interposed between the joining of diplomatic issues and the opening of conflicts. We believe that when Europe ends this war it will be ready to go much further than that. The United States should certainly prepare for going further. We think the opportunity is excellent to establish a Pan-American international court, in which all or, at least, the chief American nations should join, declaring for the settlement of all international issues by the decision of an impartial court, the union of all American nations to enforce the finding of such courts, the principle that no American nation shall engage in war except as the result of an arbitration and the pledge of all to defend any one of their number that is attacked without submitting the issue to an international court. This should be based on declarations of international law which should prohibit wars of conquest in this hemisphere, discourage if not actually forbid the naval collection of bad debts and establish the principle recently promulgated by Naon of Argentine that "victory confers no rights."

If America should put this hemisphere upon such a basis of peace and reason, it would probably soon gain important European adherents. If it did not, it would result in growth and progress for America while Europe sank deeper into militarism.

WANTED—A CURE.

(New York Times.)

The plague among cattle of foot and mouth disease, known to the scientists as aphthous fever, epizootic aphtha, and eczema epizootica, finds no known remedy to prevent contagion, which has spread over broad areas of the United States. Many states, from Connecticut to Iowa, and including New York, have been quarantined against the export of cattle, sheep and swine; in these states, but for the energetic work of the public health authorities, the disease might have spread to human beings. The blisters which it causes in the mouth and nasal passages and the crippling of the feet are not usually fatal; the animal under hygienic treatment may get well. Meanwhile it is a menace in its neighborhood. For this reason the government inspectors have ordered every affected animal to be shot and buried in quicklime.

Dr. Theobald Smith, of Harvard, who, last May, accepted the directorship of the new department of animal pathology of the Rockefeller institute, would confer a great boon on mankind and upon the animal kingdom by finding the cause of this scourge. The discoverer of the parasite that causes the Texas fever of cattle by transmission through ticks, Dr. Smith, was the first scientist in the world to prove the theory of insect carriers of disease. He has done epoch-making work in proving that the bovine type of tubercle bacillus is dangerous to man. Research, such as he is intent upon, has permitted the conquest of anthrax, another scourge of cattle and sheep; of the contagious pleuro-pneumonia of cattle, and better control of glanders, rabies and hog cholera. Aphthous fever may yield to patient study, which has detected the subtle causes of other plagues of animals.

NOTED BARITONE DRIVES TAXICAB

Poor Dramatic Artists Are Also Hard Hit by the War.

Paris, Nov. 12.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Poor dramatic artists unqualified for roles in the theater of war are among those who feel most the rigors of martial law. One of the baritones of the Opera Comique is driving a taxicab. Others have been driven to seek the most menial occupations. During the first days of the war many of those artists were allowed to sing in the streets, and really good artists were heard in the courts of apartment buildings, but on account of the crowds they drew this means of cking out an existence was forbidden.

One familiar with the night life of Paris would hardly seek patriotic emotions at that music hall to which the "can-can" gave a certain notoriety, and yet this place until recently closed was nightly the scene of impressive incidents characteristic of the few distractions the city offers. All amusements, if they may be so called, are censored to the feeling of the moment.

At the music hall in question the orchestra struck up the Marseillaise. A tall Algerian rifleman rose from a front seat. His right hand was in a sling and it seemed to embarrass him. He hesitated an instant and then his left went up in an impressive gesture to his red fez. While he stood there "at attention" a little trooper in the blue-red trimmed Belgian cap clapped his hands, jumped to his feet and saluted. The entire audience was up then and the theater resounded with the inspiring strains of the battle hymn.

When the last notes died away the ceiling rang with applause, but above the din cries were heard of "La Brabanconne! La Brabanconne!" A big tear rolled down the cheek of the little Belgian trooper as he listened to his national anthem, but neither he nor the Algerian rifleman moved a muscle. They stood there "at attention" until the English and Russian hymns had been played, until the lights faded and the moving pictures appeared on the screen.

Moving pictures are ruthlessly cut out whenever they strike a lighter vein than prescribed by the authorities, and, for the same reason, have failed the feeble attempts that have been made to bring the cafe-concert back to life.

Orchestral concerts are allowed, but they too must conform to the regulations and the programs invariably include the patriotic airs of the allied nations, military marches, marching songs and generally such familiar airs as call up elevated sentiments. German compositions are rigorously barred.

In spite of the small number of evening entertainments the audiences are not large and they are chiefly made up of foreigners remaining in Paris. Their attitude, for the most part, is dignified; in the rare cased where they have failed to be so the place has promptly been closed.

JUST WITH HER TWO BARE FISTS

California Woman Knocks Out Two Very Husky Burglars.

San Francisco, Nov. 12.—When Clara Roberts found two burglars looting her room in a hotel here, instead of screaming for help she grabbed each by the scruff of the neck and bumped their heads together and then turned them over to the police.

The men gave their names as Chapman Gray and Earl Wilson, and as a result of their encounter with the doughty Miss Roberts are the possessors of black eyes and badly bruised heads.

Clara Roberts.

Miss Roberts entered her room quietly when she found the door ajar and discovered the young men filling their pockets with valuables from her dresser.

"What are you doing here," she demanded.

One of the men made a rush at her and she floored him with a punch to the jaw. A smashing jolt in the eye brought the other marauder down when he lunged at her. And when help arrived Miss Roberts was discovered bumping the heads of the two men together.

WOMAN'S WILE WINS OVER LAW

Miss Marguerite Ogden is Equal to Emergency in California.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 12. When a woman seeks to evade the machinery of the law, send a woman after her!

That this is destined to become a popular method in civil procedure is to be gathered from the experience of Miss Marguerite Ogden, attorney, and law partner of Mrs. Annette Adams, recently named assistant United States district attorney here.

Mrs. Grace F. Chinn, a wealthy widow, had been somewhat lax in paying an undertaker's bill, as administratrix of her husband's estate. When Miss Ogden sent a boy to serve a citation, Mrs. Chinn sent word that she couldn't come to the door—she was still in bed. The boy couldn't serve the paper. When the boy returned later and still later, the woman was still "in bed."

Miss Marguerite Ogden.

A citation summoning Mrs. Chinn to show cause why she shouldn't be punished for contempt of court, met with the same reception.

Then Miss Ogden took a personal hand. She appeared at the Chinn home under pretext that she wanted to buy an interest in the property the widow held. And Mrs. Chinn appeared with alacrity.

The upshot of the affair was that the refractory administratrix was at once relieved on her control of the estate.

How to Have the Best Cough Remedy and Save $2 by Making It at Home

Cough medicines, as a rule contain a large quantity of plain syrup. A pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, stirred for 2 minutes, gives you as good syrup as money can buy.

Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces Pinex (50 cents worth), pour into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with sugar syrup. This gives you, at a cost of only 54 cents, a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50—a clear saving of nearly $2. Full directions with Pinex. It keeps perfectly and tastes good.

It takes hold of the usual cough or chest cold at once and conquers it in 24 hours. Splendid for whooping cough, bronchitis and winter coughs.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals and soothes the inflamed membranes in the case of a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with guaiacol, and has been used for generations to heal inflamed membranes of the throat and chest.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Baby Astor in Training to Work for Living After While.

New York, Nov. 12.—John Jacob Astor VI. must work for a living when he grows up. Not that he can't get along comfortably on his $10,000,000 inheritance, but because it is the wish of his mother, the former Madeline Force, that her son be a trained business man, and not a "social idler."

"I am going to train my son to work, to be useful," says Mrs. Astor. "He must be more than an irresponsible rich man. He must be an asset to the country. He'll be a working man, trained to understand business and, if need be, to earn a living."

The two-year-old son of Colonel John Jacob Astor, who went down with the Titanic, has already commenced training for the strenuous life. Almost from the time of his birth he has slept in a cold room. He takes daily drives, regardless of the weather. His food is simple, and his play is planned to develop his muscle and his mind.

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for Croup.

Croup scares you. The loud hoarse croupy cough, choking and gasping for breath, labored breathing, call for immediate relief. The very first doses of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound will master the croup. It cuts the thick mucus, clears away the phlegm and opens up and eases the air passages. Harold Berg, Mass, Mich., writes: "We give Foley's Honey and Tar to our children for croup and it always acts quickly." Every user is a friend.—Dreier Drug Co.—Adv.

LESS THAN "LIVING WAGE."

Women and Children Poorly Paid in New Orleans.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 12.—That 24 per cent. of the wage-earning women and children of New Orleans are working for $4 a week was one of many startling facts discovered by investigators of the Consumers' league in a survey of workshop conditions just completed.

An expert statistician, aided by a group of college girls, made the investigation. Of the 5,365 cases investigated it was found that 24 per cent. earn less than $4; 56 per cent. between $4 and $6; only 10 per cent. received $10, and only one per cent. $20.

The survey showed that neither faithfulness nor long-continued service has any appreciable effect in advancing salaries. Women employed twenty years in one line of work were getting no larger wages than the new employe.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you, drink lots of water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your [illegible]

NOW BEWARE HIGH STEP.

It May Mean Aches and Doctor Bills, Say Osteopaths.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—The eighteen-inch street car step is an advance agent of death in disguise according to osteopaths in Chicago, who have commenced a crusade to pull the eighteen-inch car step down to six or ten inches of the ground.

"The high street car step is a menace to health," says Dr. Joseph H. Sullivan, who leads the "low-step" crusade. "If the public knew how much of its sciatica and lumbago was caused by that high step, public sentiment would soon lower the steps of the street cars, not only in Chicago, but the country over for other street car systems are just as bad in this respect as ours."

Dr. Sullivan declares that in taking the high step the upper part of the leg should not be elevated above a horizontal position. When it is, and the body's weight then placed upon it there is caused a slight dislodgement of the pelvic bone. The constant strain of mounting high car steps causes a permanent twisting of the joint, the regular flow of blood is interrupted, pain follows then comes lumbago and sciatica.

Are wholesome, thoroughly cleansing, and have stimulating effect on the stomach, liver and bowels. Regulate you with no griping and no unpleasant after effects. Stout people find they give immense relief and comfort. Anti-bilious. Warren Spofford, Green Bay, Wis., writes: "Foley Cathartic Tablets are the best laxative I ever used. They do the work promptly and with no bad after effects." Try them. Dreier Drug Co.—Adv.

HUNGRY WAIFS FED.

Michigan Farmers Feast Delegation in Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Children in Chicago—the basement waifs, and the children of the tenements found out today what a real dinner tastes like.

They feasted on mashed potatoes, smacked their lips over boiled cabbage and they reveled in baked apples. And there'll be more fresh vegetables and fruit for dinner tomorrow, and for several days to come.

The vegetable feast was provided by the farmers 'round Three Oaks, Mich. They gathered up the vegetables that were rotting in the fields because cellars were overcrowded and there was no demand for them in the market. They filled a car and sent it to Chicago to be distributed among the poor. There were 1,200 half-bushel baskets of vegetables in the car and several sacks of flour and coffee.

Two more car loads, the remains of a "bumper crop," will be shipped to Chicago from Michigan this fall.

This Blunder Has Proved Costly

To Many Builders--and Some Architects

The strongest evidence that we can advance in support of our contention that every Building should be piped for gas during construction can be found in our records, showing that we are sooer or later called upon to furnish gas to occupants of most every building in the city.

We can prove that the builder who for special reasons leaves gas out of his specifications, eventually uses or rents his buildings for a purpose it was not originally built for.

When it is finally necessary to install gas, it means a lot of tearing up of floors and walls, and a loss of time and money to all concerned

For this reason it is clearly a matter of plain economy to have every building piped for gas during process of construction.

We will be pleased to send one of our engineers free of charge to consult with any architect or builder in regard to special requirements, proper appliance or installation problems.

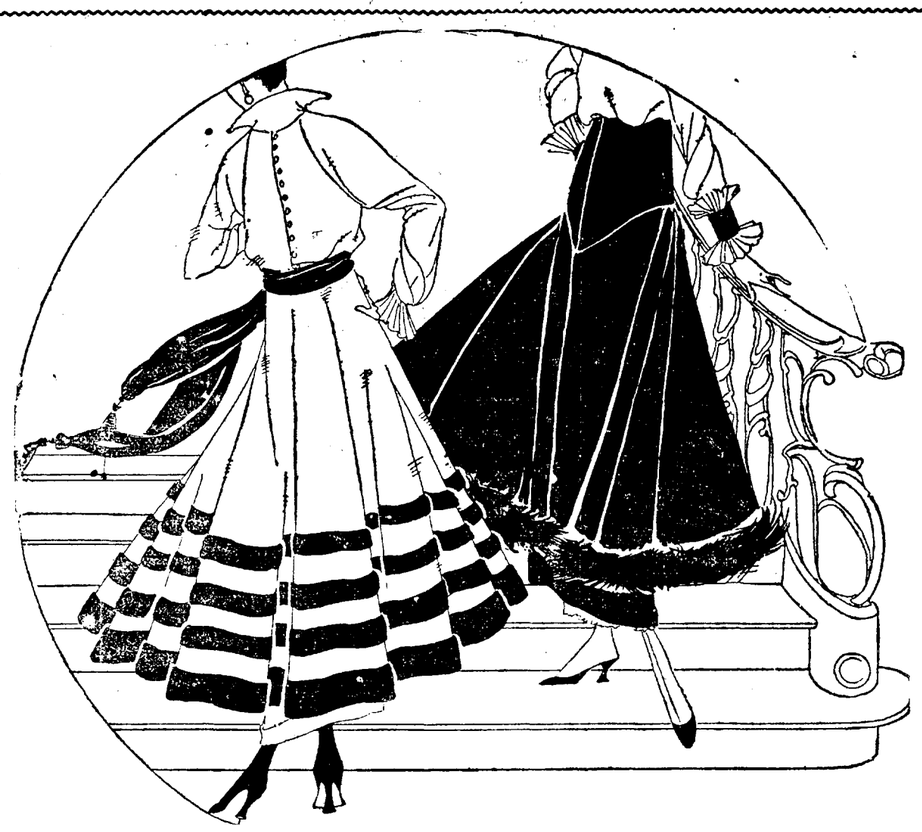
MAKE WAY FOR THE HOOP-SKIRT; IT'S COMING AND IT'S FOUR YARDS WIDE.



We are slowly but surely going back to the old-fashioned hoop skirts. The new "cape" skirts are circular in form and at least four yards around the bottom. Some of these are formed by godets which run up to the hip and others have the fullness only at the sides from a wide yoke.

Of necessity these skirts are very short. Some of them being eight and ten inches from the ground.

Fur will be very much worn this winter. And a black velvet skirt trimmed with marten or monkey fur, if you can afford it, will put you in the foremost brigade of fashion.

A white broadcloth gown with rows of graduated black velvet ribbon brings a decided remembrance of great-grandmother's time. A black velvet sash on this gown, with a soft chiffon blouse makes a very picturesque costume.

Up to date, under all the wide skirts there is always a narrow one, but one can safely promise that this will be dispensed with before the winter is over.

As is the case with wide short skirts, high French heels will be the only kind worn.

HOW TO PEEL OFF A WEATHERBEATEN FACE.

Its really a simple matter to renovate a faces soiled by dirt, wind or cold. Ordinary mercolized wax, used like cold cream, will transform the worst old complexion into one of snowy whiteness and velvety softness. It literally peels off the outer veil of surface skin, but so gently, gradually, there's no discomfort. The wornout skin comes off, not in patches, but evenly, in tiny particles, leaving no evidence of the treatment. The younger, healthier under-skin forming the new complexion is one of captivating loveliness. One ounce of mercolized wax, to be had at any drug store, is enough to remove any coarse, chapped, pimpled, freckled, faded or sallow skin. Apply before retiring, washing it off mornings.

Many skins wrinkle easily with every wind that blows. An excellent wrinkle remover, because it tightens the skin and strengthens relaxed muscles, is a wash lotion made as follows: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, one-half pint. This gives immediate results.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Fiske O'Hara in His New Play at Majestic Tonight.

Irish fun galore, lashins of love making and lilting songs are important component parts in the makeup of Fiske O'Hara's new play, "Jack's Romance," which will be presented at the Majestic tonight by the famous singing star and his excelent company of players. The story tells how a younger son of a noble Irish family after a number of years' absence in Canada, returns to Ireland to visit the brother from whom he parted in anger. The return is fraught with a number of exciting incidents, among which is an encounter with a highwayman who has just held up a coach in which the fair Lady Constance Butler was riding to visit the family of the hero's brother, a struggle with a mob who have taken him for the knight of the road and are anxious to make an example of him, and the bringing of the aforesaid robber, who proves to be the secretary of his brother.

"For the Love of Mike," Saturday.

During the past few years there have been a great many big musical shows put out by various producers. The Cartoon Show seems to be the latest fad. "Mutt and Jeff" has been out on the stage and now a great big comedy musical extravaganza has been made out of Bud Fisher's Cartoon Series "For the Love of Mike." There isn't anything serious in the play. Oh, dear, no! Just a barrel of fun, frolics and catchy songs and dances, handed over the footlights by bright dashing comedi.nnes and funny active comedians, with a chorus of dainty loveable sprightly chorus girls for a background, whose dainty feet tinkle in the entrancing music written by that peer of musical composers, Hilding Anderson. "For the Love of Mike" is a great big fun proposition which the producer, John Nicholson, has gathered together with the assistance of Bud Fisher.

"For the Love of Mike" will be seen at the Majestic on Saturday matinee and night.

AT THE TEMPLE.

"SMART FOOLING" ONE OF TEMPLE'S MANY FEATURES

"Smart Fooling," the vaudeville gem in which Johnny O'Connor, the celebrated comedian, has been scoring such immense hits, is one of the many features on the bill at the Temple that opened this afternoon to the usual capacity Thursday afternoon house. With O'Connor in this sketch are Willing, Bentley and Willing, comprising a quartet of funmakers that it will be a delight to see and hear. Don Mullaley in the pet creature of his own brain, a sketch that he considers his premier literary achievement, will be another bright spot. This sketch, "Miss Thanksgiving," will be presented by Mullaley, and Earl Pingree and Marjorie Dalton. There's something compellingly amusing about two big confessedly fat girls with a contagious sense of humor and in the half ton of comedy and song, McMaus and Don Carzlos, the Temple has some huge bunch of laughs. The huge young women have just as much fun out of their work as the highly amused audiences.

The Cycling Brunettes, the sensation of last season at the Temple, finally have been secured for a return engagement and Fort Wayne lovers of daring acrobatic tricks are in for another big treat as these bicycle riders stop at nothing in their efforts to spring something no other team would even attempt. Delmar and Delmar, the spectacular aerialists, will be seen in their sensational act.

When Milady Makes Afternoon Calls

For the afternoon calls which Milady makes on a cool autumn day the Paris designers have devised a beautiful cape-like wrap of velvet—velvet so soft and rich that it looks like moleskin.

The front of the coat is gathered into a wide girdle richly embroidered in beads; the back falls in the graceful folds of a cape. The fashionable shade for [illegible]

AT THE EMPRESS.

This afternoon marked the opening at the Empress theater of the new bill for the last half of the week and on this bill are a number of absolute novelties and a number of acts which should certainly be a big and decided hit in Fort Wayne. William A. Weston and company with a different sort of an act, head the bill. The Ernest Pantzer troupe of comedians, acrobats and pantomimists are also numbered among the features and the other acts on this bill are "The Criminal," a protean drama; Arthur Hartley and Ruth Pecan in a delightful song and comedy number and David Kaleckoa, a Hawaiian musician of merit. Fine motion pictures will be shown in the Empresscope and will complete the bill.

THE ORPHEUM.

"PEG O' THE WILDS."

Violet Mercereau, Charming Ingenue, Starred in Epic Mountain Country.

Dainty Violet Mercereau, she of the roguish mannerisms and contagious smile, comes to the Orpheum today in a dramatic idyl of the mountain country that brings to light every one of those multitudinous charms possessed by this bewitching figure, and incidently introduces us to several new phrases of the versatile art manifested by this little artist. The story itself is an ideal one, in which to display those same charms, telling entrancingly of "Peg" the wild, untamed creature of the mountains, who has been brought up without knowledge of the world or the men beyond the horizon of her forest-covered home. She knew nothing of love, except the affection she held for her half-witted; but one day, into the mountains came a man from the outer world, he met "Peg," and after that her mode of life changed.

The other number on this unusually good program is an amusing comedy supplied by the Sterling company, and labeled, "The Dog Raffl . The musical end will give us one of the Sousa marches during the first intermission, while the second will introduce the latest Von Tilzer successes, "Way Down East Tonight." Miss Lyon's will be heard in Victor Herbert's melodious "Gypsy Love Song."

AT THE JEFFERSON.

"LAY DOWN YOUR ARMS."

Sweeping Protest Against Barbarity of War in Remarkable Photo-Play.

Never a day goes by but what the daily newspapers tell us of some new atrocity being perpetuated in the European theater of war; of some new graves being dug, of some new widows being made, and of homeless children being deprived of their father.

But there is another medium of information that never fails to impress even the most ignorant with the terrible significance of warfare, and of the still more terrible results of warfare as it is waged in these later days. It is the motion picture camera. It reflects with brutal clearness every phrase of the titanic strife of the warring nations, of the suffering and the misery occasioned, it brings us into the fatherless homes and into the shambles of hospitals. It sweeps over the fields harvesting a picture of desolation; of the loam fertilized with the seeping blood of the dying and dead soldier. It tells us with eloquent silence of the mighty battles being waged, of the men being torn and shattered by the bursting shrapnel and being punctured by the speeding rifle bullet. "Lay Down Your Arms" is an outcry against the present war. It is a supplication to the people of America. It is a mighty protest to Europe.

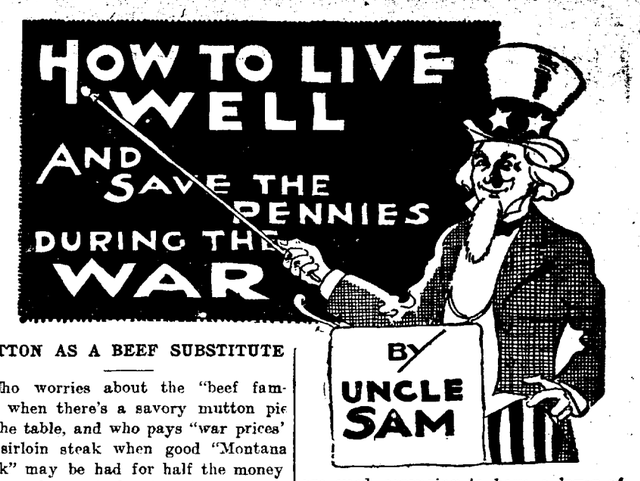
AT THE LYRIC.

LA FRONTE SISTERS ONE OF LYRIC FEATURES

The La Fronte Sisters, a dainty and entertaining girl team of singers and dancers, are headlining the bill that opened at the Lyric this afternoon to run the remainder of the week. Don Austin, comedy cartoonist, and the Rodiquez Duo, in a comedy acrobatic act complete the vaudeville program. Our Mutual Girl is to be seen at the Lyric again this evening in another of her interesting adventures. "Sweet and Low," an interesting picture woven round Tennyson's lullaby and the Keyson comedy, "Curses, He Remarked," are two other big picture features on this bill. 'Sweet and Low" tells the story of a broken old man's return from a vain quest for gold to find his daughter grown up and gone. He finally locates the young woman through a little child's unknowingly leading her grandfather to her home.

Mme. Sullivan, demonstrator of the Goodwin Corset, will be at Miss Kiefer's Beauty Parlors, 222 W. Berry, November 12th and 13th. All ladies are cordially invited to receive a trial fitting with no obligations.



MUTTON AS A BEEF SUBSTITUTE

Who worries about the "beef famine" when there's a savory mutton pie on the table, and who pays "war prices" for sirloin steak when good "Montana steak" may be had for half the money

Since the methods of feeding, slaughtering and storing mutton have been improved, mutton ranks with beef in flavor and in tenderness and it is rapidly taking the place of beef as an article of daily diet.

BY A FOOD EXPERT.

Of the United States Agricultural Department.

Mutton and Tomato Pie.

An excellent way to use cold mutton is to bake it with tomatoes, using alternate layers of tomatoes and meat. A tomato sauce may be used or the following method may be employed: Place in a baking dish a layer of fresh tomatoes or of cooked tomatoes which have been either drained or reduced in volume by boiling. Add a layer of meat, dredge with flour, salt, and pepper, and add small bits of butter until the materials are used, arranging to have a layer of tomatoes on top. Cover this with a layer of buttered bread crumbs or cracker crumbs and bake until the crumbs are brown. In following this method use tomato, butter, and flour in the correct proportions for tomato sauce, i. e., two level tablespoons each of butter and flour for each cup of tomatoes.

Montana Steak.

One pound lean mutton free from bone, one egg, one-half cup milk, one teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, few drops onion juice.

Chop the meat finely, add the other ingredients, form into small cakes, and either broil or fry them. While this dish is more delicate if the egg and milk are used, it can be made without them. In this case it resembles very closely hamburg steak as it is ordinarily prepared from beef. It may be made with or without onion.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS.

APPLE BUTTER FOR LITTLE FOLKS' LUNCHES

If there are little folks in the family who carry lunches to school be sure and put up plenty of apple butter. It will satisfy their love for sweets and it will have none of the ill effect that some of the over-sweet preserves have.

This is a good recipe for apple butter. It may be made of sweet apples or half sweet and half sour. Boil a gallon of sweet cider to one-half of its original quantity. Fill the kettle in which the cider was cooked with sliced apples, and turn the cider over them. It is not necessary for the cider to cover the apples; but there should be enough to keep them from sticking to the kettle.

Simmer steadily all day until reduced to about half their original bulk. Turn into small stone crocks and fasten securely.

If preferred, the butter may be spiced. In this case allow a teaspoonful of cinnamon, clove, nutmeg or allspice to each gallon of the sauce, adding when nearly done; or several of these seasonings may be combined if preferred.

Apple butter should be stirred almost constantly toward the end of the cooking; a flat paddle is best for this.

The butter may be cooked in the oven or in a fireless cooker, as the long, slow cooking with no danger of burning lightens the housekeeper's labors very appreciably.

WANT BRIDGE AT JACKSON STREET

That is Ultimate Object in Opening Sherman to Pape Avenue.

Moving of the Mary Schneider grocery from the end of High street at its intersection with Sherman street preparatory to opening the latter thoroughfare through to Pape avenue, on which work was started Thursday morning is the first step toward securing a bridge over St. Mary's avenue to connect with Jackson street which it is proposed to extend.

This also contemplates track elevation at the Nickel Plate railroad and the proposition is taken up in lieu of the Barthold street proposition which was under consideration a few years ago and which was abandoned on account of the difficulties it presented.

Bloomingdale for some years has sought an outlet that afforded better facilities than Van Buren street for the territory west of Wells street and with Sherman opened through to the river the plan will become feasible, it is believed, and it will be submitted to the county commissioners after the construction of the bridge at Harrison street, which is the next to be constructed.

City Hall Sewage.

Chairman Frank Singrey, of the board of public works, is of the opinion that the sewage of the city hall is not sufficient and the matter probably will be taken up by the board with a view of finding and applying a remedy.

The stench in the cell rooms and in the city court room is very offensive and unhealthy and has been for a number of years and this Mr. Singrey believes is due to insufficient sewage. The matter has not taken form, but an investigation will determine what action is deemed necessary.

Board of Works Routine.

At its meeting Thursday night the board of public works will have before it for confirmation assessment rolls for sidewalks on west side of Lillie from Lahmeyer street to Zaumer's subdivision; for paving Maumee avenue from Sidney street to the city limits; for paving Oneida street from Lake to Rivermet; for St. Mary's avenue from Breckenridge street to Archer avenue; paving Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana portion of Calhoun street from Wallace street to Creighton avenue; for cement sidewalks on both sides of Hurd street from Gay to Thomas.

Mayor Takes Issue.

Before he left for Philadelphia on Wednesday evening, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Jean, Mayor W. J. Hosey stated that he took issue with City Attorney Colerick on the opening of a walkway at the foot of Boone street under the Lake Erie tracks. He said that if the walk is established it will be a public highway and that it must be paid for by assessment against the benefited property.

Mr. Colerick stated the night before at the Nebraska school that the improvement would have to be paid for out of the general fund except the amounts agreed upon by the railroad company and the Wayne Knitting mills. John Wessel, of the lighting department, has also gone to Philadelphia.

Report on Contagion.

Eighty-eight cases of contagion—seventy-five of diphtheria and thirteen of scarlet fever—have been reported to the board of public health since the opening of the school term in September. The diseases appeared in twenty-nine homes where children attended parochial schools. Cases were reported from ten homes having no children in school. Secretary J. H. Gilpin has sent another warning to teachers and parents that the moment a child becomes ill a doctor should be consulted or the child sent to the board of health office for examination. The following list shows the number of homes quarantined for diphtheria, classified as to schools: St. Paul's Lutheran, 1; Miner, 9; Hamilton, 3; St. Patrick's, 11; St. Augustine's, 1; J. H. Smart, 4; Bloomingdale, 2; Hanna, 3; St. Peter's, 3; Franklin, 1; Rudisill, 1; Zion's Lutheran, 10; Cathedral, 1; Nebraska, 1; Precious Blood, 3; Washington, 1. The scarlet fever cases were distributed as follows: Hamilton, 1; St. Augustine's, 1; Bloomingdale, 2; Hanna, 1; St. Peter's, 1; Rudisill, 1; Clay, 1.

A resolution by C. O. Loraine, of Missouri, that the activities of the national grange be directed more to the upbuilding of existing subordinate granges than to the establishment of new ones met with approval.

NEGRESS TAKES POISON.

Ida Burr, a negress living at 230 North Calhoun street, swallowed the contents of a small vial of creosote Thursday about noon with suicidal intent. Her mouth was badly burned, and after Dr. M. W. Tinkham had administered antidotes she was removed to Hope hospital, where it is said she will recover. Her reason for the attempt is that she was tired of living.

COFFROTH PICKS ONE FINE LEMON

Squires Was Defeated While Promoter Was Getting a Light.

San Francisco, Nov. 12.—"Yes, it's a great game," said James Coffroth, greatest sporting promoter in the world. "It has its humor and its tragedy as well."

"One of the most humorous as well as most tragic affairs that ever happened during my thirteen years' experience in the boxing game was the famous fiasco that the Burns-Squires bout developed into.

"In my time I have promoted something like fifty championship boxing contests, some of which the public and the press were kind enough to declare classics, but I think the greatest lemon that I or anyone else ever pulled was this Burns-Squires match. And it was no fault of mine.

"After Jim Jeffries retired as the undefeated heavyweight champion of the world and Tommy Burns was, after a series of elimination contests, given Jeffries' title, the problem arose as to who would be a fit opponent for the stocky Canadian.

"Finally Bill Squires was produced. The great Squires, he was called—undefeated champion of Australia, who had knocked out something like thirty-two men. Now, any man who can knock out thirty-two men, even if they be dubs, is to be reckoned with. Therefore when Squires landed in San Francisco in 1907 for his Fourth of July battle with Tommy Burns he was hailed by the press as something of a pugilistic colossus.

"And Squires, I must admit, carried the pose well. During his training he fooled all the sporting experts, myself included. His muscular development was marvelous and the way he handled himself when he worked was truly remarkable.

"The newspapers boosted the contest as the greatest battle in the history of the ring. I made the greatest preparations in the way of arrangements that were ever put over for a bout. There was the keenest kind of bidding for the privilege of the motion pictures for, because of the advertising the papers had given the fight and also because it loomed as the greatest proposition that had confronted the sporting world, the movies promised to have an unprecedented run.

"Besides, the three greatest men of pugilism—Champion Burns, Challenger Squires and Jeffries, who was going to referee, were to be assembled in the ring at one time!

"Came then the contest. The crowd could scarcely wait through the preliminary matches. There was constant clamoring for Squires. When the burly Australian finally stepped through the ropes he was given a tremendous ovation. Men flung their hats in the air and literally went wild, for was not this the invincible leviathan of sportdom—the man who had knocked out thirty-two men?

"After the introduction came the instructions and then the clang of the gong. The men stepped to the middle of the ring, Burns in his characteristic crouch and Squires grim and determined. I glanced down for an instant to light a cigarette and when I looked up the fight was over! Sprawled on the clean white mat lay the unconscious invincible Squires, the man who had knocked out thirty-two men—and the referee was tolling off the fatal seconds that sent him to fistic oblivion. A single punch had shown Bill Squires to be a lemon!"

MINOR LEAGUERS LEARN A LESSON

Took Owners Many Years to Strike at Their Real Trouble.

(By Charles H. Spalding.)

While the editor of the sporting department of The Sentinel has never staked a claim to any great amount of baseball acumen, as evidenced by the fact that he has spent his time giving more or less expert advice through these columns instead of becoming a magnate and reaping a harvest of silver simoleons, readers of these columns will recall that for a number of years it has been argued that until a better ratio between gate receipts and expenditures had been established the minors could not expect to put the game on the same basis as other legitimate amusement enterprises.

In face of the proof that has been patent to the most casual observer the Central league owners, in common with those in other minor organizations, have made the game a gamble and have lost often enough to furnish ample evidence that the odds were always against them and that at the salaries being paid only one or two clubs could expect to make money.

At Omaha the members of the National Association of Minor Baseball leagues on Wednesday agreed upon a sweeping salary reduction. This is the most rational action the organization has taken in many moons. The contention that a baseball player is worth just as much as he can draw at the gate has been advanced time and time again in support of the assertion that players have been receiving too much money.

One of the most disastrous years in baseball was necessary to prove this or rather to bring home the proof to the men who have been paying the bills. The establishment of the Federal league, which had no very harmful effect on Class B and the lower leagues except to destroy the market for young players, was not needed to open the eyes of the club owners.

Take the Central league since its organization about ten years ago. Look the records over carefully and see if in any year more than three teams have gotten as good as an even break. These, of course, were the pennant winners and the runners-up.

If in these ten years the teams had been maintained at salaries that would have insured every club at least an even break with profits to those finishing well up in the race thousands and thousands of dollars would have been saved, the league would have been on a sound financial basis and one bad year would not have entailed losses that are impossible to recoup.

During every playing season the owners have made up their minds that they would keep their payrolls within the amount received from the patrons. Right on top of these resolutions they have met in the winter and have gone along in the same old way each succeeding year and have lost.

Reduced salaries will not cheapen the sport or entail inferior baseball. Players have always gotten their salaries whether the owners made a cent or not. Baseball, which is a law unto itself, has rigorously compelled the payment of salaries and the rulings of its highest tribunals have been inviolable and that owner who refused to abide by them has been eased out of the game.

Ball players are going to make an awful howl, refuse to sign, tell that they can make as much money at something else and then sign and play the same kind of ball they have been playing right along.

Salaries in the Central league for a number of years have been ranging from $500 a month to managers with $150 as the minimum for the players. They have not earned it. Why?

Simply bevause their efforts have not drawn enough people to pay what they were being paid. No employe in other lines has ever drawn for a period of ten years more than his earning capacity. All have been required to show results with the single exception o the ball player.

Every man is entitled to pay commensurate with what he produces and there never has been any contention that salaries should be cut to increase the profits of the owner at the expense of the men behind the guns. It has been contended that it is better for the game to continue at salaries that will insure its permanency rather than that it should fall because the pay rolls were greater than the gate receipts.

Once upon a time it was held that baseball was a quasi public institution and that the presence of a team in a city was a great advertising medium and civic pride has been called to the rescue. Apparently this was false sentiment.

Business men are hard to convince nowadays that they should reach down in their ockets year ater year to maintain ball clubs for the advertising benefit received.

None of them has ever been called upon in Fort Wayne to do this as Claude H. Varnell has sustained any loss that has occurred since he became owner of the local club. He has been game and has stuck to his guns and has not grumbled but this has not been the case in other cities.

If it is found after a trial that even at reduced salaries the game cannot be maintained then there is but one conclusion—the public does not want baseball and it would be wore than foolish for any man or set of men to insist on supplying it.

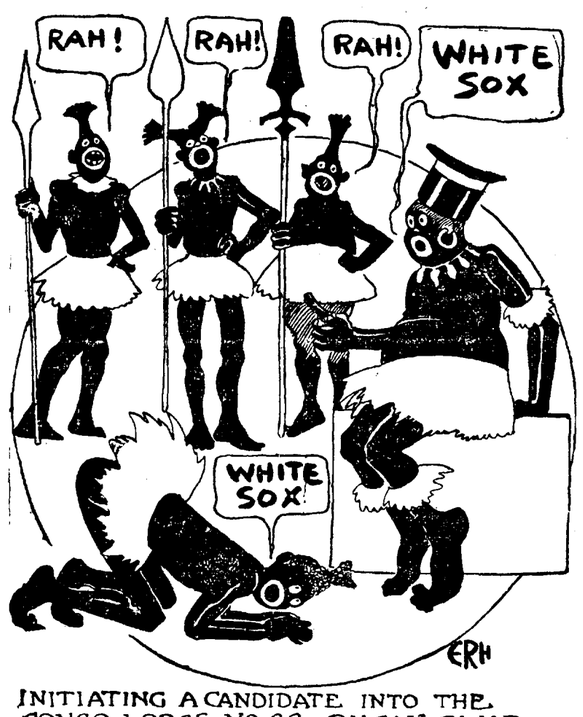
Dugan Clnb---White Sox Rooters---Now Extends to All Parts of the World



INITIATING A CANDIDATE INTO THE CONGO LODGE NO 23, DUGAN CLUB.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton).

Are you a Dugan?

Or, perhaps you never heard of the Dugans. If not, now is the time, for, unless you are enrolled as a Dugan in good standing, pretty soon you'll belong to the minority.

The Dugans are, perhaps, the oddest society ever organized and in the world of sport not to be a Dugan is to have overlooked a chance to join the elect. There are today about 300,000 persons scattered all over the world who will answer the salutation of a brother Dugan.

There are lodges in Manila, in Ceylon, in India, in China, Japan and in almost every city and town in America.

The society was started as a joke among the good fellows who used to "hang" out around Malachi Hogan's place in Chicago. Bill Dorgan, then as now, was one of the leading spirits in the crowd.

There was a song that was a favorite at Hogan's that was called "What did Dugan do to him?" It was not the official song. There were ohers that outranked it. For instance, "Whin Hogan Paid the Rint," "There'll be Murdher Here Tonight" and others made famous by Tom Hanton, Smiley Corbett and others of the old gang.

It became the custom to initiate actors, newspaper men and others who came to Hogan's into the "Dugan" club and the motto was:

"Once a Dugan, always a Dugan."

Litle by little the Dugans grew; the membership being chiefly among actors, sporting men, newspaper writers and the men around town; politicians and night owls. After Hogan's place ceased to be and Hogan was dead, Dorgan went to Stillson's, then the meeting place of the newspaper men, and extended the membership, and when Charles A. Comiskey came to Chicago Dorgan became one of the wildest followers of the White Sox.

The Dugan club had grown until there were perhaps 2,000 members in Chicago, but when the baseball fever struck them they began proselyting. The ceremony of intiation was a simple one. The "candidate" was led into the place where President Dorgan presided, and holding up one hand, bowed his head while Dorgan recited the pledge:

He would recite solemnly and with much emphasis:

"Special privileges for none.
"We visit the sick.
"We bury the dead.
"We care for the widows and orphans.
"And root for the White Sox."

Then a rap on the head concluded the ceremony and a new Dugan became active.

Dorgan recently received a letter from Panay, P. I., telling of a new lodge there with thirty members. The one at Manila has more than 800 members. One of the crowning triumphs of the world's tourist ball clubs was when Sir Thomas Lipton was installed as a Dugan, charter member of the lodge at Singapore.

Auto Craze and Dislike of Ira Thomas Said to Have Hurt Macks

Philadelphia, Nov. 12.—Although it is more than a week since the fans learned first of the asking by Manager Mack of waivers on Bender, Plank and Coombs, gossip concerning the whys and wherefores of this move has not yet subsided. Followers of the national game are still discussing the unlooked for event and wondering what will become of the players. At the same time they are guessing as to what other moves will be made by Manager Mack in his determination to start out next season with a clean slate. Mack is not the only magnate who is getting tired of "temperamental stars."

Connie has a champion in his own league when it comes to desiring the players to get back to business and put their minds on the game instead of outside pleasures. President Somers, of the Cleveland club, says that he is also tired of star players. He says he had his fill of them last season, when on some days it was almost impossible to get into the park at Cleveland because of the automobiles of the players standing outside the grounds. If the Mack has automobile fever any worse than the Indians [illegible] come of these young players when they begin to slip back to the minors. They are certainly not saving up for a rainy day. The automobile fever has hit our boys hard.

"One afternoon last summer, just before a game, I counted on Lehigh avenue outside of Shibe park no less than seventeen automobiles that belonged to our players. The expense of running those machines must have cut into the salaries of the boys considerably. Then, too, every few weeks one of the boys trades in his car for another one and hands over a bonus to bodt. This should be harvest time for our players, but they seem to think that prosperity has no limit."

The automobiles doubtless had a decided effect in taking the minds of the players off their work, but this was only one of the several reasons for Manager Mack deciding upon his house cleaning.

Among the reports in circulation is one that there was friction between Capt. Ira Thomas and the players. For some reason not understood there is said to have been a feeling of animosity towards Thomas by certain of the [illegible] from the [illegible]

SALE OF CUBS A PART OF COMPACT

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Sale of the Chicago club of the National league to Charles Weeghman, owner of the Chicago Federal league club was expected to be made here today as a part of "peace" plan between organized baseball and the Federadl organization. A conference arranged by August Herrmann, of Cincinnati, Chairman of the National baseball commission was to be attended by Mr. Weeghman and George Ward, one of the owners of the Brooklyn Federal league club. Charles P. Taft, owner of the Chicago Nationals, also was expected to participate in the meeting.

The "peace plan," according to report, involves the purchase of the Chicago Nationals by Weeghman, who proposes to remove the home of the combined organization to the Federal league park on the north side of the city.

In accomplishing peace President Gilmore, of the Federal league, said that his organization is willing to consider transferring certain franchises, but no deal will be consummated which calls for the elimination of the Federal league from the baseball world. It was organized to become a major league, President Gilmore said, and the Federal league in name and standing must continue.

INDIANA HAS ANOTHER TOUGH ONE.

Here's the latest Hoosier hitter. He's Jimmy Anderson and he comes from Indiana, where so many hard hitting boys have been given their start in the ring. In a record of sixty-four battles this lightweight has only lost one decision, and that was an unpopular one. He's going to fight Goats Doig in LaSalle, Ill., Thanksgiving day, and then hop to New York, where he is wanted for Willie Beecher. He's under the wing of Joe Sullivan, the Chicago manager, and is tough enough to fight every week.

Golf is Woman's Game, Says Famous Feminine Player of Pacific

Edith L. Chesebrough, famous woman golfer of the Pacific coast.

San Francisco, Nov. 12.—"There is no doubt but what golf would become the most popular of public sports were sufficient land available within the cities of this country to lay out municipal golf courses," said Miss Edith L. Chesebrough, eminent woman golfer of the Pacific coast.

"But the fact that 120 acres are necessary for a standard course of 6,000 yards rather restricts any benevolent wish of a city government for the amusement of its citizens.

"As a game golf appeals to everyone regardless of age or sex once he has played it. To those who have confining work and small opportunity of outdoor exercise it is a true boon. There is a distinct charm in the companionship it offers without the violence of tennis and many of the other out-door sports.

"For women, it is the finest game played for it does not hold the menace to health with which every other sport is invested, owing to the fact that the very violence of the games is apt to injure irreparably the vitality of those participating."

SOCCER TEAM IS BOOKED TO PLAY

Fort Wayne sport patrons who have any curiosity to see just what soccer football is like, presuming, of course, that the game is too new here to have been properly introduced, can have their curiosity satisfied on Sunday by seeing an Indiana league match at Centlivre park.

Indianapolis, beaten at the American association baseball park in its home city several weeks ago, will be on hand to see whether it can do as much for the Knights of St. George as the knights did for it, and as the clubs are evenly matched the game ought to be worth while.

The local club is generaly reckoned as one of the best in Indiana and it has earned the respect of every club against which it has played for the last two years. The game scheduled Sunday will be the first staged here in the way of a public amusement with an admission fee charged, and it probably will draw a good crowd.

MAKING A FIGHT FOR THEIR CHILD

Cleveland and Ethel Fry Each Want Custody of Little One.

Twenty witnesses were summoned to appear in the superior court on Thursday to testify in the divorce suit of Cleveland Fry against Ethel Fry, in which both principals were agreed that the decree of divorce was the minor consideration as each was after the custody of their little girl of four years.

The husband brought suit and charged his wife abandoned him a number of times and told him if he didn't get a divorce she would. She answered with the charge that he neglected her, boasted of his relations with other women, nagged at and cursed her and she could not live with him.

The case occupied the entire day in the court and drew a good-sized gallery of people who sat through most of the testimony.

Wants His Money Back.

Ball Dan alleges in a complaint filed in the circuit court against Christ Toni and Christ John that he took a third interest with them in a Macedonian bakery on South Calhoun street, investing all told $1,450.

It is alleged that the two disposed of all of the stock in the concern and turned it into money which they deposited in the First National bank and refused to allow him to share in the profits. He wants his investment returned and the partnership dissolved. Thomas and Townsend represent him.

Cleared Up His Dockets.

In the circuit court on Thursday Judge John W. Eggeman called his civil and claim dockets with a view of clearing them of old cases before the beginning on Monday next of the new term.

Sixty civil cases were disposed of and of this number twenty-five were dismissed for want of prosecution and the others were continued to December 23, when they will be dismissed unless interested attorneys show that they will be tried or dismissed by agreement.

About fifteen claims were dismissed and a number of others set down for hearing and when the new record for the term is made up much less work and expense will be entailed.

HOW INGLIS LOST PAPERS IN BERLIN

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Charles A. Inglis, the Chicagoan whose American passport was found on the person of Carl Hans Lodye, executed in the tower of London as a German spy, today told how he lost the papers in Berlin. His story implicates the German foreign office and is being investigated by the state department at Washington.

Inglis, who returned to his home here a few days ago after a prolonged sojourn in Europe, was caught in Berlin when the war broke out. He took his passport to the German foreign office to have it approved. He handed it to a clerk, expecting that in due course of routine it would be returned to the American embassy. It failed to reappear, however. At the foreign office he could obtain no trace of it and after considerable delay he got a second document which went through without a hitch and by means of which he was able to leave Germany. Mr. Inglis declined to comment on the matter. The paper contained a description of Inglis which it is also said covered the features of the spy.

BARNES CONTINUES STORY.

Testifies in Big Suit Against the Pullman Company.

Cincinnati, Nov. 12 — Benjamin Barnes, traveling salesman of Dayton, Ohio, continued his story on the stand in the United States district court here today in his suit against the Pullman company for $30,928.

Barnes testified that he had been awakened by screams while in a Pullman sleeper on March 2, near Madison, Ind., and that Mrs. Cecil Hill, daughter of Prof. Wm. Hill, formerly of the University of Chicago, declared that a man had forcibly tried to enter her berth. Barnes was arrested at Madison, tried and acquitted.

On cross examination he testified that he was caused great inconvenience, humiliation and expenditure of money in defending himself at the trial. The case is expected to come to a conclusion today.

WANT QUARANTINE LIFTED.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Five more packing houses doing business outside the Chicago stock yards have completed disinfection against the foot and mouth disease and tonight will make formal application to have the quarantine lifted. The ban was lifted from one concern yesterday.

Under the terms of an agreement agreed to by the packers none will attempt to resume slaughtering until all may join. This is expected next Monday.

Dr. Simon Flexner, the pathologist and bacteriologist of the Rockefeller foundation arrived at the stock yards today and immediately began an investigation the ultimate purpose of which is to isolate the germ of the foot and mouth disease and discover a serum for its prevention.

MINERS RESCUED AFTER FOUR DAYS

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 12.—John Evans and William Schreiner, coal miners who had been imprisoned for four days behind a fall of coal in a mine in which they were working were rescued alive this morning.

The men were engaged in robbing mine pillars when the accident occurred. They were tearing down the inner pillar of a breast when the whole structure collapsed, placing between them and daylight a vast wall of coal, rock and debris.

Mine heads felt sure the men had enough air to last them for days and rescuers worked desperately in an effort to reach the imprisoned comrades, never halting for a minute. While the rescuers worked great excitement prevailed at the mine opening. Hundreds of people, including the despairing families of the two men huddled around in suspense hoping against hope and there was little sleep in the two mining villages in which they lived while the fate of the miners hung in the balance.

INDIANAPOLIS WOMAN WINS.

Mrs. Folsom, Who Opposed Probate of Father's Will, Gets Verdict.

Noblesville, Ind., Nov. 12.—Following a trial of three weeks, the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the John Puckett will case, denying the probation of the instrument. Mrs. Olive A. Folsom, of Indianapolis, a daughter of Puckett by his first marriage, resisted the probation of the will on the ground that her father was of unsound mind when the instrument was executed and that he was also unduly influenced to exclude her in the division of his property.

Puckett was a Tipton county farmer, whose estate was valued at $160,000, consisting mostly of fine farm land. In his will he divided his estate about equally among his six children, with the exception of Mrs. Folsom, to whom he bequeathed only $100. The case will probably be appealed to the supreme court. James Berryhill, of Indianapolis, presided at the trial as special judge.

Present Salary Limit Holds in Class C and Class D.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 12.—Revision of the constitution again occupied the session of the national association of professional base ball clubs when it got started two hours late today. The class C and D leagues were permitted to retain their present salary limits. A resolution naming Chicago the permanent meeting place of the association was voted down.

DOCTOR'S SENTENCE UPHELD.

Supreme Court Affirms Judgment in Fort Wayne Case.

Indianapolis, Nov. 12.—The supreme court has affirmed the Adams circuit court in the sentencing of George Thain, a Fort Wayne physician, forty-five years old, and twenty years in the practice of medicine, to the penitentiary to three to fourteen years for an illegal operation which resulted in the death of a married woman.

The act was performed in Fort Wayne, but the affidavit was filed and the case tried in Adams county, where the woman died, and not in Allen county, where the act was done. The doctor did not raise the question of jurisdiction in either the trial or supreme court.

ALL WAITING TO HEAR PRALL

Geneseo, N. Y., Nov. 12.—The probability that Oscar Prall, Henry Siegel's confidential man and treasurer of the Siegel Fourteenth street store in New York would take the stand today, drew a large crowd to the little court room in Geneseo when the trial of the former New York merchant charged with grand larceny, was resumed this morning. It is reported that Prall has turned states' evidence and has been promised immunity if he will reveal the details of the alleged conspiracy which the people claim Siegel and his former partner, the late Frank Vogel, entered into to defraud New York banks.

The morning session was taken up entirely with the cross examination of H. B. Howell, vice-president of the National Bank of Commerce, New York. Judging from present progress the trial is likely to drag along for two weeks.

the belief in Aguas Calientes is that they will remain loyal to Carranza. Benavides was the only member of the commission who returned.

As to Blanco's Attitude.

Uncertainty prevails as to the attitude of Gen. Blanco in command of the troops in Mexico City, but latest reports indicate he may stand by the convention. The governors of the federal district of Mexico and the state of Tamaulipas, Gen. Francisco Mugia and Gen. Luis Cabellero respectively, have telegraphed their repudiation of the convention.

While the leading generals are wavering, telegrams are passing in plot and counter plots.

The point at which the first important clash is liable to come is in the vicinity of Queretaro, where Gen. Pablo Gonzales, who is loyal to Carranza, is stationed with several thousand troops. The loyalty of a large part of his force is doubted and already one report to the convention said many of his men refused to obey his orders. Fighting at Leon, south of Aguas Calientes, was also reported but no details have arrived.

SOME DETAILS OF FIGHT.

When the Emden Met Its Fate on Beach at Cocos Island.

Sydney, N. S. W., Nov. 12.—The naval board here has received details of the fight in which the German cruiser Emden was put out of commission. The Emden arrived at Cocos island and sent armed launches towing two boats ashore. Forty men with three officers and four maxims were landed in fifteen minutes and the landing party smashed the wireless instruments and the engines of the plant.

In the meantime the Australian cruiser Sydney was sighted on the horizon and the Emden immediately put out to sea leaving the landing party, both boats and men behind. The Emden started the firing, her practice at first being excellent, but afterwards it fell off. She lost two funnels and took fire at the stern within an hour while the Sydney was scarcely touched.

The Emden is now ashore north of Keeling island and burning. The captain of the Sydney says he found only thirty men on her. The landing party, having commandeered two months' supplies, left on schooners belonging to the owner of the island. They are still at large.

It appears that the presence of the Emden was made known to the Sydney by wireless from the Eastern Cable company's staff on Cocos island.

However, they were taken under fire by Austrian artillery, which caused terrible losses among the Russian detachment. The battlefield was covered with corpses.

"The Russians were beaten also yesterday in east Galicia, being repulsed in an action between Rosynow and Jablonow.

Began as Rash. Itched so Had to Hold His Hands While Sleeping. Clothing Irritated Trouble. Face and Scalp Covered. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Healed.

370 High St., Oshkosh, Wis.—"When about two months old my nephew had sores break out on different parts of his body.

The trouble first began as a rash which itched so at night someone always held his hands even while sleeping as at the least scratching it would run together and form scabs. His night-clothes had to have mittens on them or the scabs would be raw and bleeding by morning. His clothing or the least friction irritated the trouble. His face and scalp were covered. They called it eczema.

"We tried different treatments but none cured him. At three years old we commenced the use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. We could see an improvement after the first month's treatment. It took nearly a year to effect a complete cure and he never had anything like it since." (Signed) Mrs. F. Scofield, Mar. 21, 1914.

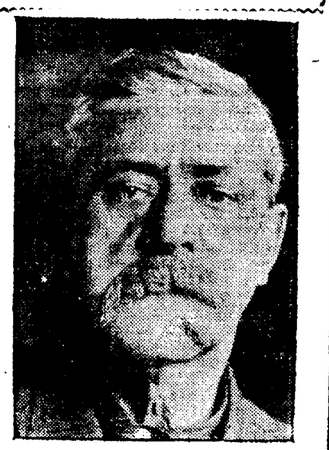
HAS WORKED FOR PENNSYLVANIA COMPANY OVER FORTY-SEVEN YEARS.



PAUL HANLEY.

Paul Hanley, gatekeeper at the Lafayette street entrance to the Pennsylvania shop yards, is busy receiving congratulations from the employes and his other friends who pass that way on his arrival at the seventieth anniversary of his birth.

Mr. Hanley was born in Buffalo, N. Y., November 12, 1844, his parents being of Irish descent and citizens of America only a few years. Five years later, in 1849, the father fell victim to cholera, which was epidemic in Buffalo and many other American cities that year. Paul remained at home attending school until he was old enough to learn a trade, when he became an apprentice in a blacksmith shop. He did not like the work, however, and soon quit the shop and took up other employment.

In the summer of 1863, when the civil war was in progress, he went to St. Louis, where, in August, he enlisted in the Fortieth Missouri regiment and immediately went to the front. In the battle at Duck River, Tenn., on November 30, 1864, Mr. Hanley was severely wounded in the left forearm and was sent to the United States hospital in St. Louis. He was honorably discharged from that institution and his regiment May 25, 1865, and a few days later he started for Fort Wayne, arriving in the city June 1. On the same day he took employment as a teamster with Olds & Hanna, who had just put a fine two-horse wagon into service, the first the firm owned, and remained with the company in that capacity about eighteen months. Olds & Hanna were engaged in the manufacture of hubs and spokes and were among the prominent manufactures of the day.

In the latter part of the year 1866, Mr. Hanley secured a position as brakeman on the Pennsylvania local freight between this city and Valparaiso, which was in charge of Conductor Marion Trimble and Engineer William Timmis. He continued in the train service until 1880, when he fell off the front end of engine 170 while making a switch at Warsaw, was dragged a considerable distance and severely hurt. Engineer William Timmis was at the throttle of the engine at that time. Mr. Hanley was in the hospital many weeks as the result of that accident and was not able to work for about eighteen months.

When he recovered sufficiently to work, the company made him the foreman of the coal docks, which were located on ground now occupied by the round house. All the fuel at that time was handled by hand and Mr. Hanley frequently had a force of fifty to sixty men. He was foreman of the docks twenty-one years, or until they were torn down and the present docks erected. Then he went to the round house and assumed a gang foremanship. Nine years ago, after being sick some months with little prospect of immediate recovery, Mr. Hanley was called to the shops in his present capacity and has been constantly on duty there since. In accordance with the rules of the company, he will be permitted to work only to the expiration of the month, when he will pass to the "roll of honor," as the pension system is called. Mr. Hanley is a most sociable and genial fellow and has thousands of friends in other circles than railroads. They will make it a point to call around to his headquarters to give him a friendly greeting before the day of his retirement arrives.

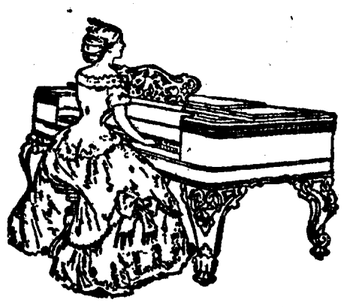
Fort Wayne People Will Appreciate These Two Interesting Pictures



This quaint style of the original Kranich & Bach piano of fifty years ago was the standard of its period.

Today the same manufacture of piano has developed into the perfection of the magnificent Player Grand Piano shown in the above view and which we have on display. Come in and see it.

THROUGH the courtesy of Kranich & Bach, the makers, we have the privilege of showing the above views of two pianos made by this celebrated New York firm—one of their original standard square grand pianos of 1865, and the other the height of perfection in hand-operated players, the Kranich & Bach Player Grand. The last-named instrument is on display in our second floor salesroom, and we will take delight in exhibiting its wonderful qualities and features.

An opportunity will also be afforded those who visit us to compare the various makes of player pianos from the factories of many other makers—the A. B. Chase, Henry F. Miller, Kraukauer, Shoninger, Apollo, Schaeffer, Bogart, Norris & Hyde, Brinkerhoff, Laffargue, and others. One great thing we are able to do: Give every visitor an opportunity to inspect and compare the qualities of many of the celebrated makes of instruments, while most dealers confine their lines to but one or a few makes at most.

When you look forward to Christmas, think of a player piano and the lasting joy it will bring to your family.

COUNTY WILL PRINT NOTICES

Officials Prepare to Fight the Hoof and Mouth Disease.

Forms of quarantine notices to be posted when cases of the hoof and mouth disease are suspected in this county were received Thursday by Dr. Van Buskirk, the county health officer. He will meet with the county commissioners Friday morning and arrange for having these notices printed at the earliest possible moment.

Dr. W. F. Meyers, who has been appointed deputy state veterinary inspector, was at Angola Thursday inspecting a herd of cattle suspected of having the hoof and mouth disease.

Notices of Quarantine.

Following is a form for the quarantine notices received from the state veterinarian:

"Whereas, The presence of an infectious and communicable disease knowna as foot and mouth disease now exists in ..... county, Indiana, therefore for the protection of the live stock interests of the state, under authority of an act approved by the governor of the state of Indiana March 6th, 1901, it is ordered:

"1. That all of the county of ..... be placed under quarantine for foot and mouth disease.

"2. The movement of any cattle, sheep, goats or other ruminants or swine, or hides, skins, hair, straw, similar fodder or manure or dressed carcasses of calves, sheep or swine from this county is forbidden.

"3. The movement of any cattle, sheep, goats or swine, fodder, shredders, hay or straw balers, threshers, upon or across any public highway is forbidden, or the exposure of any animal in any open unfenced ground, within the limits of this quarantine area is prohibited.

"4. All farms now under quarantine: The owners are prohibited from moving anything from them until the quarantine is released or modified after infected animals are destroyed and premises disinfected.

"5. No one shall enter upon said quarantined premises except the owner or tenant, and they are required to disinfect and change clothing and shoes before leaving the premises and must not enter upon any other premises where live stock are kept. Children of parents living on infected and quarantined farms where live stock are kept, must not attend public schools or ride in conveyances with other pupils until said farms are released from quarantine or quarantine modified after premises are disinfected.

"6. No carcasses of slaughtered animals shall be removed from any premises upon which live stock are kept unless a permit is issued. No live poultry to be marketed; no milk to be returned to farms from creameries unless pasteurized.

"7. Cabbage, potatoes and other vegetalbes, as well as fruits may be marketed from farms not under quarantine, provided no straw, grass or similar fodder is used in packing them and this applies to any product made or manufactured where the owners use straw, hay or other similar material in packing.

"8. No dogs to be allowed to run at large."

No New Cases.

While there are many scares in different parts of the county, no new cases of the hoof and mouth disease have been reported.

There is now much doubt whether the herd of cattle at Maples is really infected. According to Dr. George Gillie, the cattle at Maples have shown no new development and it is expected that within a few days the quarantine will be lifted.

Dr. L. E. Epple, of Cleveland, Ohio, a government veterinarian, arrived in Fort Wayne Tuesday night and left early Wednesday morning. He came in from Angola, where he inspected a herd of cattle suspected of having the disease. No trace of it could be found.

When it was learned Dr. Epple was in the city the Northeastern Veterianarian Medical association held a meeting at the Wayne hotel. The principal address was delivered by Dr. Eppie, who spoke on the hoof and mouth disease and hog cholera. Dr. Buckmaster, of Bluffton, was named as president; Dr. Laidlaw, vice president, and Dr. Bungardner, of Angola, secretary and treasurer. On account of the state convention at Indianapolis, December 10, the regular monthly meeting of the Northern association will not be held.

False Alarm.

C. Henry, county agent, was called late Wednesday afternoon to a farm on the Huntington road, to investigate a reported case. He found that one of the cows was suffering with what is known as hoof rot in a light form, which has no connection whatever with the hoof and mouth disease.

The county agent is continuing his tracing of all shipments into the county, as requested by T. A. Coleman, of Purdue university. Dairy companies and creameries have been asked to warn their patrons against the careless feeding of hay shipped into the county. Every possible precaution is being taken by the local authorities to prevent a spread of the disease in this county.

BORN IN ASIA, YANKEE LASS SEES AMERICA FOR FIRST TIME.

Georgia Treasize, most beautiful American girl in the Orient.

San Francisco, Nov. 12.—Nineteen-year-old Georgia Treasize, the most beautiful American girl in the Orient, saw America for the first time when she arrived in this city recently from Japan on the steamer Shinyo Maru.

Miss Treasize is the daughter of W. K. Treasize, manager of the Yokohama Engine and Iron works, who left his New York home thirty years ago to go to Japan, and is now making his first trip home.

Miss Treasize was born and raised in Japan. She is an expert swimmer and dancer. Shortly before the vessel left Japan, the young lady distinguished herself by diving overboard to rescue a doll dropped by a broken-hearted child.

She demonstrated her terpsichorean abilities aboard the vessel by presenting an original dance that the passengers christened the "Shinyo Glide."

"It is wonderful to see one's own country after having pictured it all one's life," declared Miss Treasize. "It is all so beautiful. I love the skies, the trees, the gardens, the water—they are all so different from Japan."

FARMER CLAIMS HE HAS A CURE

He Treated Cattle Plague Very Successfully in Germany.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Nov. 12.—That the "foot and mouth" disease, which is causing such havoc among stock and dairy men of Michigan, can be cured is the statement of a Calhoun county resident, who claims to have successfully cured cattle thus afflicted in Germany.

He states that while he was engaged in the raising of live stock in his native land, the disease visited his immediate locality, three or four times, and each time it was gotten rid of without very much trouble and with little expense, as the remedy is a simple home one.

First they would quarantine the cattle and then sponge out their mouths with a solution of one part vinegar and the other part salt, at the same time spraying the throat with the same solution. If the case was particularly bad, they would weaken the solution, using it stronger as the ravages of the disease disappear.

As the animal thus afflicted runs a very high temperature, they gave it all the water it could drink and fed it regularly three times a day a mash made of bran, cooked mashed potatoes and oil cake, which acted as a laxative. The feet of the animal were also bathed in the same solution, the bedding was changed and the stable thoroughly disinfected daily.

This mouth-washing and throat-spraying was done three times daily, for about five minutes at a time and in no case did the critter ever refuse to respond to the treatment. Inside of three weeks the cattle could be worked, as they use the cows for farm work in most European countries, and inside of a month a perfect cure would be effected, although it would be several weeks before the German farmers would use the milk of the animal.

This ex-German farmer scoffs at the idea that it is a fatal disease and says he does not remember a single instance where the cattle died or refused to respond to the treatment. He is also authority for the statement that the animal's future health was not affected.

As this is such a simple remedy, it might be advisable to experiment with it. Statistics do not record a very high death rate among cattle suffering with the "foot and mouth" disease, but as the cause and run of the disease is little known in America—it being an absolutely continental-European disease—the federal authorities are taking no chances and as soon as an animal develops symptoms they are immediately destroyed, causing great losses to the producer and adding a very strenuous item to the high cost of living.

LONG LOST GIRL IS FOUND HERE

Relatives Feared Foul Play and Search Was Started.

Fearing that his sister-in-law had met with foul play or had been lead away in some mysterious manner, Sylvester Rauch, a farmer residing on rural route 7, out of Columbia City, came to Fort Wayne Wednesday in what he thought would be a vain search.

After searching the city high and low he thought he would drop in at the office of the Indiana Free Employment bureau, little thinking his visit there would bring forth the desired results. To his surprise he learned the girl had been there only a few hours before and had been given employment with a private family on Thomas street.

Appointed Executrix.

Rauch told an interesting story at the employment bureau's office. Some months ago the father of the girl and her sister, who is Mrs. Rauch, died, leaving a fair sized estate. The mother had died some months previous. According to Rauch the girl was named as executrix. For a time things went along splendidly, but it was noticed that the girl was nervous and wanted to get out in the world for herself. About three or four weeks ago she left home without telling a soul where she was going. Days went by and not a word was heard from her. Both Rauch and his wife became alarmed and finally Rauch determined to make an effort to find her if she was still alive.

The girl had been to the employment bureau's office before but the positions which were available did not meet with her approval until the one offered to her Wednesday. She is about 23 years old and exceedingly pretty and attractive.

NAME ARCHITECT SOON.

Plans Going Ahead for Erection of New Hope Hospital.

At the next meeting of the Hope hospital association an architect will be selected to draw plans for a new building, work on which is to begin early in the spring if the present arrangements are carried out. About $78,000 has been subscribed and between $13,000 and $14,000 has already been paid in. That a new hospital will be built at an early date is certain in the opinion of A. S. Coverdale, the vice president.

During the last few days the committee in charge of the proposed new building has visited the various architects in the city, getting their suggestions. An entirely new building is to be erected, probably on the same site where the present hospital is located.

The Fidelity circle of the King's Daughters met Wednesday at an all day sewing at the home of Mrs. J. H. Cole, of Edgewater avenue, and sewed for the Hope hospital. In all one hundred and forty-two articles were finished which will be given to the institution.

WOMAN'S SUICIDE RECALLS MURDER

Mrs. Clara Dayton Maupin Ends Her Own Life at Richmond.

Richmond, Ind., Nov. 12.—The death by suicide last night of Mrs. Clara Dayton Maupin, recalls the investigation of the mysterious murder of her husband, Henry Dayton, about four years ago and also the disappearance two years ago of Joseph Schneider, a roomer at the Dayton house. The woman left no note to explain the cause of taking her life. More than four years ago Henry Dayton, disappeared and all efforts of the police and family to find him proved futile.

There were numerous rumors at the time that possibly Schneider might have been instrumental in the leave-taking of Dayton, but police investigations at the time faile dto connect him with the affair.

Two years afterward Schneider disappeared as suddenly as Dayton. Previously to his going away Schneider had attempted to kill himself by severing the arteries of his wrist but failed. Mrs. Dayton told the police that Schneider had given her a sealed letter a few days before his departure and she asserted she did not open until Schneider left.

The letter was turned over to the police and purported to be a confession by Schneider of the murder of Henry Dayton. The letter said that Dayton's body had been buried in the cellar of the house. Policemen with picks and shovels set to work in the cellar and uncovered the skeleton of a man.

Mrs. Dayton declared she had no knowledge of the crime that Schneider's letter confessed. However, she gave testimony before the grand jury which indicted Schneider. Efforts to find Schneider have been in progress for two years, but there has never been a clew to his whereabouts.

Something more than a year ago Mrs. Dayton married a herb doctor named Maupin, but she later separated from him and had been making her home with a married daughter where she died.

DESERTED DOCKS AT GERMAN PORTS

An American Tells of His Visit to Bremen and Hamburg.

London, Nov. 12.—(3:30 a. m.)—The Daily Mail prints an American's account of his visit to Bremen and Hamburg, affording a striking picture of the deserted docks at these ports. He says:

"In Bremen the hotels are deserted but the theaters and cafes are full. There is plenty of evidence of unemployment as shops and business houses are closed and the harbor is silent. The docks at Bremerhaven are crowded with shipping but there is no life there. I was told that transports are there waiting to convey troops to England.

"At Hamburg I found the same listlessness, the same dense lines of shipping in port and deserted wharves. Bread, barley and malt are running short. The government is subsidizing landlords against the loss of their rents. It is not possible to speak English in public owing to the hatred for England. In the harbor I was shown three huge liners transformed by a coat of gray paint and yellow funnels. Soldiers swarming over them proclaimed them to be transports destined for the invasion of England. I was told that the soldiers were forbidden to leave the ships and nobody was allowed to approach them.

"There is great air craft activity in Hamburg. I saw eleven sheds, each said to contain a Zeppelin. There are any number of aeroplanes at the air camp, made up of all types. It was reported there that fifty Zeppelins are being built. A lieutenant in the flying corps told me it was absurd to suppose that the Germans would waste their Zeppelins by single raids on London. The Zeppelins were being kept for the time when the fleet accompanied by the dirigibles would attack the British coast simultaneously. This, however, was not the plan for the present but for the coming spring.

Kiel, in contrast to Hamburg, seethed with activity, the streets swarming with sailors and marines while in the harbor dispatch boats dashed hither and thither."

An English railway, in 1846, ran the first smoking car.

GOSSIP DRIVES A FARMER TO SUICIDE

Moses Dausman, Near Milford, Hangs Himself to Rafters in His Barn.

Warsaw, Ind., Nov. 12.—Moses Dausman, about 50 years of age, a well-known farmer residing two miles west of Milford Junction, took his own life on Wednesday morning by hanging himself from a rafter in the barn. He used anordinary tie strap. His lifeless body was found at 7:30 o'clock by his wife, who went in search of him.

Mr. Dausman got up at the usual time on Wednesday morning and after breakfast, went to the barn to harness his team, explaining to his wife that he intended to do some work on the farm. At about 7:30 o'clock Mrs. Dausman discovered that he husband had failed to feed the pigs, and she went to the barn to see if he was still there. She noticed that the horses were harnessed with the exception of bridles. Upon closer investigation she discovered her husband's lifeless body dangling from a strap in the hay chute. The one end of the strap was fastened to a rafter and the other end encircled his neck.

Stories about him which gained circulation in the neighborhood, worried Mr. Dausman and it is believed caused him to commit suicide. His wife declares that he had threatened to run away and on one occasion he said he believed the best way to get away from it all was to kill himself. He leaves no children.

A new gas stove had been purchased several days ago and Mrs. Shoemaker had not yet become familiar with its operation.

BRYANT WIFE SUES.

Portland, Ind., Nov. 12.—One of the most sensational divorce suits that has been entered on the records of the Jay circuit court in years was instituted on Wednesday by Mrs. Caroline L. Shull against Guy Earl Shull, of Bryant, where the defendant operates a drug store. They were married on June 5, 1901, and separated November 6, 1914, when Mrs. Shull says she could no longer withstand the treatment accorded her and was forced to leave.

Ladies' Hairdressing in London and Paris

A returned traveler says, "When I was in Europe this year I found both cities so thickly dotted with hairdressing parlors and hair goods stores that I wondered if the women ever had time for anything but care of the hair. Personally I was interested in finding a really good shampoo and was happily surprised when several inquiries each brought the suggestion that our own American made canthrox shampoo is best. I tried it and have decided that it is not advisable to use a makeshift but always use a preparation made for shampooing only. You can enjoy the best that is known for about three cents a shampoo by getting a package of canthrox from your druggist; dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. After its use the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth."

VOTES OF WOMEN CUT BIG FIGURE

Election Showing Held Up by Writer as Warning to Democrats.

Washington, Nov. 12.—The votes of women evidently played a most important part in the recent election. The results of the campaign conducted by the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage against the democratic party in the nine states where women voted are just beginning to be seriously considered by the democratic politicians.

There were forty-five democratic candidates in the nine states contesting for seats in the new senate and house—eight senatorial candidates and thirty-four would-be representatives. Of this number the democrats succeeded in electing a total of seventeen, while the republicans and progressives took twenty-eight of these seats. The democratic representation from these nine states in the present congress has been sixteen, while the opposition has had twenty-nine seats. This means that the democrats gained one seat in the nine states in question. At first glance this looks as if the women's campaign had been a failure. But down in their hearts the democratic managers acknowledge that the campaign was a success.

Looked at in detail, the result shows up very badly for the democrats. For instance, in Colorado, it was not until November 7—five days after the election—that Senator Thomas knew he was re-elected by the narrowest kind of a squeak. In this state alone the women's plea for assistance helped in wiping out a democratic majority of 45,000 votes; Senator Thomas having been elected by that majority in 1912. The democratic campaign committee in Colorado acknowledged the power of the women's influence when it devoted its last campaign circular issued on the eve of the election entirely to the women's campaign and pleaded with the voters to disregard this issue. In addition, the women defeated one of the democratic congressmen in Colorado and reduced the majorities of the others.

In Oregon, also, the managers for Senator Chamberlain acknowledged the power of the women's vote by devoting the opening paragraphs in their last campaign circular to a plea against the women.

In Arizona, it was not until November 6—four days after the election—that Senator Mark Smith was known to have been elected, so strenuous was the campaign waged against him by the women. In the other states where the women worked the figures show greatly reduced majorities for the democrats who were successful, and almost universal defeat for the democratic candidates who tried to wrest from the republicans and progressives the seats which the latter held.

As the returns are completed, it is seen more clearly that the revolt against the democrats was confined principally to the industrial states of the east, the largest majorities against them being cast in states like New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and the New England states. In the states of the middle west—the farming and grain growing and cattle raising states—the democrats not only held their own but made gains. This is true of Minnesota, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Nebraska. But when it came to the suffrage states, the women were able to prevent approval of the party, by showing its suffrage record, and asking for the defeat of its candidates on the ground that the party in power had refused consideration of the suffrage amendment.

Not the least important phase of the matter is the question of 1916, the presidential year. Two more states have been added to the suffrage column—Nevada and Montana—making seven more seats in house and senate for which women may cast ballots. Montana casts four votes in the electoral college for president and Nevada three. The democratic majority in the house of representatives has been cut to twenty-four, and if the party wishes to retain control of the government, it cannot afford to lose a single vote—woman or man—in these eleven states.

The importance of the situation will be more fully realized by the democratic politicians when they understand that the wonderful fight which the women made this time was the result of a very short campaign, by only two women organizers in each state, with very little money on which to run the campaign. With two years more in which to prepare for a campaign, the women can absolutely assure democratic defeat, if that party persists in refusing to allow a vote on the suffrage amendment. Democratic politicians may be wise enough to see this, and cease party opposition to suffrage; indeed, the democratic members from the eleven suffrage states in question may force the leaders to consider it. They will be able to go to the house leaders and show that their political lives depend upon the result—that further antagonism to the woman's cause will defeat the party in the next election (other things being equal) and that it is the part of political wisdom to act. This, at least, is the prediction of the women, who appear to be well satisfied with the campaign and its results.

HUNDREDS OF FEET UP TO GET GREAT VIEW.

Miss Libby Pratt, displaying her nerve while being hoisted up the tallest flag staff in the world.

San Francisco, Nov. 12.—Miss Libby Pratt, a visitor at the Panama-Pacific exposition grounds wasn't satisfied with the ordinary view of the immense buildings. She wanted to glimpse the scene as the drifting gulls see it—hundreds of feet above the ground.

And so, rigged in a bo'sun's sling, she was hoisted to the top of the immense Oregon flag pole, rising 232 feet, where the wind swayed her dizzy perch underneath the surmounting golden star.

This staff is said to be the tallest in the world. Besides the 232 feet it extends above ground, nineteen feet of the pole is sunk in a concrete base to support its weight.

Miss Pratt is the first person to reach its top, accomplishing the daring feat without a tremor of fear.

"I never had a more exciting trip in my life," she laughed as she touched earth again.

CHILD'S TONGUE BECOMES COATED IF CONSTIPATED

When cross, feverish and sick give "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sours, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Adv.

To the Hon. Common Council.

Gentlemen I send you herewith a communication from the department of public parks asking for an appropriation of $372.60 to pay for an assessment for the construction of a sidewalk on Maumee avenue against Hayden park.

It is the ruling of the city attorney that such improvements should be paid out of the general park fund, but as this fund is not able to pay for this assessment now and the bill must be paid, I would recommend that the appropriation be made.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 31, 1914.
Mr. Wm. C. Baade, Controller:

Dear Sir: An assessment of $372.26 was made against Hayden Park for the construction of the Maumee avenue cement walk. Heretofore such bills have been paid by the Board of Public Works out of funds appropriated by the city council for such purpose. His honor, Mayor Hosey, and the present Board of Public Works, feel that it would be more in accordance with the rulings of our public accounting board to have such bills paid through out office. Will you please therefore arrange for an appropriation of $372.26, the amount necessary to cover the assessment made.

Respectfully yours,
DAVID N. FOSTER,
LOUIS FOX,

Chicago, Nov. 5. Chicago's "spooney island" apartments may be ready for occupancy in June, and then again they may not.

To go into partnership with Cupid hard cash is as necessary as rose-colored romance. T. L. Reeve, who planned the "Spooney flats" is the exclusive Sheridan road district, counted more on credit than on cash.

Now he's in jail charged with trying to swindle the mechanics who were hired to build the steam heated turtle dove cote, out of their money.

Reeves had heard, so he declares, of cruel landladies who objected to "spooning" in their boarding house parlors and of parents who frowned upon "holding hands" when the lights are low. It was then he rushed to the rescue of Cupid. In his proposed aparements which will occupy one block there will be an artificial lake with an island covered with shrubs, trees and arbors. This will be Cupid's retreat, the place where the romantic young men and women of the apartments may make "dates.' That is, if Reeves gets out of jail and resumes building operations.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Wheat tended to rally today because of the absence of any developments that would confirm yesterday's rumors of peace. The opening, which ranged from the same as last night to ¼c higher, was followed by a moderate advance all around.

Closing prices were steady at ½c to ⅝c net advance.

The close was firm, ⅝@¾c to ¾@⅞c above last night.

Prospects of unsettled weather strengthened the corn market. After opening ½c to ⅝c up prices steadied near the top reached at the outset.

Offerings of oats were light and sympathy was with other cereals.

Provisions sympathized with the firmness of grain.

Acceptance of deposits of reserves from member banks.

Discount of bills of exchange and commercial paper.

Acceptance of deposits of checks drawn by member banks on any reserve bank or member bank in a reserve or central reserve city within their federal reserve district.

Other functions it was announced would be inaugurated as the establishment of efficient organization permitted. The banks will be opened for business Monday.

For Indiana: Rain tonight and Friday.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The storm which has passed down the St. Lawrence valley gave some rain or snow during the last twenty-four hours from northern Michigan eastward to northern New England. A well defined storm is central over eastern Nebraska this morning. As yet it has given no rains over the central states, but cloudy weather has set in over the upper Mississippi valley and the lake region, and some rain or snow is reported from Montana and the Dakotas. A storm in the southwest is giving some rains over Texas.

Moderate temperatures have continued over nearly all sections of the country. Over the Lake Sunerior region much colder weather is reported this morning.

The western storm will spread eastward and will give rain in this section tonight and Friday. The temperature changes will be slight.

They declared they would hold a mass meeting in Washington Sunday to discuss the question.

Mr. Wilson is understood to have told the committee the question was not a political one and that he would not take it upon political grounds.

ALL BERLIN IS PRAISING EMDEN

Berlin, Nov. 12.—(Via The Hague and London)—11 a. m.—All the morning papers of Berlin unite in publishing articles in praise of the commerce destroying career of the German cruiser Emden, and they declare that her final destruction always had been counted upon. The Emden was driven ashore on the Cocos island by the Australian cruiser Sydney. The Morgenpost says that since the beginning of the world never has a single ship taken part in international warfare with such terrible results.

The decoration of the Iron Cross of the first class has been conferred upon Gen. Hans von Below, who some weeks ago was given the second class decoration of this order for military valor before Namur. Gen. von Below's wife was formerly Mrs. Nina Bryce Turnbull, of Philadelphia.

PHONES MARKETS; WINS HUSBAND

Kalamazoo, Mich., Nov. 12.—Because Catherine J. Buckles, 18 years, a pretty telephone operator at Columbia City, Ind., kept him fully informed from day to day over the 'phone as to the market chances, and thus enabled him to add to his bank account, Malvin L. Burnworth, 21 year, a farmer living four miles west of that city, concluded she would make a pretty good partner to help conduct his business, with the result that the two came to Kalamazoo late yesterday afternon and were married at the county clerk's office.

"She will be just the kind of a wife I have been looking for," Burnworth told the members of the county canvassing board, who witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Hatch. The young woman loved him she was of the same opinion.

IN THE CHURCHES

Leaders Are Chosen for the Thanksgiving Sunrise Gatherings.

The Associated Christian Workers of Fort Wayne will hold four sunrise prayer meetings on Thanksgiving morning at 7 o'clock in the central, southern, southeastern and eastern sections of the city. The devotional committee has chosen leaders for the meetings and music for all four places.

Following is the program as arranged by the committee:

George W. Monesmith will lead the devotionals at the Third Presbyterian church where the West Creighton Avenue, Simpson M. E. and South Side Baptist societies will meet. Mr. Likens will lead the music.

The Plymouth Congregational, First Baptist, St. John Reformed and Bethany Presbyterian societies will meet at the West Jefferson Street Church of Christ and Miss Lucile House will lead the meeting and Leslie Jacobs will direct the music.

The societies of the Grace Reformed, Crescent Avenue Evangelical and Trinity M. E. churches will gather at the First M. E. church where Jean Drewitt will lead and Marie Monroe will lead in the music.

Agatha Brenizer will be devotional leader and Helen Erwin director of music at the meeting at the St. Paul's M. E. church where the societies of the Calvary United Brethren and the East Creighton Avenue Church of Christ will meet.

This is a new feature of the work of the A. C. W. and much interest is being aroused for these meetings and it is thought that a large number will be present at the early sunrise gatherings.

OVER 25 SEEK BETTER LIFE.

Revivals at Trinity Church Increase in Attendance and Interest.

Since the opening of the revival meetings at the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church Sunday evening between twenty-five and thirty people have sought to lead a better, clean life and of this number ten or eleven were converted Wednesday evening when the evangelist, Prof. George Shaw, delivered a stirring sermon on "A Clean Heart." He took as his text, Psalm 51.

The speaker opened his address by saying that he had preached to all classes of various nations and has found that everyone needs the grace that can take that miserableness out of us that makes us do that which we do not wish to do. The evangelist said that there were many people in this community that are contemplating suicide because they have not the power to resist the blasts of disappointment in this life. He concluded by saying, "A sinful soul which harbors excuses for the failures of our lifes makes life ugly and makes a man look like the devil."

He was released on this promise and was out a short time when he was again picked up for drunkenness. He drew fifteen days.

The session of the court Thursday was short. Ed Gray was fined $1 and costs for drunkenness, Ernest Brooks was in bad shape from drink and he was held until Saturday and John Conners was let go.

Clyde Siples, whose case was taken under advisement Wednesday morning, was fined $1 and costs for assault and battery.

WOULD ENFORCE MENTAL HEALTH

Sanitary Inspection May Open New Field of Supervision.

(By Jack Jungmeyer.)

Stockton, Cal., Nov. 12.—Public supervision of homes to assure mental health conditions, just as sanitary safeguards are required!

Sounds revolutionary, with infinite economic possibilities.

FRED CLARKE.

The initial step proposed is that of providing trained nurse field workers to look after cured patients discharged from insane asylums; to see that they do not go back to the very home conditions that caused the first mental breakdown.

It is now being considered by the state board of control, at the instance of Dr. Fred P. Clarke, of the Stockton state hospital.

At this institution 85 per cent. of insane cases caused by environmental conditions—overwork, sickness, fright, grief, alcoholism and excesses—are cured.

"But what's the use of discharging them," said Dr. Clarke, "if they go right back to the old conditions?

"We prevent a man from jeopardizing the health of his family, but we seem to care little if he overworks his wife to the point where her mind is shattered and she becomes a public charge. You'd be surprised to know how many women are sent here for just that reason—because their husbands overwork them and permit no recreation [illegible]

CALLS IT UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

Promoter Will Make Test of California Anti-Prize Fight Law.

San Francisco, Nov. 12.—Constitutionality of the anti-prize fight amendment adopted at the recent election, as part of the state's penal code, will be tested it was announced today on the ground that it is class legislation. The measure allows amateur four-round boxing matches.

A local promoter who has a permit for professional four-round contests in December, said he would go ahead and base his contest on habeas corpus proceedings to be instituted whenever the principals in his fights are arrested.

NOT A CANDIDATE.

Feick Not Seeking Speakership, Says Indianapolis Paper.

According to the Indianapolis News Fred L. Feick, of Garrett, is not a candidate for the speakership of the next house of representatives of the Indiana general assembly. The News says: "Somebody started a report that Fred L. Feick, of Garrett, would be a candidate for speaker. He was elected to the house from DeKalb county. It is said, however, that he will not start in the race and that he announced weeks ago that he would not run for that position."

FIRST EVENT BIG SUCCESS.

The event was splendidly successful. The program included a concert by the Miznah temple band, solos by Earl Thompson and Miss Ethel Doud, and a drill by the Arab patrol under command of Lieut. R. B. VILLA LEADS TROOPS TO ATTACK CARRANZA ARMY | BLIZZARD KILLS

Washington, Nov. 12.—Gen. Villa, at the head of a large column of troops has begun marching south from Aguas Calientes to attack the Carranza forces under Gen. Gonzales at Queretaro.

Official advices today say the Aguas Calientes convention ordered the movement. Gen. Blanco, who had announced his intention of remaining loyal to the convention started for Mexico City to take command of his troops but was arrested at Silao by Gen. Gonales.

Geo. C. Carothers, American consular agent reported that he was accompanying Villa on his march south.

Uncertainty in Washington.

Uncertainty ruled again today in the Mexican situation. Gen Eulalio Guiterrez has taken the oath of office as provisional president at the Aguas Calientes convention which declared Gen. Carranza, hitherto first chief of the constitutionalist army as being in rebellion. Many generals who have not severed their allegiance to the convention are leaning toward Carranza. This was the tenor of official dispatches from American Consul Silliman at Mexico City, and Leon Canova, special agent at Aguas Calientes. In the meantime President Wilson and Secretary Bryan are awaiting further word from Mexico before announcing the date of the evacuation of Vera Cruz.

Rumors of Fighting Near.

Carranza is still at Cordoba and may move to Vera Cruz to celebrate the departure of the American forces. The convention is still in session at Aguas Calientes with rumors of fighting in the vicinity.

During the last twenty-four hours, Carranza invited Gutierrez by telegraph to meet him in personal conference in an effort to reach an agreement. Gutierrez declined. Carranza submitted a new list of conditions under which he would retire but they were rejected.

Gens. Obregon and Villareal, the latter a member of the Guiterrez cabinet, did not return to the convention from their visit to Carranza at Cordoba and

Over the long battle lines of Europe comparative quiet prevailed today except in Belgium, where the conflict continues, still with deadly fury and still undecided.

On the Servian border sharp fighting is in progress and the Turks are in action against the Russian, but on the main positions through France along the east Prussian border and in Galicia there apparently is a lull. On the success or failure of the German attempt to force a way to the English channel at whatever cost, may depend the future of the campaign, not only in Belgium, but elsewhere.

Today's French official statement, the only authoritative word up to early afternoon, sketched out a battle line which adheres closely to that previously reported. In contrast with yesterday's frank admission of a German advance, including the capture of Dixmude, the French statement of today was non-committal. Fighting continues with violence on the western end of the line, but there are no indications that the Germans have succeeded in pushing further their advance.

Minor engagements are reported at other points on the line, but apparently there have been no movements of note. Along the Servian border the only other point from which heavy firing is reported, the Austrians are making a determined effort to crush Servia and complete the campaign before the opening of winter. Austria's recent assertions that her troops had defeated the Servians and were carrying the fight well on Servian soil found partial confirmation in official information from Nish, where it is admitted the Servians abandoned some positions along the border, for "strategic reasons."

A decisive victory, however, is claimed by the Servians in one of the numerous engagements in progress along both the western and northern boundaries. A force of 6,000 Austrians, who crossed the Danube at a point thirty miles from Belgrade, the Servian war office says, was put to route, 1,000 being killed, 2,000 captured and many drowned in the river.

The Russian pursuit of the Germans along the Silesian frontier has slackened and the Germans are strengthening their positions along the line of border fortresses in expectation of an attempted Russian invasion.

Fighting between the Turks and Russian army of Caucasia apparently still is in progress without definite result. The Russian staff reports that it is maintaining its position, routing the Turkish forces which attempted an enveloping movement. A Turkish torpedo boat, according to a dispatch from Athens, has been captured off the coast of Asia Minor.

England's recent feeling of optimism was altered by the latest German naval feat of sending a submarine to the shore of England and sinking the torepdo boat Niger in the Downs.

The American cruiser, North Carolina, one of the two warships sent to the relief of Americans in Europe, is safe in the harbor at Beirut, as the Tennessee, her companion ship, learned from her by wireless. This put an end to rumors that the North Carolina had been sunk by a mine.

Asks Federal Supervision of Coal Mines if Operators Hold Out.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 12.—A resolution was presented at today's session of the American Federation of Labor urging President Wilson to insist that the Colorado mine owners accept the federal plan for peace and if they fail to comply that the president take steps to have the coal mines operated under government supervision.

The resolution was filed by Wm. Green, of the United Mine Workers of America, acting for the mining department of the federation. It was referred to a committee. The resolution recited the history of the struggle between the mine owners and miners in that state and asserted investigations have shown the justice of the miner's cause.

The convention, after listening to a number of addresses, including one by Frank P. Walsh, of Kansas City, Mo., chairman of the federal industrial relations commission in which he discussed the work of that body, adjourned until tomorrow. The early adjournment was taken to permit committees to continue their work.

Mr. Walsh's Adddress.

Mr. Walsh said the first report would be made to congress next month. He stated the commission has examined 300 employers, representing the great industries of the country. Of these, he said, only five employers have disagreed with the underlying principle of collective bargaining, and the commission would so report. Collective bargaining, he said, according to his understanding, was a system devised by studious men to prevent the well fed from driving a hard bargain with hungry men.

The convention was swept by applause when Mr. Walsh exclaimed that no man should be satisfied until he had received the full product of his own toil. The commission in its travels, he continued, had heard many criticisms of labor unions and it had also heard of the exploitation of men and women and had made articulate the "stifled sob of the exploited child in the maelstrom of modern industry." The report of the commission, Mr. Walsh said, would hold nothing sacred but the truth.

HOLD IT'S NONE OF OUR AFFAIRS

Washington, Nov. 12.—No representations will be made by the United States to Mexico about the alleged unneutral use of a recently discovered wireless tower at Ensenada, Lower California.

One of the European belligerants has made representations direct to Mexico City and it is understood that the state department will expect all the European powers to handle the questions of neutrality with Central and South American countries themselves, under the local laws.

Britain's contention that coal and supplies have been furnished to the German squadron from the Pacific coast countries of South America is being taken up directly.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 12.—More than twenty men have been indicted by the grand jury of Pike county for buying and selling votes at the judicial election two years ago, according to a report received here today. The indicted men will be tried at the January term of the circuit court at Pikeville.

IN VIGOROUS TERMS.

France and England Warn Ecuador and Colombia.

Washington, Nov. 12.—France and Great Britain have warned Ecuador and Colombia in virorous terms that violations of neutrality by those countries will not be tolerated.

CALDWELL FAVORS GIGANTIC POOL

Investment Banker Suggests Fund to Safeguard Stock Exchange Opening.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 12.—The formation of a $250,000,000 pool to buy bonds and stocks that may be thrown upon the market by panic-stricken investors and thus insure the immediate opening of the stock exchanges in this country was recommended by Charles B. Caldwell, of Chicago, president of the Investment Bankers' association of America in his address at the opening session of the convention of the organization in this city today. After calling attention to the desirability of such a pool Mr. Caldwell said:

"What could be more reassuring than to have American bankers band together to purchase all American securities sent to us for sale from European investors, which because of the war would certainly follow the opening of our stock exchanges. Unless some such pool is formed our stock exchanges can't open except in a limited way and will do no good to the country at large for months to come." Mr. Caldwell praised the new federal banking law and was optimistic as to the future of the country.

More than 400 elegates representing banking houses in all parts of the country were in attendance.

SHE SURRENDERED SEDALIA.

Mrs. Surana Jackson, Noted for War Action, is Dead.

Sedalia, Mo., Nov. 12.—Mrs. Surana Jackson, who in 1864 surrendered Sedalia to Gen. Streling Price when the confederate leader was on his raid, died at her home here today. She was 78 years old. During the civil war Mrs. Jackson proved her devotion to the union. All of the men of Sedalia were engaged in battle elsewhere when Gen. Price attacked the town. Mrs. Jackson, seeing the uselessness of resistance procured a sheet nailed it to a pole and amid bursting shells marched to the outskirts of the town and surrendered to Gen. Price. Her action probably saved the lives of many women and children. Mrs. Jackson was the widow of the late Wm. P. Jackson, one time mayor of Sedalia.

STRUGGLE TO REACH COAST IS DESPERATE

London, Nov. 12.—(2:30 p. m.)—The Russian successes in the east which for a time was a predominant feature of the war news must again divide space with the accounts of rekindled activity on the part of the Germans in West Flanders, where the forces of Emperor William have disputed the contention of the allies that their attempt to force their way to Dunkirk or Calais had finally failed.

With Dixmude in their possession the invaders were today less than fifty miles from Calais and much nearer Dunkirk, and the fight they have been putting up in the face of tremendous losses, seems to bear out what has been so often said—that they will not abandon this struggle to reach the coast unless they are utterly crushed.

The English and French theory is that the holding of Dixmude is only temporary; that its history will be much the same as that of other towns which have been taken and retaken in the fighting on the Yser.

In certain places north of Dixmude, the Germans are at the left bank of the river, that is, on the side nearest the French coast towns and their attacks instead of concentrating to the southward below Ypres, apparently have been renewed almost on the coast line. Here they drove the allies from Lombaertzyde only in turn to be driven out themselves.

The official announcement given out at Paris this afternoon says the Germans are trying to take Lombaertzyde, which is to the north of Nieuport and within a stone's throw of the sea. How they can operate in this locality as British and French warships are still standing guard off the shores, is not quite clear to British observers. For some time past there has been no mention of naval activity on this coast but it has been assumed that this was explained by the reported German retirement from the coast of France and Belgium that and the news that they were delivering their attacks further to the south.

CONTINUES WITH VIOLENCE.

Fighting Characterized by Alternate Advances and Retirements.

Paris, Nov. 12.—(2:45 p. m.)—The French official statement given out in Paris this afternoon says that the fighting on the left wing continues with violence and has been characterized with alternate advances and retirements, without importance. Generally speaking the statement declares the battle front shows no important changes since the 10th of November.

The text of the communication follows:

"On our left wing the fighting still continues with violence and has been conducted with alternate advances and retirements without importance. Speaking broadly, the battle front has not varied greatly since the 10th of November. In the evening of yesterday it extended along the line between Lombaertzyde and Nieuport; the Nieuport canal to Presse; the approach of Ypres; in the region of Zonnebeke, and to the east of Armentieres.

"There has been no change in the positions held by the British army which repulsed the attacks of the enemy and particularly an offensive movement undertaken by a detachment of the Prussian guard.

"From the canal of La Bassee as far as and up to the river Oise there have been minor engagements.

"In the region of the river Aisne in the neighborhood of Vailley, we maintained our position against a counter attack and we strengthened our positions in the territory peviously conquered by us.

"In the region of Graonne and on the Heurtebise farm our artillery succeeded in reducing to silence the cannon of the enemy. Several of their pieces were even destroyed. We also made some progress in the vicinity of Berry-au-Back.

BOMB ECHO OF OLD HAYMARKET RIOTS

New York Bomb Explosion Now Believed Work of Anarchist.

New York, Nov. 12.—Amidst the ruin wrought by a powerful bomb exploded last night at the entrance to Bronx county's new $1,000,000 court house detectives found today what they consider strong evidence that the outrage was perpetrated by an anarchist who had in mind the Haymarket riots at Chicago more than twenty years ago.

Detectives who had believed that the explosion had been prompted by vengeance upon County Judge Louis D. Gibbs for heavy sentences imposed recently by him on seven traffickers in women, turned from their theory to follow the fresh clue. Among the fragments of metal clipped from the door casing and cornices of the court ho se they found the tatters of a pamphlet printed in Spanish and said: "Los Mortieres des Chicago" T(he martyrs of Chicago). The pamphlet so far as it could be pieced together purported to tell the story of the Haymarket anarchists who killed the Chicago police in the famous riots. A rough woodcut showed the Haymarket anarchists swinging from the gallows. There were incendiary statements concerning the duty of anarchists to avenge the "martys."

Close investigation today disclosed the fact there was only one bomb instead of two, as at first reported.

PLAGUE INVADES MORE TERRITORY

Washington, Nov. 12.—The foot and mouth disease in the Baltimore stock yard was reported today to the department of agriculture.

Spread of the foot and mouth disease to four more counties in Illinois—Hancock, La Salle, Warren and Mercer—and from Bullett county, Kentucky, to Henry county was reported to the department of agriculture today by field inspectors. The infection of two new herds of cattle in Allegheny county, Pa., also was reported.

AT CLEVELAND NOW.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 12.—The first cases of foot and mouth disease in Cuyahoga county were discovered today at the Cleveland union stock yards. Twelve steers, said to have been shipped from Shelby, O., to Cleveland, were found to be infected. The twelve infected cattle were ordered shot and buried in quick lime.

THE SUFFRAGISTS ARE NON-PARTISAN

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 12.—By a decisive vote the executive committee of the National American Woman Suffrage association at the opening of the forty-sixth annual convention here today declared its political non-partisanship and went on record as opposed to attacks upon any political party.

This action was taken in the adoption of resolutions presented by Mrs. Raymond Brown of New York. It was considered as a preliminary victory for the so-called "administration" forces against the element in opposition and generally supposed to look with favor upon the congressional union.

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the association, called the convention to order and reminded the delegates that it was an auspicious date for the assembling of the convention, in that it is the ninety-ninth anniversary of the birth of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Cody Stanton, one of the pioneers in the woman suffrage movement in this country.

DEMANDS IMMEDIATE TRIAL.

Former Senator Lorimer Insists on Action at Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Former Senator William Lorimer, under indictment for participation in the wrecking of the La Salle street bank, of which he was part owner, appeared before Judge Kersten today and demanded an immediate trial.

NEGRO'S TONE STIRS WILSON

Committee Must Get a New Chairman If It Wants to Call Again.

Washington, Nov. 12.—President Wilson, while receiving a delegation of negroes today who came to the white house to protest against segregating the races in government departments objected to the tone adopted by their spokesman, William Trotter, of Boston, and told the committee that if it called on him again it would have to get a new chairman.

The president added he had not been addressed in such a manner since he entered the white house.

The delegation charged that Secretary McAdoo and Comptroller Williams in the treasury department and Postmaster General Burleson had preferred segregation rules in their offices.

The President's Reply.

President Wilson replied he had investigated the question and had been assured there had been no discrimination in the comforts and surroundings given to the negroes. He added he had been informed by officials that the segregation had been started to avoid friction between the races and not with the object of injuring the negroes.

The president said he was deeply interested in the negro race and greatly admired its progress. He declared the thing to be sought by the negro people was complete independence of white people and that he felt the white race was willing to do everything possible to assist them.

Trotter Takes Issue.

Trotter and other members at once took issue with the president declaring the negro people did not seek charity or assistance, but that they took the position that the negroes had equal rights with whites and that those rights should be respected.

They denied there had been any friction between the two races before segregation was begun.

President Wilson listened to what they had to say and then told the delegation that Trotter was losing control of his temper and that he the president wouldn't discuss the matter with him.

After leaving the president's private office, Trotter, Maurice V. Spencer and others of the delegation declared their talk had been thoroughly disappointing.

London, Nov. 12.—(2:45 p. m.)—Hoover E. Tokio, Nov. 12.—Meyer Waldeck, who was in command of the German forces at Tsing Tau, according to a dispatch from Tsing Tau to the Asahi, has sent a telegram to Emperor William saying he was compelled to surrender the position on account of lack of ammunition and the heavy damage inflicted by the enemy on his forts.

DIVINE HEALER PLEADS GUILTY

Freeport, Ill., Nov. 12.—John F. Braun, of Rockford, Ill., who called himself "Dr. Schiller, Divine Healer," today pleaded guilty in federal court to the misuse of the mails. Prior to entering his plea Braun on the witness stand, assumed all blame for infractions of federal laws by himself or his wife, who was jointly indicted with him.

Judge Landis then directed the jury to return a verdict of guilty in the case of Braun and a verdict of not guilty in the case of Kate Braun, his wife. Braun said he had forced his wife to commit the acts which the government termed violations of postal laws, she having objected strenuously to his methods. Judge Landis said that because Mrs. Braun had been coerced and the further fact that she was the mother of ten children, eight of whom are living, he believed he was warranted in giving her freedom. Braun advertised in many parts of the country.

New York, Nov. 12.—Bouck White, pastor of the Church of Social Revolution was discharged today from the Queens county jail. He had served his six months' sentence for raising a disturbance in Cavalry Baptist church. A delegation of fifty friends, each wearing a red flower, welcomed him enthusiastically in the jail court yard. An automobile draped with flags took him away.

GERMAN BLOW ANSWER TO STORY OF RETREAT

Paris, Nov. 12.—The battle in Flanders is as far as ever from a decision, according to the official communications and judging from stories told by eye witnesses arriving from the battle front.

The Germans have given an emphatic denial of the reports that they were in retreat by carrying Dixmude on the Yser, twelve miles north of Ypres and on the road to Dunkirk, which the Germans are striving to attain.

French blue jackets at Dixmude had held the town against them in the face of fierce attacks for the past week but were finally compelled to give way. The allies' attempts to drive the Germans out again have thus far failed.

On the rest of the front as far as the river Lys the situation, according to latest advices, remains practically unchanged.

As attention has centered to a large extent around Dixmude the Germans are entitled to claim the advantage but the French are strongly posed in the vicinity and the possession of the village so far has availed them but little.

The setback at Dixmude, in the opinion expressed here, is somewhat compensated for by the progress made by the Belgians along the Nieuport-Ostend road. If followed up, this advance apparently would threaten the German flank.

Fresh Masses of Troops.

West and south of Ypres the Germans centered on these farms, which are dis-seem to have found fresh masses of troops to hurl into the murderous fray but the allies seem to be holding their own. The country here is undulating, well wooded and covered with a multitude of farms which are surrounded by large elms. The villages are few and small and most of the population is centered on these farms the houses on which are distant from each other, at the most from two to three yards. These innumerable and solidly built brick houses with their walled country yards and sometimes with deep ditches make excellent bases for small detachments and play an important part in the long battle. The struggle is taking place among the farms in the direction of the border towns of Comines, Worvick and Menien.

The combats around La Vasse and Arras, where the British are operating, have shown no decisive change. The ground here has been successfully and steadfastly maintained, the British repelling attack after attack.

URGES HUMANS TO KEEP AWAY

Federal Department Issues Statement Regarding Cattle Plague.

Washington, Nov. 12.—Foot and mouth disease now raging among cattle in fourteen states is communicable to humans, the department of agriculture announced today, but its effect rarely is serious. The department urged, however, that humans keep away from diseased cattle to avoid spreading the infection and recommended the use of pasteurized milk.

The statement said in part: "The anxiety that has been expressed in several quarters in regard to the effect upon human health of the present outbreak of the foot and mouth disease is regarded by government authorities as somewhat exaggerated. The most common fear is that the milk supply might be contaminated, but in view of the precautions that local authorities in the affected areas are generally taking, there is comparatively little danger of this. Milk from infected farms is not permitted to be shipped at all. The only danger is therefore that before the disease has manifested itself some milk might reach the market. For this reason experts in the department recommend pasteurization.

"In this country the foot and mouth disease has been so rare that there are few recorded cases of its transmission to human beings. In 1902 a few cases were reported in New England, and in 1908 in a few instances eruptions were found in the mouths of children which were believed to have been caused by contaminated milk. In both of these outbreaks, the sale of milk was stopped as soon as the disease was found among the cattle. As long therefore as the disease can be confined by rigid quarantine to certain specified areas, the danger from this source is very small.

"Men who come in contact with disease in the animals may also become infected. In adult human beings the contagion causes such symptoms as sore mouths, painful swallowing, fever, and occasional eruptions on the hands, finger tips, etc.

"While causing considerable discomfort, however, the disease is rarely serious. Where it is very prevalent among animals, some authorities believe that it is fairly general among human beings, but that the disturbances it causes are usually so slight that they are not brought to the attention of the family physician. There is, however, a very good reason for everyone giving the diseased animals as wide a berth as possible, namely that otherwise they may carry the disease to perfectly healthy herds.

"The disease, in short, is dangerous because of the loss that it occasions to property, and not because of its effects upon the health of mankind."

SHOULD FOLLOW POPULAR WILL

Madison, Wis., Nov. 12.—A plea for greater responsiveness by legislatures to the popular will, with a suggestion as to the part a governor should bear in bringing this about was made here today by F. M. Byrne, chief executive of South Dakota. He spoke before the governor's conference which has been in session since Tuesday and his address followed a discussion of extradition problems, led by Gov. S. M. Stewart, of Montana.

After establishing his premise that because of the veto power and the right to recommend the enactment of desirable measures the governor is a part of the legislature, he said: "Why should not the governor in matters he deems of great importance or in support of a measure he believes the people desire enacted into law, accompany his recommendation by a draft of a bill for which he is willing to assume responsibility?

"How often we see a measure advocated in party platforms made the issues on which the party carries the election, urgently recommended by the governor and apparently earnestly desired by a great majority of the people and yet the legislature comes and goes without such measure being enacted into law and we see no way definitely to place the blame.

NORTH CAROLINA SAFE AT BEIRUT

Washington, Nov. 12.—The armored cruiser Tennessee in the Mediterranean reported today she had been in wireless communication with the cruiser North Carolina yesterday and that the ship was safe in Beirut harbor.

The message was sent by Captain Benton C. Decker, of the Tennessee, and reached the United States by relays of wireless and cable. It was six words long, simply announcing the safety of both ships but made no mention of the reported landing of bluejackets from the North Carolina at Beirut.

The Tennessee's report disposes of persistent rumors of the last three days untraceable to any source and widely circulated through the country that the North Carolina had been sunk by a mine. Hundreds of friends and relatives of men and officers on board were thrown into great distress and besieged the navy department with inquiries. Navy department officials never had any fears for the safety of the ships and so assured all inquirers.

QUEEN VISITS WOUNDED MEN

A PATHETIC GROUP--NO HOME, NO FOOD; ONLY MISERY

A family of Belgian refugees photographed in the streets of Rosendall, Holland. The street is their only home. All that is left to them—grandfather, mother, little girl, a few bags of clothing and the dog. A million of these victims of war are at the point of starvation in Belgium. Two hundred thousand more are destitute in Holland. Little Holland is doing her bravest for them, but the war has paralyzed her industries, too.

WAVE OF ENGLISH OPTIMISM CHECKED

London, Nov. 12.—(9:55 a. m.)—The wave of optimism which has been sweeping England for the past week was checked today by news of the occupation of Dixmude by German forces and the renewed indication of the peril from German submarines by the fate of the torpedo gun boat Niger, which yesterday morning was destroyed by a torpedo launched from a submarine of the enemy. This occurred within sight of the English shore in the narrow part of the channel, where several hundred ships lay at anchor.

The importance of the fall of Dixmude is difficult to estimate without exact knowledge of how the opposing forces are disposed in this locality, but the town is on the direct road to Dunkirk, and if the German forces can debouch from it the allies probably will be compelled to fall back to new positions in their efforts to block the way to the coast.

The allies still hold Ypres, where the fighting evidently is of the most desperate character. Shells constantly are falling in the town, which also is the object of aeroplane attacks.

Too Hot for Occupation.

Armentieres, which has been constantly a bone of contention, being first occupied by the invaders, and then by the defenders, has now become too hot for occupation by either side. The Germans are on the hills on one side of the town and the allies are attacking it unceasingly from the other.

For the moment the Russian pursuit along the Silesian frontier has slackened. The Germans are reported in London to be making efforts further to strengthen their present line of fortresses between Graudenz, Thorn, Posen and Cracow will enable them to bring up reinforcements so rapidly that the German center is not likely again to be exposed to the same weakness which led to the retreat before Warsaw.

The rumor still continues in London that the German crown prince was in command of the German center which gave way before the Russian assault outside of Warsaw, and he is being blamed for this reverse.

A dispatch received here from Petrograd declares that the dissensions between Gen. von Hindenberg, commander of the German forces in East Prussia, and Gen. Dankl, the Austrian commander, are so acute that Austrian officers are refusing longer to keep with the German staff.

Vienna officially admits the withdrawal of Austrians from western Galicia and the complete investment by the Russians of the Przemysl fortress, but up to yesterday the Austrian general staff was reporting continued success in Servia.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—There are 1,599 persons, making up 357 families living in one block of Chicago's tenement districts, according to a report today by investigators of the bureau of social survey.

The investigators found only eight bath tubs in the block—an average of one tub for each two hundred people. Forty-six persons have the eight bath tubs, the remaining 1,550 having no tubs at all. More than one-fourth of the families live in three room apartments and have only one bedroom.

Wages of the householders were found to average $12.27 a week and the yearly family income was said to be far below $12 a week. Of the 1,596 persons living in the block 805 are children.

Miss Jennings, stripper in a Corning (N. Y.) tobacco factory at $7 a week received a letter from a firm of lawyers the other day and learned that she was to get a bequest of $10,000 from an uncle whom she had not seen or heard of for many years.

SHIELD AND FLAG ESCAPE.

Rheims, France, Nov. 12.—A German shell exploded yesterday in the street opposite the American consulate. The front of the building was cut up by the shrapnel, but neither the American shield nor the flag was damaged.

For six weeks passed German shells by the thousands have been falling into this quarter of the city, but this is the first time the consulate has been struck.

THOUSANDS SEE GUNBOAT GO DOWN

Deal, England, Nov. 12.—Thousands of people yesterday witnessed the sinking off Deal of the British torpedo gunboat Niger by a German submarine while lying in the Downs opposite the pier head.

At noon a loud roar of an explosion was heard, dense columns of black smoke were seen to arise and the Niger almost immediately began to go down by the bows. Though partially hidden by clouds of smoke and steam the stern of the Niger was seen to rise gradually in the air until the greater length of her keel was visible, then she slid slowly and gracefully beneath the water twenty minutes after she was struck. Her boilers exploded immediately before she disappeared and caused a further rush of steam.

Nearly all of the crew were below at dinner when the torpedo struck the ship and orders to close the water tight doors were shouted from the bridge. When the crew flew to obey one of them observed the white foam following the course of the torpedo. The explosion followed and a large hole was made just before the bridge in the forward part of the ship.

Boats were immediately launched, including two life boats and the crew, including Captain Muir and the officers, were rescued. Three of the survivors are injured and it is reported that two men are missing.

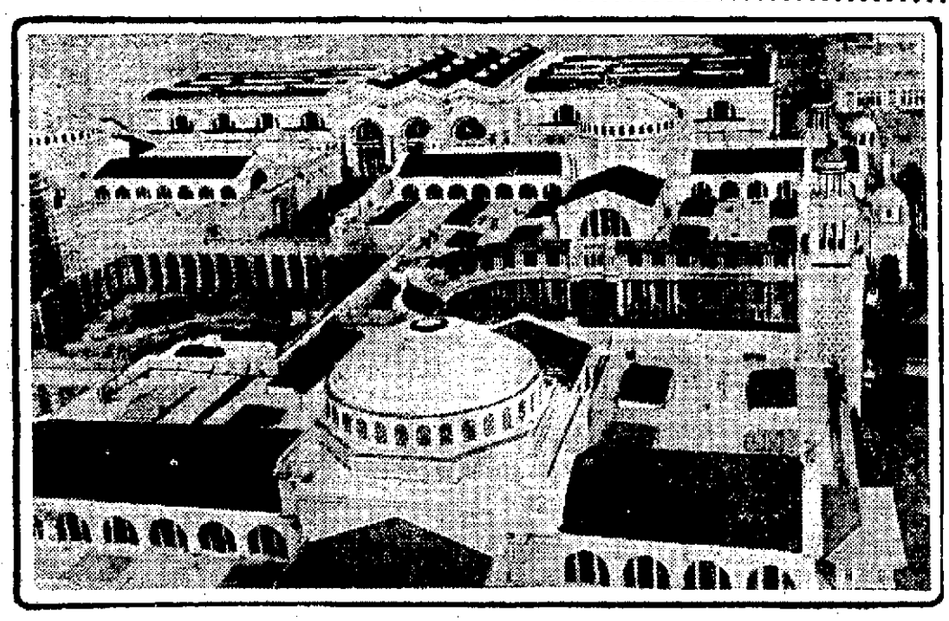
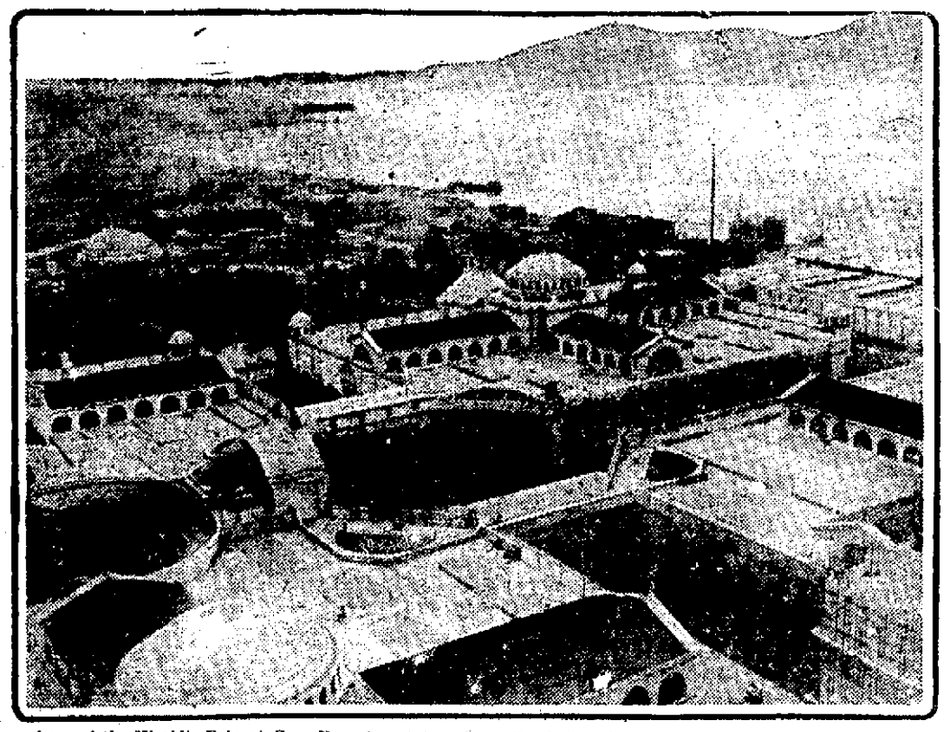
AS THE PANAMA WORLD'S FAIR OF 1915 WILL LOOK TO THE BIRDS.





Two views of the World's Fair at San Francisco taken from the lofty pinnacle of the Tower of Jewels, 500 feet high. The picture below is an eastward view of the exposition palaces, while the one at the right is looking westward over the grounds and through the famous Golden Gate. From this dizzy height an excellent idea can be gained of the monstrous size of the exposition buildings. The Tower of Jewels is the tallest structure on the exposition grounds and is still in the course of construction.

Berlin, Nov. 12.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—An interesting exhibit of things connected with the war is to be seen at the international book exposition at Leipsic. Because of its popularity this branch was ordered kept open after the close of the exposition proper. The German government regards it as necessary to the education of the people, and as filling a mission.

One section is devoted to prominently displayed copies of foreign papers with absurd or deliberately false reports concerning Germany. These reports are heavily bordered, and beside each is a translation. German newspapers from cities occupied by the Russians are also displayed, containing the proclamations and orders of the Russian commanders and blank columns where the Russian censor prohibited the publication of certain articles.

Literature evoked by the war is represented by a large collection. It includes cartoons from hostile publications, letters and postcards from the front—one of the latter consisting of a section cut from a Belgian aeroplane which had been brought down, and various engravings and paintings.

Another section is given over to uniforms, projectiles, captured weapons and flags. The collection includes a knout taken from a Cossack.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

11 Chronicles 35:16-27.

16 So all the service of the Lord was prepared the same day, to keep the passover, and to offer burn offerings upon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandment of king Josiah.

17 And the children of Israel that were present kept the passover at that time, and the feast of unleavened bread seven days.

18 And there was no passover like to that kept in Israel from the days of Samuel the prophet; neither did all the kings of Israel keep such a passover as Josiah kept, and the priests, and the Levites, and all Judah and Israel that were present, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

19 In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josiah was this passover kept.

20 After all this, when Josiah had prepared the temple, Necho king of Egypt came up to fight against Charchemish by Euphrates: and Josiah went out against him.

21 But he sent ambassadors to him, saying, What have I to do with thee, thou king of Judah? I come not against thee this day, but against the house wherewith I have war: for God commanded me to make haste: forbear thee from meddling with God, who is with me, that he destroy thee not.

22 Nevertheless Josiah would not turn his face from him, but disguised himself, that he might fight with him, and hearkened not unto the words of Necho from the mouth of God, and came to fight in the valley of Megiddo.

23 And the archers shot at king Josiah; and the king said to his servants, Have me away; for I am sore wounded.

24 His servants therefore took him out of that chariot, and put him in the second chariot that he had; and they brought him to Jerusalem, and he died, and was buried in one of the sepulchres of his fathers. And all Judah and Jerusalem mourned for Josiah.

25 And Jeremiah lamented for Josiah: and all the singing men and the singing women spake of Josiah in their lamentations to this day, and made them an ordinance in Israel: and behold, they are written in the lamentations.

26 Now the rest of the acts of Josiah, and his goodness, according to that which was written in the law of the Lord.

27 And his deeds, first and last, behold, they are written in the books of the kings of Israel and Judah.

Additions to the Prison Colony.

Six men who have been held in the Allen county jail came before Judge Eggeman, in the circuit court Wednesday, entered pleas of guilty and were given sentences of varying degrees of severity either to the state prison at Michigan City or the state reformatory at Jeffersonville. Even in so populous a county as Allen the swelling of the prison colony by so many as six additions in a single day is an unusual circumstance in criminology.

The crimes of which the men admitted guilt included petit larceny, burglary, horse-stealing, forgery and child neglect, and most of them were very ordinary as such cases go. Society has become accustomed to breaches of the law of this character, and save when they are rounded up into such a collection as came into the limelight on Wednesday they attract little attention.

The exception in the present instance is that of the case of child-neglect, in which a husband and father was sent to state's prison for from one to seven years. The case was a flagrant one, and the accused had not one word to offer in mitigation of his shameless desertion of the helpless ones dependent upon him. It is gratifying to observe that in these latter years the law is coming to deal more severely with the human brute who fails to provide for the wife and the little ones to whom he is bound by every tie of human decency if not of regard. The mental picture of a penitentiary sentence before the man who is wilfully derelict in this regard ought to have a benificent influence, since his very course establishes the fact that he is deaf to the appeal of conscience.

Another Indiana state tax conference is to be held at Indianapolis early in December, when our present system of taxation will be discussed once more. Past experience, however, has shown that it is extremely difficult to make any sort of progress toward that millenial day when tax-paying becomes so easy that it will constitute an enjoyable recreation, in Indiana or elsewhere. But let us hope, let us hope.

The yellowed tips of two fingers of the right hand of the culprit convinced an Indianapolis judge that the delinquency of a young man arraigned before him had been due to indulgence in cigarettes. It must be admitted that evidence of this sort is extremely difficult to get away from. The mark of the cigarette is an ever-present attestation of its debasing enslavement.

Since the election, it is declared, the police at Kokomo have begun a crusade of law-enforcement. That it was not instituted before election day is one of the interesting peculiarities of modern political methods that has become so generally accepted that it excites neither surprice nor comment as a rule.

Japan, dispatches say, joined America in prayers for world peace on the date set by President Wilson for devotional appeal for the termination of histilities. There is no evidence, however, to show that our honorable oriental neighbors stopped fighting while they prayed.

Neighborhood gossip is credited with having caused the suicide of an Elkhart county farmer—and everybody will admit that the ordinary brand of it is bad enough to do it, all right.

(Pittsburgh Dispatch.)

David Starr Jordan, in a talk before the Chicago City club, described the arbitration agreements which the Washington administration is negotiating with many nations as "cooling-off treaties." He meant by that to convey the idea that while arbitration treaties do not guarantee the makers against war, they perform an important purpose in securing the deliberation that in the majority of cases operates to prevent the resort to arms.

It is, of course, indisputable that to impose on all nations a period of deliberation before proceeding to the argument of force will be valuable, if more cannot be done. But since the case of the demand of Austria on Servia is used to illustrate this point, it is pertinent to say that the disregard of treaties by combatants in the present war gives little reason to hope that these treaties will be effective if nations get into the belligerent spirit that produced the European combat.

It is suggested that when the European war is over the United States should directly urge the belligerents, as well as to give them the example, to provide that a longer interval shall be interposed between the joining of diplomatic issues and the opening of conflicts. We believe that when Europe ends this war it will be ready to go much further than that. The United States should certainly prepare for going further. We think the opportunity is excellent to establish a Pan-American international court, in which all or, at least, the chief American nations should join, declaring for the settlement of all international issues by the decision of an impartial court, the union of all American nations to enforce the finding of such courts, the principle that no American nation shall engage in war except as the result of an arbitration and the pledge of all to defend any one of their number that is attacked without submitting the issue to an international court. This should be based on declarations of international law which should prohibit wars of conquest in this hemisphere, discourage if not actually forbid the naval collection of bad debts and establish the principle recently promulgated by Naon of Argentine that "victory confers no rights."

If America should put this hemisphere upon such a basis of peace and reason, it would probably soon gain important European adherents. If it did not, it would result in growth and progress for America, while Europe sank deeper into militarism.

WANTED—A CURE.

The plague among cattle of foot and mouth disease, known to the scientists as aphthous fever, epizootic aphtha, and eczema epizootica, finds no known remedy to prevent contagion, which has spread over broad areas of the United States. Many states, from Connecticut to Iowa, and including New York, have been quarantined against the export of cattle, sheep and swine; in these states, but for the energetic work of the public health authorities, the disease might have spread to human beings. The blisters which it causes in the mouth and nasal passages and the crippling of the feet are not usually fatal; the animal under hygienic treatment may get well. Meanwhile it is a menace in its neighborhood. For this reason the government inspectors have ordered every affected animal to be shot and buried in quicklime.

Dr. Theobald Smith, of Harvard, who, last May, accepted the directorship of the new department of animal pathology of the Rockefeller institute, would confer a great boon on mankind and upon the animal kingdom by finding the cause of this scourge. The discoverer of the parasite that causes the Texas fever of cattle by transmission through ticks, Dr. Smith, was the first scientist in the world to prove the theory of insect carriers of disease. He has done epoch-making work in proving that the bovine type of tubercle bacillus is dangerous to man. Research, such as he is intent upon, has permitted the conquest of anthrax, another scourge of cattle and sheep; of the contagious pleuro-pneumonia of cattle, and better control of glanders, rabies and hog cholera. Aphthous fever may yield to patient study, which has detected the subtle causes of other plagues of animals.

NOTED BARITONE DRIVES TAXICAB

Paris, Nov. 12.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Poor dramatic artists unqualified for roles in the theater of war are among those who feel most the rigors of martial law. One of the baritones of the Opera Comique is driving a taxicab. Others have been driven to seek the most menial occupations. During the first days of the war many of those artists were allowed to sing in the streets, and really good artists were heard in the courts of apartment buildings, but on account of the crowds they drew this means of eking out an existence was forbidden.

One familiar with the night life of Paris would hardly seek patriotic emotions at that music hall to which the "can-can" gave a certain notoriety, and yet this place until recently closed was nightly the scene of impressive incidents characteristic of the few distractions the city offers. All amusements, if they may be so called, are censored to the feeling of the moment.

At the music hall in question the orchestra struck up the Marseillaise. A tall Algerian rifleman rose from a front seat. His right hand was in a sling and it seemed to embarrass him. He hesitated an instant and then his left went up in an impressive gesture to his red fez. While he stood there "at attention" a little trooper in the blue-red trimmed Belgian cap clapped his hands, jumped to his feet and saluted. The entire audience was up then and the theater resounded with the inspiring strains of the battle hymn.

When the last notes died away the ceiling rang with applause, but above the din cries were heard of "La Brabanconne! La Brabanconne!" A big tear rolled down the cheek of the little Belgian trooper as he listened to his national anthem, but neither he nor the Algerian rifleman moved a muscle. They stood there "at attention" until the English and Russian hymns had been played, until the lights faded and the moving pictures appeared on the screen.

Moving pictures are ruthlessly cut out whenever they strike a lighter vein than prescribed by the authorities, and, for the same reason, have failed the feeble attempts that have been made to bring the cafe-concert back to life.

Orchestral concerts are allowed, but they too must conform to the regulations and the programs invariably include the patriotic airs of the allied nations, military marches, marching songs and generally such familiar airs as call up elevated sentiments. German compositions are rigorously barred.

In spite of the small number of evening entertainments the audiences are not large and they are chiefly made up of foreigners remaining in Paris. Their attitude, for the most part, is dignified; in the rare cases where they have failed to be so the place has promptly been closed.

When Croup Comes Treat Externally

The old system of dosing delicate little stomachs with nauseous drugs and opium syrups is wrong and harmful. Try the external treatment—Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Croup and Pneumonia Salve. Just rub a little over throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth. The warmth of the body releases vapors of Pine Tar, Menthol, Thymol, and Eucalyptol, that loosen the choking phlegm and ease the difficult breathing immediately. One application at bedtime insures a sound night's sleep. Vick's is better than internal medicines for all forms of cold troubles. Three sizes—25c, 50c and $1.00.

MAKE WAY FOR THE HOOP-SKIRT; IT'S COMING AND IT'S FOUR YARDS WIDE.

We are slowly but surely going back to the old-fashioned hoop skirts. The new "cape" skirts are circular in form and at least four yards around the bottom. Some of these are formed by godets which run up to the hip and others have the fullness only at the sides from a wide yoke.

Of necessity these skirts are very short. Some of them being eight and ten inches from the ground.

Fur will be very much worn this winter. And a black velvet skirt trimmed with marten or monkey fur, if you can afford it, will put you in the foremost brigade of fashion.

A white broadcloth gown with rows of graduated black velvet ribbon brings a decided remembrance of great-grandmother's time. A black velvet sash on this gown, with a soft chiffon blouse makes a very picturesque costume.

Up to date, under all the wide skirts there is always a narrow one, but one can safely promise that this will be dispensed with before the winter is over.

As is the case with wide short skirts, high French heels will be the only kind worn.

Who worries about the "beef famine" when there's a savory mutton pie on the table, and who pays "war prices" for sirloin steak when good "Montana steak" may be had for half the money

Since the methods of feeding, slaughtering and storing mutton have been improved, mutton ranks with beef in flavor and in tenderness and it is rapidly taking the place of beef as an article of daily diet.

BY A FOOD EXPERT.

Mutton and Tomato Pie.

An excellent way to use cold mutton is to bake it with tomatoes, using alternate layers of tomatoes and meat. A tomato sauce may be used or the following method may be employed: Place in a baking dish a layer of fresh tomatoes or of cooked tomatoes which have been either drained or reduced in volume by boiling. Add a layer of meat, dredge with flour, salt, and pepper, and add small bits of butter until the materials are used, arranging to have a layer of tomatoes on top. Cover this with a layer of buttered bread crumbs or cracker crumbs and bake until the crumbs are brown. In following this method use tomato, butter, and flour in the correct proportions for tomato sauce, i. e., two level tablespoons each of butter and flour for each cup of tomatoes.

Montana Steak.

One pound lean mutton free from bone, one egg, one-half cup milk, one teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, few drops onion juice.

Chop the meat finely, add the other ingredients, form into small cakes, and either broil or fry them. While this dish is more delicate if the egg and milk are used, it can be made without them. In this case it resembles very closely hamburg steak as it is ordinarily prepared from beef. It may be made with or without onion.

HOW TO PEEL OFF A WEATHERBEATEN FACE.

Its really a simple matter to renovate a faces soiled by dirt, wind or cold. Ordinary mercolized wax, used like cold cream, will transform the worst old complexion into one of snowy whiteness and velvety softness. It literally peels off the outer veil of surface skin, but so gently, gradually, there's no discomfort. The wornout skin comes off, not in patches, but evenly, in tiny particles, leaving no evidence of the treatment. The younger, healthier under-skin forming the new complexion is one of captivating loveliness. One ounce of mercolized wax, to be had at any drug store, is enough to remove any coarse, chapped, pimpled, freckled, faded or sallow skin. Apply before retiring, washing it off mornings.

Many skins wrinkle easily with every wind that blows. An excellent wrinkle remover, because it tightens the skin and strengthens relaxed muscles, is a wash lotion made as follows: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, one-half pint. This gives immediate results.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Fiske O'Hara in His New Play at Majestic Tonight.

Irish fun galore, lashins of love making and lilting songs are important component parts in the makeup of Fiske O'Hara's new play, "Jack's Romance," which will be presented at the Majestic tonight by the famous singing star and his excellent company of players. The story tells how a younger son of a noble Irish family after a number of years' absence in Canada, returns to Ireland to visit the brother from whom he parted in anger. The return is fraught with a number of exciting incidents, among which is an encounter with a highwayman who has just held up a coach in which the fair Lady Constance Butler was riding to visit the family of the hero's brother, a struggle with a mob who have taken him for the knight of the road and are anxious to make an example of him, and the bringing of the aforesaid robber, who proves to be the secretary of his brother.

"For the Love of Mike," Saturday.

During the past few years there have been a great many big musical shows put out by various producers. The Cartoon Show seems to be the latest fad. "Mutt and Jeff" has been out on the stage and now a great big comedy musical extravaganza has been made out of Bud Fisher's Cartoon Series "For the Love of Mike." There isn't anything serious in the play. Oh, dear, no! Just a barrel of fun, frolics and catchy songs and dances, handed over the footlights by bright dashing comedi-ennes and funny active comedians, with a chorus of dainty loveable sprightly chorus girls for a background, whose dainty feet tinkle in the entrancing music written by that peer of musical composers, Hilding Anderson. "For the Love of Mike" is a great big fun proposition which the producer, John Nicholson, has gathered together with the assistance of Bud Fisher.

"For the Love of Mike" will be seen at the Majestic on Saturday matinee and night.

"SMART FOOLING" ONE OF TEMPLE'S MANY FEATURES

"Smart Fooling," the vaudeville gem in which Johnny O'Connor, the celebrated comedian, has been scoring such immense hits, is one of the many features on the bill at the Temple that opened this afternoon to the usual capacity Thursday afternoon house. With O'Connor in this sketch are Willing, Bentley and Willing, comprising a quartet of funmakers that it will be a delight to see and hear. Don Mullaley in the pet creature of his own brain, a sketch that he considers his premier literary achievement, will be another bright spot. This sketch, "Miss Thanksgiving," will be presented by Mullaley, and Earl Pingree and Marjorie Dalton. There's something compellingly amusing about two big confessedly fat girls with a contagious sense of humor and in the half ton of comedy and song, McManus and Don Carzlos, the Temple has some huge bunch of laughs. The huge young women have just as much fun out of their work as the highly amused audiences.

The Cycling Brunettes, the sensation of last season at the Temple, finally have been secured for a return engagement and Fort Wayne lovers of daring acrobatic tricks are in for another big treat as these bicycle riders stop at nothing in their efforts to spring something no other team would even attempt. Delmar and Delmar, the spectacular aerialists, will be seen in their sensational act.

For the afternoon calls which Milady makes on a cool autumn day the Paris designers have devised a beautiful cape-like wrap of velvet—velvet so soft and rich that it looks like moleskin.

The front of the coat is gathered into a wide girdle richly embroidered in beads; the back falls in the graceful folds of a cape. The fashionable skunk fur trims cuffs and collar.

AT THE EMPRESS.

This afternoon marked the opening at the Empress theater of the new bill for the last half of the week and on this bill are a number of absolute novelties and a number of acts which should certainly be a big and decided hit in Fort Wayne. William A. Weston and company with a different sort of an act, head the bill. The Ernest Pantzer troupe of comedians, acrobats and pantomimists are also numbered among the features and the other acts on this bill are "The Criminal," a protean drama; Arthur Hartley and Ruth Pecan in a delightful song and comedy number and David Kalecken, a Hawaiian musician of merit. Fine motion pictures will be shown in the Empresscope and will complete the bill.

THE ORPHEUM.

"PEG O' THE WILDS."

Violet Mercereau, Charming Ingenue, Starred in Epic Mountain Country.

Dainty Violet Mercereau, she of the roguish mannerisms and contagious smile, comes to the Orpheum today in a dramatic idyl of the mountain country that brings to light every one of those multitudinous charms possessed by this bewitching figure, and incidently introduces us to several new phrases of the versatile art manifested by this little artist. The story itself is an ideal one, in which to display those same charms, telling entrancingly of "Peg" the wild, untamed creature of the mountains, who has been brought up without knowledge of the world or the men beyond the horizon of her forest-covered home. She knew nothing of love, except the affection she held for her half-witted; but one day, into the mountains came a man from the outer world, he met "Peg," and after that her mode of life changed.

The other number on this unusually good program is an amusing comedy supplied by the Sterling company, and labeled, "The Dog Raffle." The musical end will give us one of the Sousa marches during the first intermission, while the second will introduce the latest Von Tilzer successes, "Way Down East Tonight." Miss Lyon's will be heard in Victor Herbert's melodious "Gypsy Love Song."

Never a day goes by but what the daily newspapers tell us of some new atrocity being perpetuated in the European theater of war; of some new graves being dug, of some new widows being made, and of homeless children being deprived of their father.

But there is another medium of information that never fails to impress even the most ignorant with the terrible significance of warfare, and of the still more terrible results of warfare as it is waged in these later days. It is the motion picture camera. It reflects with brutal clearness every phrase of the titanic strife of the warring nations, of the suffering and the misery occasioned, it brings us into the fatherless homes and into the shambles of hospitals. It sweeps over the fields harvesting a picture of desolation; of the loam fertilized with the seeping blood of the dying and dead soldier. It tells us with eloquent silence of the mighty battles being waged, of the men being torn and shattered by the bursting shrapnel and being punctured by the speeding rifle bullet. "Lay Down Your Arms" is an outcry against the present war. It is a supplication to the people of America. It is a mighty protest to Europe.

AT THE LYRIC.

The La Fronte Sisters, a dainty and entertaining girl team of singers and dancers, are headlining the bill that opened at the Lyric this afternoon to run the remainder of the week. Don Austin, comedy cartoonist, and the Rodiquez Duo, in a comedy acrobatic act complete the vaudeville program. Our Mutual Girl is to be seen at the Lyric again this evening in another of her interesting adventures. "Sweet and Low," an interesting picture woven round Tennyson's lullaby and the Keyson comedy, "Curses, He Remarked," are two other big picture features on this bill. "Sweet and Low" tells the story of a broken old man's return from a vain quest for gold to find his daughter grown up and gone. He finally locates the young woman through a little child's unknowingly leading her grandfather to her home.

Mme. Sullivan, demonstrator of the Goodwin Corset, will be at Miss Kiefer's Beauty Parlors, 222 W. Berry, November 12th and 13th. All ladies are cordially invited to receive a trial fitting with no obligations to purchase. 11-2t

If there are little folks in the family who carry lunches to school be sure and put up plenty of apple butter. It will satisfy their love for sweets and it will have none of the ill effect that some of the over-sweet preserves have.

This is a good recipe for apple butter. It may be made of sweet apples or half sweet and half sour. Boil a gallon of sweet cider to one-half of its original quantity. Fill the kettle in which the cider was cooked with sliced apples, and turn the cider over them. It is not necessary for the cider to cover the apples; but there should be enough to keep them from sticking to the kettle.

If preferred, the butter may be spiced. In this case allow a teaspoonful of cinnamon, clove, nutmeg or allspice to each gallon of the sauce, adding when nearly done; or several of these seasonings may be combined if preferred.

Apple butter should be stirred almost constantly toward the end of the cooking; a flat paddle is best for this.

The butter may be cooked in the oven or in a fireless cooker, as the long, slow cooking with no danger of burning lightens the housekeeper's labors very appreciably.

At Foster's they give you quality and save you money.

Moving of the Mary Schneider grocery from the end of High street at its intersection with Sherman street preparatory to opening the latter thoroughfare through to Pape avenue, on which work was started Thursday morning is the first step toward securing a bridge over St. Mary's avenue to connect with Jackson street which it is proposed to extend.

This also contemplates track elevation at the Nickel Plate railroad and the proposition is taken up in lieu of the Barthold street proposition which was under consideration a few years ago and which was abandoned on account of the difficulties it presented.

Bloomingdale for some years has sought an outlet that afforded better facilities than Van Buren street for the territory west of Wells street and with Sherman opened through to the river the plan will become feasible, it is believed, and it will be submitted to the county commissioners after the construction of the bridge at Harrison street, which is the next to be constructed.

City Hall Sewage.

Chairman Frank Singrey, of the board of public works, is of the opinion that the sewage of the city hall is not sufficient and the matter probably will be taken up by the board with a view of finding and applying a remedy.

The stench in the cell rooms and in the city court room is very offensive and unhealthy and has been for a number of years and this Mr. Singrey believes is due to insufficient sewage. The matter has not taken form, but an investigation will determine what action is deemed necessary.

Board of Works Routine.

At its meeting Thursday night the board of public works will have before it for confirmation assessment rolls for sidewalks on west side of Lillie from Lahmeyer street to Zaumer's subdivision; for paving Maumee avenue from Sidney street to the city limits; for paving Oneida street from Lake to Rivermet; for St. Mary's avenue from Breckenridge street to Archer avenue; paving Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana portion of Calhoun street from Wallace street to Creighton avenue; for cement sidewalks on both sides of Hurd street from Gay to Thomas.

Mayor Takes Issue.

Before he left for Philadelphia on Wednesday evening, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Jean, Mayor W. J. Hosey stated that he took issue with City Attorney Colerick on the opening of a walkway at the foot of Boone street under the Lake Erie tracks. He said that if the walk is established it will be a public highway and that it must be paid for by assessment against the benefited property.

Mr. Colerick stated the night before at the Nebraska school that the improvement would have to be paid for out of the general fund except the amounts agreed upon by the railroad company and the Wayne Knitting mills. John Wessel, of the lighting department, has also gone to Philadelphia.

Report on Contagion.

Eighty-eight cases of contagion—seventy-five of diphtheria and thirteen of scarlet fever—have been reported to the board of public health since the opening of the school term in September. The diseases appeared in twenty-nine homes where children attended parochial schools. Cases were reported from ten homes having no children in school. Secretary J. H. Gilpin has sent another warning to teachers and parents that the moment a child becomes ill a doctor should be consulted or the child sent to the board of health office for examination. The following list shows the number of homes quarantined for diphtheria, classified as to schools: St. Paul's Lutheran, 1; Miner, 0; Hamilton, 3; St. Patrick's, 11; St. Augustine's, 1; J. H. Smart, 4; Bloomingdale, 2; Hanna, 3; St. Peter's, 3; Franklin, 1; Rudisill, 1; Zion's Lutheran, 19; Cathedral, 1; Nebraska, 1; Precious Blood, 3; Washington, 1. The scarlet fever cases were distributed as follows: Hamilton, 1; St. Augustine's, 1; Bloomingdale, 2; Hanna, 1; St. Peter's, 1; Rudisill, 1; Clay, 1.

COFFROTH PICKS ONE FINE LEMON

San Francisco, Nov. 12.—"Yes, it's a great game," said James Coffroth, greatest sporting promoter in the world. "It has its humor and its tragedy as well."

"One of the most humorous as well as most tragic affairs that ever happened during my thirteen years' experience in the boxing game was the famous fiasco that the Burns-Squires bout developed into.

"In my time I have promoted something like fifty championship boxing contests, some of which the public and the press were kind enough to declare classics, but I think the greatest lemon that I or anyone else ever pulled was this Burns-Squires match. And it was no fault of mine.

"After Jim Jeffries retired as the undefeated heavyweight champion of the world and Tommy Burns was, after a series of elimination contests, given Jeffries' title, the problem arose as to who would be a fit opponent for the stocky Canadian.

"Finally Bill Squires was produced. The great Squires, he was called—undefeated champion of Australia, who had knocked out something like thirty-two men. Now, any man who can knock out thirty-two men, even if they be duds, is to be reckoned with. Therefore when Squires landed in San Francisco in 1907 for his Fourth of July battle with Tommy Burns he was hailed by the press as something of a pugilistic colossus.

"And Squires, I must admit, carried the pose well. During his training he fooled all the sporting experts, myself included. His muscular development was marvelous and the way he handled himself when he worked was truly remarkable.

"The newspapers boosted the contest as the greatest battle in the history of the ring. I made the greatest preparations in the way of arrangements that were ever put over for a bout. There was the keenest kind of bidding for the privilege of the motion pictures for, because of the advertising the papers had given the fight and also because it loomed as the greatest proposition that had confronted the sporting world, the movies promised to have an unprecedented run.

"Besides, the three greatest men of pugilism — Champion Burns, Challenger Squires and Jeffries, who was going to referee, were to be assembled in the ring at one time!

"Came then the contest. The crowd could scarcely wait through the preliminary matches. There was constant clamoring for Squires. When the burly Australian finally stepped through the ropes he was given a tremendous ovation. Men flung their hats in the air and literally went wild, for was not this the invincible leviathan of sportdom the man who had knocked out thirty-two men?

"After the introduction came the instructions and then the clang of the gong. The men stepped to the middle of the ring. Burns in his characteristic crouch and Squires grim and determined. I glanced down for an instant to light a cigarette and when I looked up the fight was over! Sprawled on the clean white mat lay the unconscious invincible Squires, the man who had knocked out thirty-two men, and the referee was tolling off the fatal seconds that sent him to fistic oblivion. A single punch had shown Bill Squires to be a lemon!"

While the editor of the sporting department of The Sentinel has never staked a claim to any great amount of baseball acumen, as evidenced by the fact that he has spent his time giving more or less expert advice through these columns instead of becoming a magnate and reaping a harvest of silver simoleons, readers of these columns will recall that for a number of years it has been argued that until a better ratio between gate receipts and expenditures had been established the minors could not expect to put the game on the same basis as other legitimate amusement enterprises.

In face of the proof that has been patent to the most casual observer the Central league owners, in compon with those in other minor organizations, have made the game a gamble and have lost often enough to furnish ample evidence that the odds were always against them and that at the salaries being paid only one or two clubs could expect to make money.

At Omaha the members of the National Association of Minor Baseball leagues on Wednesday agreed upon a sweeping salary reduction. This is the most rational action the organization has taken in many moons. The contention that a baseball player is worth just as much as he can draw at the gate has been advanced time and time again in support of the assertion that players have been receiving too much money.

One of the most disastrous years in baseball was necessary to prove this or rather to bring home the proof to the men who have been paying the bills. The establishment of the Federal league, which had no very harmful effect on Class B and the lower leagues except to destroy the market for young players, was not needed to open the eyes of the club owners.

Take the Central league since its organization about ten years ago. Look the records over carefully and see if in any year more than three teams have gotten as good as an even break. These, of course, were the pennant winners and the runners-up.

If in these ten years the teams had been maintained at salaries that would have insured every club at least an even break with profits to those finishing well up in the race thousands and thousands of dollars would have been saved, the league would have been on a sound financial basis and one bad year would not have entailed losses that are impossible to recoup.

During every playing season the owners have made up their minds that they would keep their payrolls within the amount received from the patrons. Right on top of these resolutions they have met in the winter and have gone along in the same old way each succeeding year and have lost.

Reduced salaries will not cheapen the sport or entail inferior baseball. Players have always gotten their salaries whether the owners made a cent or not. Baseball, which is a law unto itself, has rigorously compelled the payment of salaries and the rulings of its highest tribunals have been inviolable and that owner who refused to abide by them has been cased out of the game.

Ball players are going to make an awful howl, refuse to sign, tell that they can make as much money at something else and then sign and play the same kind of ball they have been playing right along.

Salaries in the Central league for a number of years have been ranging from $500 a month to managers with $150 as the minimum for the players. They have not earned it. Why?

Simply because their efforts have not drawn enough people to pay what they were being paid. No employe in other lines has ever drawn for a period of ten years more than his earning capacity. All have been required to show results with the single exception o the ball player.

Every man is entitled to pay commensurate with what he produces and there never has been any contention that salaries should be cut to increase the profits of the owner at the expense of the men behind the guns. It has been contended that it is better for the game to continue at salaries that will insure its permanency rather than that it should fall because the pay rolls were greater than the gate receipts.

Once upon a time it was held that baseball was a quasi public institution and that the presence of a team in a city was a great advertising medium and civic pride has been called to the rescue. Apparently this was false sentiment.

Business men are hard to convince nowadays that they should reach down in their ockets year ater year to maintain ball clubs for the advertising benefit received.

None of them has ever been called upon in Fort Wayne to do this as Claude H. Varnell has sustained any loss that has occurred since he became owner of the local club. He has been game and has stuck to his guns and has not grumbled but this has not been the case in other cities.

If it is found after a trial that even at reduced salaries the game cannot be sintained then there is but one conclusion—the public does not want baseball and it would be wore than foolish for any man or set of men to insist on supplying it.

INITIATING A CANDIDATE INTO THE CONGO LODGE NO 23, DUGAN CLUB.

Are you a Dugan?

Or, perhaps you never heard of the Dugans. If not, now is the time, for, unless you are enrolled as a Dugan in good standing, pretty soon you'll belong to the minority.

The Dugans are, perhaps, the oldest society ever organized and in the world of sport not to be a Dugan is to have overlooked a chance to join the elect. There are today about 300,000 persons scattered all over the world who will answer the salutation of a brother Dugan.

There are lodges in Manila, in Ceylon, in India, in China, Japan and in almost every city and town in America.

The society was started as a joke among the good fellows who used to "hang" out around Malachi Hogan's place in Chicago. Bill Dorgan, then as now, was one of the leading spirits in the crowd.

There was a song that was a favorite at Hogan's that was called "What did Dugan do to him?" It was not the official song. There were others that outranked it. For instance, "Whin Hogan Paid the Rint," "There'll be Murdher Here Tonight" and others made famous by Tom Hanlon, Smiley Corbett and others of the old gang.

It became the custom to initiate actors, newspaper men and others who came to Hogan's into the "Dugan" club and the motto was:

"Once a Dugan, always a Dugan."

Little by little the Dugans grew; the membership being chiefly among actors, sporting men, newspaper writers and the men around town; politicians and night owls. After Hogan's place ceased to be and Hogan was dead, Dorgan went to Stillson's, then the meeting place of the newspaper men, and extended the membership, and when Charles A. Comiskey came to Chicago Dorgan became one of the wildest followers of the White Sox.

The Dugan club had grown until there were perhaps 2,000 members in Chicago, but when the baseball fever struck them they began proselyting. The ceremony of initiation was a simple one. The "candidate" was led into the place where President Dorgan presided, and holding up one hand, bowed his head while Dorgan recited the pledge:

He would recite solemnly and with much emphasis:

"We visit the sick.

"We bury the dead.

"We care for the widows and orphans.

"And root for the White Sox."

Then a rap on the head concluded the ceremony and a new Dugan became active.

Dorgan recently received a letter from Fanay, P. I., telling of a new lodge there with thirty members. The one at Manila has more than 300 members. One of the crowning triumphs of the world's tourist ball clubs was when Sir Thomas Lipton was installed as a Dugan, charter member of the lodge at Singapore.

SALE OF CUBS A PART OF COMPACT

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Sale of the Chicago club of the National league to Charles Weeghman, owner of the Chicago Federal league club was expected to be made here today as a part of "peace" plan between organized baseball and the Federadl organization. A conference arranged by August Herrmann, of Cincinnati, Chairman of the National baseball commission was to be attended by Mr. Weeghman and George Ward, one of the owners of the Brooklyn Federal league club. Charles P. Taft, owner of the Chicago Nationals, also was expected to participate in the meeting.

The "peace plan," according to report, involves the purchase of the Chicago Nationals by Weeghman, who proposes to remove the home of the combined organization to the Federal league park on the north side of the city.

In accomplishing peace President Gilmore, of the Federal league, said that his organization is willing to consider transferring certain franchises, but no deal will be consummated which calls for the elimination of the Federal league from the baseball world. It was organized to become a major league, President Gilmore said, and the Federal league in name and standing must continue.

INDIANA HAS ANOTHER TOUGH ONE.

Here's the latest Hoosier hitter. He's Jimmy Anderson and he comes from Indiana, where so many hard hitting boys have been given their start in the ring. In a record of sixty-four battles this lightweight has only lost one decision, and that was an unpopular one. He's going to fight Goats Doig in LaSalle, Ill., Thanksgiving day, and then hop to New York, where he is wanted for Willie Beecher. He's under the wing of Joe Sullivan, the Chicago manager, and is tough enough to fight every week.

Auto Craze and Dislike of Ira Thomas Said to Have Hurt Macks

Philadelphia, Nov. 12.—Although it is more than a week since the fans learned first of the asking by Manager Mack of waivers on Bender, Plank and Coombs, gossip concerning the whys and wherefores of this move has not yet subsided. Followers of the national game are still discussing the unlooked for event and wondering what will become of the players. At the same time they are guessing as to what other moves will be made by Manager Mack in his determination to start out next season with a clean slate. Mack is not the only magnate who is getting tired of "temperamental stars."

Connie has a champion in his own league when it comes to desiring the players to get back to business and put their minds on the game instead of outside pleasures. President Somers, of the Cleveland club, says that he is also tired of star players. He says he had his fill of them last season, when on some days it was almost impossible to get into the park at Cleveland because of the automobiles of the players standing outside the grounds. If the Naps had "automobilitis" any worse than the White Elephants then they must be world's champions in this respect.

During the world's series Jack Coombs, who has preferred to invest his money in real estate instead of autos, said:

"I often wonder what is going to become of these young players when they begin to slip back to the minors. They are certainly not saving up for a rainy day. The automobile fever has hit our boys hard.

"One afternoon last summer, just before a game, I counted on Lehigh avenue outside of Shibe park no less than seventeen automobiles that belonged to our players. The expense of running those machines must have cut into the salaries of the boys considerably. Then, too, every few weeks one of the boys trades in his car for another one and hands over a bonus to boot. This should be harvest time for our players, but they seem to think that prosperity has no limit."

The automobiles doubtless had a decided effect in taking the minds of the players off their work, but this was only one of the several reasons for Manager Mack deciding upon his house cleaning.

Among the reports in circulation is one that there was friction between Capt. Ira Thomas and the players. For some reason not understood there is said to have been a feeling of animosity towards Thomas by certain of the team from the time that Ira's appointment was announced at Jacksonville last March. One of the stars is reported to have gone through the entire season without speaking to Ira except when absolutely compelled to do so during a game.

San Francisco, Nov. 12.—"There is no doubt but what golf would become the most popular of public sports were sufficient land available within the cities of this country to lay out municipal golf courses," said Miss Edith L. Chesebrough, eminent woman golfer of the Pacific coast.

"But the fact that 120 acres are necessary for a standard course of 6,000 yards rather restricts any benevolent wish of a city government for the amusement of its citizens.

"As a game golf appeals to everyone regardless of age or sex once he has played it. To those who have confining work and small opportunity of outdoor exercise it is a true boon. There is a distinct charm in the companionship it offers without the violence of tennis and many of the other out-door sports.

"For women, it is the finest game played for it does not hold the menace to health with which every other sport is invested, owing to the fact that the very violence of the games is apt to injure irreparably the vitality of those participating."

SOCCER TEAM IS BOOKED TO PLAY

Fort Wayne sport patrons who have any curiosity to see just what soccer football is like, presuming, of course, that the game is too new here to have been properly introduced, can have their curiosity satisfied on Sunday by seeing an Indiana league match at Centlivre park. Indianapolis, beaten at the American association baseball park in its home city several weeks ago, will be on hand to see whether it can do as much for the Knights of St. George as the knights did for it, and as the clubs are evenly matched the game ought to be worth while.

The local club is generaly reckoned as one of the best in Indiana and it has earned the respect of every club against which it has played for the last two years. The game scheduled Sunday will be the first staged here in the way of a public amusement with an admission fee charged, and it probably will draw a good crowd.

MAKING A FIGHT FOR THEIR CHILD

Cleveland and Ethel Fry Each Want Custody of Little One.

Twenty witnesses were summoned to appear in the superior court on Thursday to testify in the divorce suit of Cleveland Fry against Ethel Fry, in which both principals were agreed that the decree of divorce was the minor consideration as each was after the custody of their little girl of four years.

The husband brought suit and charged his wife abandoned him a number of times and told him if he didn't get a divorce she would. She answered with the charge that he neglected her, boasted of his relations with other women, nagged at and cursed her and she could not live with him.

Wants His Money Back.

Ball Dan alleges in a complaint filed in the circuit court against Christ Toni and Christ John that he took a third interest with them in a Macedonian bakery on South Calhoun street, investing all told $1,450.

It is alleged that the two disposed of all of the stock in the concern and turned it into money which they deposited in the First National bank and refused to allow him to share in the profits. He wants his investment returned and the partnership dissolved. Thomas and Townsend represent him.

Cleared Up His Dockets.

In the circuit court on Thursday Judge John W. Eggeman called his civil and claim dockets with a view of clearing them of old cases before the beginning on Monday next of the new term.

Sixty civil cases were disposed of and of this number twenty-five were dismissed for want of prosecution and the others were continued to December 23, when they will be dismissed unless interested attorneys show that they will be tried or dismissed by agreement.

About fifteen claims were dismissed and a number of others set down for hearing and when the new record for the term is made up much less work and expense will be entailed.

Bids Under Advisement.

Members of the board of county commissioners today received bids on the Huntington stone road in Lafayette township and took them under advisement. The bids are as follows:

Brooks Construction company, $24,454.75; Charles W. North, $24,325; Rohr and Williams, $24,444, Snyder and Barnhart, $23,815; Harley Summers, $22,444; Erie Stone company, $23,449; Fred Fuelling, $25,595.55. The contract will be awarded in a few days.

Prisoners Are Sentenced.

Edward Hensler, burglar captured after a chase by Mrs. William L. Berning, whose house he had robbed, has been sentenced in the Allen circuit court to from two to fourteen years in prison on a charge of entering a house to commit a felony.

Chester Mills entered a plea of guilty to a charge of forging and a check for $25 and passing it on H. G. Brown and was given two to fourteen years at the Indiana reformatory.

One to fourteen years was given Harry M. Brown for stealing a horse and Charles A. Butcher drew one to five years for passing a worthless check.

File Expense Accounts.

William T. Jeffries filed an account of election expenses in which he said he expended $13.40 in his race for township trustee. Statements were filed by the following showing they had expended nothing and made no promises:

B. F. Clem, advisory board; Howard Hanthorn, justice of the peace; George Adair, supervisor; Fred W. Moellering, supervisor; L. A. Centlivre, county councilman; H. J. HOW INGLIS LOST PAPERS IN BERLIN

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Charles A. Inglis, the Chicagoan whose American passport was found on the person of Carl Hans Lodye, executed in the tower of London as a German spy, today told how he lost the papers in Berlin. His story implicates the German foreign office and is being investigated by the state department at Washington.

Inglis, who returned to his home here a few days ago after a prolonged sojourn in Europe, was caught in Berlin when the war broke out. He took his passport to the German foreign office to have it approved. He handed it to a clerk, expecting that in due course of routine it would be returned to the American embassy. It failed to reappear, however. At the foreign office he could obtain no trace of it and after considerable delay he got a second document which went through without a hitch and by means of which he was able to leave Germany. Mr. Inglis declined to comment on the matter. The paper contained a description of Inglis which it is also said covered the features of the spy.

Testifies in Big Suit Against the Pullman Company.

Barnes testified that he had been awakened by screams while in a Pullman sleeper on March 2, near Madison, Ind., and that Mrs. Cecil Hill, daughter of Prof. Wm. Hill, formerly of the University of Chicago, declared that a man had forcibly tried to enter her berth. Barnes was arrested at Madison, tried and acquitted.

On cross examination he testified that he was caused great inconvenience, humiliation and expenditure of money in defending himself at the trial. The case is expected to come to a conclusion today.

MINERS RESCUED AFTER FOUR DAYS

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 12.—John Evans and William Schreiner, coal miners who had been imprisoned for four days behind a fall of coal in a mine in which they were working were rescued alive this morning.

The men were engaged in robbing mine pillars when the accident occurred. They were tearing down the inner pillar of a breast when the whole structure collapsed, placing between them and daylight a vast wall of coal, rock and debris.

Mine heads felt sure the men had enough air to last them for days and rescuers worked desperately in an effort to reach the imprisoned comrades, never halting for a minute. While the rescuers worked great excitement prevailed at the mine opening. Hundreds of people, including the despairing families of the two men huddled around in suspense hoping against hope and there was little sleep in the two mining villages in which they lived while the fate of the miners hung in the balance.

INDIANAPOLIS WOMAN WINS.

Mrs. Folsom, Who Opposed Probate of Father's Will, Gets Verdict.

Noblesville, Ind., Nov. 12.—Following a trial of three weeks, the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the John Puckett will case, denying the probation of the instrument. Mrs. Olive A. Folsom, of Indianapolis, a daughter of Puckett by his first marriage, resisted the probation of the will on the ground that her father was of unsound mind when the instrument was executed and that he was also unduly influenced to exclude her in the division of his property.

Puckett was a Tipton county farmer, whose estate was valued at $160,000, consisting mostly of fine farm land. In his will he divided his estate about equally among his six children, with the exception of Mrs. Folsom, to whom he bequeathed only $100. The case will probably be appealed to the supreme court. James Berryhill, of Indianapolis, presided at the trial as special judge.

The act was performed in Fort Wayne, but the affidavit was filed and the case tried in Adams county, where the woman died, and not in Allen county, where the act was done. The doctor did not raise the question of jurisdiction in either the trial or supreme court.

ALL WAITING TO HEAR PRALL

Geneseo, N. Y., Nov. 12.—The probability that Oscar Prall, Henry Siegel's confidential man and treasurer of the Siegel Fourteenth street store in New York would take the stand today, drew a large crowd to the little court room in Geneseo when the trial of the former New York merchant charged with grand larceny, was resumed this morning. It is reported that Prall has turned states' evidence and has been promised immunity if he will reveal the details of the alleged conspiracy which the people claim Siegel and his former partner, the late Frank Vogel, entered into to defraud New York banks.

The morning session was taken up entirely with the cross examination of H. B. Howell, vice-president of the National Bank of Commerce, New York. Judging from present progress the trial is likely to drag along for two weeks.

the belief in Aguas Calientes is that they will remain loyal to Carranza. Benavides was the only member of the commission who returned.

As to Blanco's Attitude.

Uncertainty prevails as to the attitude of Gen. Blanco in command of the troops in Mexico City, but latest reports indicate he may stand by the convention. The governors of the federal district of Mexico and the state of Tamaulipas, Gen. Francisco Mugia and Gen. Luis Cabellero respectively, have telegraphed their repudiation of the convention.

While the leading generals are wavering, telegrams are passing in plot and counter plots.

The point at which the first important clash is liable to come is in the vicinity of Queretaro, where Gen. Pablo Gonzales, who is loyal to Carranza, is stationed with several thousand troops. The loyalty of a large part of his force is doubted and already one report to the convention said many of his men refused to obey his orders. Fighting at Leon, south of Aguas Calientes, was also reported but no details have arrived.

Can Leave Quickly.

The American evacuation of Vera Cruz can be accomplished within 48 hours after President Wilson gives the order.

Everything was in readiness today for bringing Brig. Gen. Funston's 7,000 troopers and 2,500 mariners back from their six months' stay in the Mexican seaport.

Developments of the next few hours will determine whether the troops are to come home and let the Mexican factions fight out their differences, or whether they will remain indefinitely were hinged upon what news comes to the white house and the state department from Mexico. With assurances well accepted that the American conditions for evacuation will be complied with the situation awaited only orders from the white house which Secretary Garrison was ready to hurry through to Vera Cruz where the American forces are ready to break camp and sail for Galveston.

SOME DETAILS OF FIGHT.

When the Emden Met Its Fate on Beach at Cocos Island.

Sydney, N. S. W., Nov. 12.—The naval board here has received details of the fight in which the German cruiser Emden was put out of commission. The Emden arrived at Cocos island and sent armed launches towing two boats ashore. Forty men with three officers and four maxims were landed in fifteen minutes and the landing party smashed the wireless instruments and the engines of the plant.

In the meantime the Australian cruiser Sydney was sighted on the horizon and the Emden immediately put out to sea leaving the landing party, both boats and men behind. The Emden started the firing, her practice at first being excellent, but afterwards it fell off. She lost two funnels and took fire at the stern within an hour while the Sydney was scarcely touched.

The Emden is now ashore north of Keeling island and burning. The captain of the Sydney says he found only thirty men on her. The landing party, having commandeered two months' supplies, left on schooners belonging to the owner of the island. They are still at large.

It appears that the presence of the Emden was made known to the Sydney by wireless from the Eastern Cable company's staff on Cocos island.

RUSSIANS MEET DEFEAT.

Turkish Official Report is Made Public in Berlin.

Berlin, Nov. 10.—(Tuesday) by Wireless—A Turkish official report received from Constantinople and given out today says that the Russians have been completely defeated on the Caucasian frontier after a fight which lasted two days. The positions of the Russians are now occupied by Turks.

A Turkish fleet pursued the Russian ships, which took part in the bombardment of Koslu, on the Black sea, but the Russians escaped in the fog.

However, they were taken under fire by Austrian artillery, which caused terrible losses among the Russian detachment. The battlefield was covered with corpses.

"The Russians were beaten also yesterday in east Galicia, being repulsed in an action between Rosynow and Jablonow.

They will be selected from the lot of repaired locomotives that are now in "white lead" and will be sent to the D., T. — I. immediately.

PAUL HANLEY.

Paul Hanley, gatekeeper at the Lafayette street entrance to the Pennsylvania shop yards, is busy receiving congratulations from the employes and his other friends who pass that way on his arrival at the seventieth anniversary of his birth.

Mr. Hanley was born in Buffalo, N. Y., November 12, 1844, his parents being of Irish descent and citizens of America only a few years. Five years later, in 1849, the father fell victim to cholera, which was epidemic in Buffalo and many other American cities that year. Paul remained at home attending school until he was old enough to learn a trade, when he became an apprentice in a blacksmith shop. He did not like the work, however, and soon quit the shop and took up other employment.

In the summer of 1863, when the civil war was in progress, he went to St. Louis, where, in August, he enlisted in the Fortieth Missouri regiment and immediately went to the front. In the battle at Duck River, Tenn., on November 30, 1864, Mr. Hanley was severely wounded in the left forearm and was sent to the United States hospital in St. Louis. He was honorably discharged from that institution and his regiment May 25, 1865, and a few days later he started for Fort Wayne, arriving in the city June 1. On the same day he took employment as a teamster with Olds & Hanna, who had just put a fine two-horse wagon into service, the first the firm owned, and remained with the company in that capacity about eighteen months. Olds & Hanna were engaged in the manufacture of hubs and spokes and were among the prominent manufactures of the day.

In the latter part of the year 1866, Mr. Hanley secured a position as brakeman on the Pennsylvania local freight between this city and Valparaiso, which was in charge of Conductor Marion Trimble and Engineer William Timmis. He continued in the train service until 1880, when he fell off the front end of engine 170 while making a switch at Warsaw, was dragged a considerable distance and severely hurt. Engineer William Timmis was at the throttle of the engine at that time. Mr. Hanley was in the hospital many weeks as the result of that accident and was not able to work for about eighteen months.

When he recovered sufficiently to work, the company made him the foreman of the coal docks, which were located on ground now occupied by the round house. All the fuel at that time was handled by hand and Mr. Hanley frequently had a force of fifty to sixty men. He was foreman of the docks twenty-one years, or until they were torn down and the present docks erected. Then he went to the round house and assumed a gang foremanship. Nine years ago, after being sick some months with little prospect of immediate recovery, Mr. Hanley was called to the shops in his present capacity and has been constantly on duty there since. In accordance with the rules of the company, he will be permitted to work only to the expiration of the month, when he will pass to the "roll of honor," as the pension system is called. Mr. Hanley is a most sociable and genial fellow and has thousands of friends in other circles than railroads. They will make it a point to call around to his headquarters to give him a friendly greeting before the day of his retirement arrives.

870 High St., Oshkosh, Wis.—"When about two months old my nephew had sores break out on different parts of his body. The trouble first began as a rash which itched so at night someone always had his hands even while sleeping as at the least scratching it would run together and form scabs. His night-clothes had to have mittens on them or the scabs would be raw and bleeding by morning. His clothing or the least friction irritated the trouble. His face and scalp were covered. They called it eczema.

"We tried different treatments but none cured him. At three years old we commenced the use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. We could see an improvement after the first month's treatment. It took nearly a year to effect a complete cure and he never had anything like it since." (Signed) Mrs. F. Scofield, Mar. 21, 1914.

This quaint style of the original Kranich & Bach piano of fifty years ago was the standard of its period.

Today the same manufacture of piano has developed into the perfection of the magnificent Player Grand Piano shown in the above view and which we have on display. Come in and see it.

THROUGH the courtesy of Kranich & Bach, the makers, we have the privilege of showing the above views of two pianos made by this celebrated New York firm—one of their original standard square grand pianos of 1865, and the other the height of perfection in hand-operated players, the Kranich & Bach Player Grand. The last-named instrument is on display in our second floor salesroom, and we will take delight in exhibiting its wonderful qualities and features.

An opportunity will also be afforded those who visit us to compare the various makes of player pianos from the factories of many other makers—the A. B. Chase, Henry F. Miller, Kraukauer, Shoninger, Apollo, Schaeffer, Bogart, Norris & Hyde, Brinkerhoff, Laffargue, and others. One great thing we are able to do: Give every visitor an opportunity to inspect and compare the qualities of many of the celebrated makes of instruments, while most dealers confine their lines to but one or a few makes at most.

When you look forward to Christmas, think of a player piano and the lasting joy it will bring to your family.

Officials Prepare to Fight the Hoof and Mouth Disease.

Forms of quarantine notices to be posted when cases of the hoof and mouth disease are suspected in this county were received Thursday by Dr. Van Buskirk, the county health officer. He will meet with the county commissioners Friday morning and arrange for having these notices printed at the earliest possible moment.

Dr. W. F. Meyers, who has been appointed deputy state veterinary inspector, was at Angola Thursday inspecting a herd of cattle suspected of having the hoof and mouth disease.

Notices of Quarantine.

Following is a form for the quarantine notices received from the state veterinarian:

"Whereas, The presence of an infectious and communicable disease knowna as foot and mouth disease now exists in ..... county, Indiana, therefore for the protection of the live stock interests of the state, under authority of an act approved by the governor of the state of Indiana March 6th, 1901, it is ordered:

"1. That all of the county of ..... be placed under quarantine for foot and mouth disease.

"2. The movement of any cattle, sheep, goats or other ruminants or swine, or hides, skins, hay, straw, similar fodder or manure or dressed carcasses of calves, sheep or swine from this county is forbidden.

"3. The movement of any cattle, sheep, goats or swine, fodder, shredders, hay or straw balers, threshers, upon or across any public highway is forbidden, or the exposure of any animal in any open unfenced ground, within the limits of this quarantine area is prohibited.

"4. All farms now under quarantine: The owners are prohibited from moving anything from them until the quarantine is released or modified after infected animals are destroyed and premises disinfected.

"5. No one shall enter upon said quarantined premises except the owner or tenant, and they are required to disinfect and change clothing and shoes before leaving the premises and must not enter upon any other premises where live stock are kept. Children of parents living on infected and quarantined farms where live stock are kept, must not attend public schools or ride in conveyances with other pupils until said farms are released from quarantine or quarantine modified after premises are disinfected.

"6. No carcasses of slaughtered animals shall be removed from any premises upon which live stock are kept unless a permit is issued. No live poultry to be marketed; no milk to be returned to farms from creameries unless pasteurized.

"7. Cabbage, potatoes and other vegetalbes, as well as fruits may be marketed from farms not under quarantine, provided no straw, grass or similar fodder is used in packing them and this applies to any product made or manufactured where the owners use straw, hay or other similar material in packing.

While there are many scares in different parts of the county, no new cases of the hoof and mouth disease have been reported.

There is now much doubt whether the herd of cattle at Maples is really infected. According to Dr. George Gillie, the cattle at Maples have shown no new development and it is expected that within a few days the quarantine will be lifted.

Dr. L. E. Epple, of Cleveland, Ohio, a government veterinarian, arrived in Fort Wayne Tuesday night and left early Wednesday morning. He came in from Angola, where he inspected a herd of cattle suspected of having the disease. No trace of it could be found.

When it was learned Dr. Epple was in the city the Northeastern Veterinarian Medical association held a meeting at the Wayne hotel. The principal address was delivered by Dr. Epple, who spoke on the hoof and mouth disease and hog cholera. Dr. Buckmaster, of Bluffton, was named as president; Dr. Laidlaw, vice president, and Dr. Bungardner, of Angola, secretary and treasurer. On account of the state convention at Indianapolis, December 10, the regular monthly meeting of the Northern association will not be held.

False Alarm.

C. Henry, county agent, was called late Wednesday afternoon to a farm on the Huntington road, to investigate a reported case. He found that one of the cows was suffering with what is known as hoof rot in a light form, which has no connection whatever with the hoof and mouth disease.

The county agent is continuing his tracing of all shipments into the county, as requested by T. A. Coleman, of Purdue university. Dairy companies and creameries have been asked to warn their patrons against the careless feeding of hay shipped into the county. Every possible precaution is being taken by the local authorities to prevent a spread of the disease in this county.

BORN IN ASIA, YANKEE LASS SEES AMERICA FOR FIRST TIME.

Georgia Treasize, most beautiful American girl in the Orient.

San Francisco, Nov. 12.—Nineteen-year-old Georgia Treasize, the most beautiful American girl in the Orient, saw America for the first time when she arrived in this city recently from Japan on the steamer Shinyo Maru.

Miss Treasize is the daughter of W. K. Treasize, manager of the Yokohama Engine and Iron works, who left his New York home thirty years ago to go to Japan, and is now making his first trip home.

Miss Treasize was born and raised in Japan. She is an expert swimmer and dancer. Shortly before the vessel left Japan, the young lady distinguished herself by diving overboard to rescue a doll dropped by a broken-hearted child.

She demonstrated her terpsichorean abilities aboard the vessel by presenting an original dance that the passengers christened the "Shinyo Glide."

"It is wonderful to see one's own country after having pictured it all one's life," declared Miss Treasize. "It is all so beautiful. I love the skies, the trees, the gardens, the water—they are all so different from Japan."

He Treated Cattle Plague Very Successfully in Germany.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Nov. 12.—That the "foot and mouth" disease, which is causing such havoc among stock and dairy men of Michigan, can be cured is the statement of a Calhoun county resident, who claims to have successfully cured cattle thus afflicted in Germany.

He states that while he was engaged in the raising of live stock in his native land, the disease visited his immediate locality, three or four times, and each time it was gotten rid of without very much trouble and with little expense, as the remedy is a simple home one.

First they would quarantine the cattle and then sponge out their mouths with a solution of one part vinegar and the other part salt, at the same time spraying the throat with the same solution. If the case was particularly bad, they would weaken the solution, using it stronger as the ravages of the disease disappear.

As the animal thus afflicted runs a very high temperature, they gave it all the water it could drink and fed it regularly three times a day a mash made of bran, cooked mashed potatoes and oil cake, which acted as a laxative. The feet of the animal were also bathed in the same solution, the bedding was changed and the stable thoroughly disinfected daily.

This mouth-washing and throat-spraying was done three times daily, for about five minutes at a time and in no case did the critter ever refuse to respond to the treatment. Inside of three weeks the cattle could be worked, as they use the cows for farm work in most European countries, and inside of a month a perfect cure would be effected, although it would be several weeks before the German farmers would use the milk of the animal.

This ex-German farmer scoffs at the idea that it is a fatal disease and says he does not remember a single instance where the cattle died or refused to respond to the treatment. He is also authority for the statement that the animal's future health was not affected.

As this is such a simple remedy, it might be advisable to experiment with it. Statistics do not record a very high death rate among cattle suffering with the "foot and mouth" disease, but as the cause and run of the disease is little known in America—it being an absolutely continental-European disease—the federal authorities are taking no chances and as soon as an animal develops symptoms they are immediately destroyed, causing great losses to the producer and adding a very strenuous item to the high cost of living.

LONG LOST GIRL IS FOUND HERE

Relatives Feared Foul Play and Search Was Started.

Fearing that his sister-in-law had met with foul play or had been lead away in some mysterious manner, Sylvester Rauch, a farmer residing on rural route 7, out of Columbia City, came to Fort Wayne Wednesday in what he thought would be a vain search.

After searching the city high and low he thought he would drop in at the office of the Indiana Free Employment bureau, little thinking his visit there would bring forth the desired results. To his surprise he learned the girl had been there only a few hours before and had been given employment with a private family on Thomas street.

Appointed Executrix.

Rauch told an interesting story at the employment bureau's office. Some months ago the father of the girl and her sister, who is Mrs. Rauch, died, leaving a fair sized estate. The mother had died some months previous. According to Rauch the girl was named as executrix. For a time things went along splendidly, but it was noticed that the girl was nervous and wanted to get out in the world for herself. About three or four weeks ago she left home without telling a soul where she was going. Days went by and not a word was heard from her. Both Rauch and his wife became alarmed and finally Rauch determined to make an effort to find her if she was still alive.

The girl had been to the employment bureau's office before but the positions which were available did not meet with her approval until the one offered to her Wednesday. She is about 23 years old and exceedingly pretty and attractive.

NAME ARCHITECT SOON.

Plans Going Ahead for Erection of New Hope Hospital.

At the next meeting of the Hope hospital association an architect will be selected to draw plans for a new building, work on which is to begin early in the spring if the present arrangements are carried out. About $78,000 has been subscribed and between $13,000 and $14,000 has already been paid in. That a new hospital will be built at an early date is certain in the opinion of A. S. Coverdale, the vice president.

During the last few days the committee in charge of the proposed new building has visited the various architects in the city, getting their suggestions. An entirely new building is to be erected, probably on the same site where the present hospital is located.

The Fidelity circle of the King's Daughters met Wednesday at an all day sewing at the home of Mrs. J. H. Cole, of Edgewater avenue, and sewed for the Hope hospital. In all one hundred and forty-two articles were finished which will be given to the institution.

WOMAN'S SUICIDE RECALLS MURDER

Richmond, Ind., Nov. 12.—The death by suicide last night of Mrs. Clara Dayton Maupin, recalls the investigation of the mysterious murder of her husband, Henry Dayton, about four years ago and also the disappearance two years ago of Joseph Schneider, a roomer at the Dayton house. The woman left no note to explain the cause of taking her life. More than four years ago Henry Dayton, disappeared and all efforts of the police and family to find him proved futile.

There were numerous rumors at the time that possibly Schneider might have been instrumental in the leave-taking of Dayton, but police investigations at the time faile dto connect him with the affair.

Two years afterward Schneider disappeared as suddenly as Dayton. Previously to his going away Schneider had attempted to kill himself by severing the arteries of his wrist but failed. Mrs. Dayton told the police that Schneider had given her a sealed letter a few days before his departure and she asserted she did not open until Schneider left.

The letter was turned over to the police and purported to be a confession by Schneider of the murder of Henry Dayton. The letter said that Dayton's body had been buried in the cellar of the house. Policemen with picks and shovels set to work in the cellar and uncovered the skeleton of a man.

Mrs. Dayton declared she had no knowledge of the crime that Schneider's letter confessed. However, she gave testimony before the grand jury which indicted Schneider. Efforts to find Schneider have been in progress for two years, but there has never been a clew to his whereabouts.

Something more than a year ago Mrs. Dayton married a herb doctor named Maupin, but she later separated from him and had been making her home with a married daughter where she died.

DESERTED DOCKS AT GERMAN PORTS

An American Tells of His Visit to Bremen and Hamburg.

London, Nov. 12.—(3:30 a. m.)—The Daily Mail prints an American's account of his visit to Bremen and Hamburg, affording a striking picture of the deserted docks at these ports. He says:

"In Bremen the hotels are deserted but the theaters and cafes are full. There is plenty of evidence of unemployment as shops and business houses are closed and the harbor is silent. The docks at Bremerhaven are crowded with shipping but there is no life there. I was told that transports are there waiting to convey troops to England.

"At Hamburg I found the same listlessness, the same dense lines of shipping in port and deserted wharves. Bread, barley and malt are running short. The government is subsidizing landlords against the loss of their rents. It is not possible to speak English in public owing to the hatred for England. In the harbor I was shown three huge liners transformed by a coat of gray paint and yellow funnels. Soldiers swarming over them proclaimed them to be transports destined for the invasion of England. I was told that the soldiers were forbidden to leave the ships and nobody was allowed to approach them.

"There is great air craft activity in Hamburg. I saw eleven sheds, each said to contain a Zeppelin. There are any number of aeroplanes at the air camp, made up of all types. It was reported there that fifty Zeppelins are being built. A lieutenant in the flying corps told me it was absurd to suppose that the Germans would waste their Zeppelins by single raids on London. The Zeppelins were being kept for the time when the fleet accompanied by the dirigibles would attack the British coast simultaneously. This, however, was not the plan for the present but for the coming spring.

GOSSIP DRIVES A FARMER TO SUICIDE

Moses Dausman, Near Milford, Hangs Himself to Rafters in His Barn.

Warsaw, Ind., Nov. 12.—Moses Dausman, about 50 years of age, a well-known farmer residing two miles west of Milford Junction, took his own life on Wednesday morning by hanging himself from a rafter in the barn. He used anordinary tie strap. His lifeless body was found at 7:30 o'clock by his wife, who went in search of him.

Mr. Dausman got up at the usual time on Wednesday morning and after breakfast, went to the barn to harness his team, explaining to his wife that he intended to do some work on the farm. At about 7:30 o'clock Mrs. Dausman discovered that he husband had failed to feed the pigs, and she went to the barn to see if he was still there. She noticed that the horses were harnessed with the exception of bridles. Upon closer investigation she discovered her husband's lifeless body dangling from a strap in the hay chute. The one end of the strap was fastened to a rafter and the other end encircled his neck.

Stories about him which gained circulation in the neighborhood, worried Mr. Dausman and it is believed caused him to commit suicide. His wife declares that he had threatened to run away and on one occasion he said he believed the best way to get away from it all was to kill himself. He leaves no children.

ACCIDENTAL ASPHYXIATION.

Caused Death of Mrs. Neal Shoemaker in Elkhart.

Goshen, Ind., Nov. 12.—When Neal Shoemaker, night ticket agent at the interurban station in Goshen returned to his home in Elkhart last night he discovered the lifeless body of his wife, after he was forced to break a window in order to gain entrance to his home. The odor of escaping gas explained the cause of her death. She had evidently been dead for several hours. It is thought that death was accidental. A new gas stove had been purchased several days ago and Mrs. Shoemaker had not yet become familiar with its operation.

BRYANT WIFE SUES.

Portland, Ind., Nov. 12.—One of the most sensational divorce suits that has been entered on the records of the Jay circuit court in years was instituted on Wednesday by Mrs. Caroline L. Shull against Guy Earl Shull, of Bryant, where the defendant operates a drug store. They were married on June 5, 1901, and separated November 6, 1914, when Mrs. Shull says she could no longer withstand the treatment accorded her and was forced to leave.

Ladies' Hairdressing in London and Paris

A returned traveler says, "When I was in Europe this year I found both cities so thickly dotted with hairdressing parlors and hair goods stores that I wondered if the women ever had time for anything but care of the hair. Personally I was interested in finding a really good shampoo and was happily surprised when several inquiries each brought the suggestion that our own American made canthrox shampoo is best. I tried it and have decided that it is not advisable to use a makeshift but always use a preparation made for shampooing only. You can enjoy the best that is known for about three cents a shampoo by getting a package of canthrox from your druggist; dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. After its use the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth."

Mr. and Mrs. Goodier were in Papeete when the German cruisers bombarded the French port, demolishing a great portion of the city. Several shells exploded near the consulate and after the battle was over I picked up several pieces of shrapnel that had fallen near and also found fragments on the roof." When their furlough is up, Goodier and his wife will return to their South Sea island post.

RUUTH E. GRIFFIN IN ONE OF HER RHYTHMIC DANCES.

Berkeley, Cal., Nov. 12.—Pantomimic dancing combining the interpretative grace of Isadora Duncan, the spirituelle lightness of La Gal and the dramatic intensity and fire of Pavlowa, is used by Ruth E. Griffin, a coed of the University of California, to express her moods, ideas and appreciation of the beautiful in life.

For five years the talented young student has studied this difficult and fascinating art. She has taken up dancing with the same seriousness shown by the students of law or medicine, although she has not neglected her other studies and is now in her senior year. She plans a further course of study in the east, after which she will go to Europe—provided the war is over.

VOTES OF WOMEN CUT BIG FIGURE

Washington, Nov. 12.—The votes of women evidently played a most important part in the recent election. The results of the campaign conducted by the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage against the democratic party in the nine states where women voted are just beginning to be seriously considered by the democratic politicians.

There were forty-five democratic candidates in the nine states contesting for seats in the new senate and house—eight senatorial candidates and thirty-four would-be representatives. Of this number the democrats succeeded in electing a total of seventeen, while the republicans and progressives took twenty-eight of these seats. The democratic representation from these nine states in the present congress has been sixteen, while the opposition has had twenty-nine seats. This means that the democrats gained one seat in the nine states in question. At first glance this looks as if the women's campaign had been a failure. But down in their hearts the democratic managers acknowledge that the campaign was a success.

Looked at in detail, the result shows up very badly for the democrats. For instance, in Colorado, it was not until November 7—five days after the election—that Senator Thomas knew he was re-elected by the narrowest kind of a squeak. In this state alone the women's plea for assistance helped in wiping out a democratic majority of 45,000 votes; Senator Thomas having been elected by that majority in 1912. The democratic campaign committee in Colorado acknowledged the power of the women's influence when it devoted its last campaign circular issued on the eve of the election entirely to the women's campaign and pleaded with the voters to disregard this issue. In addition, the women defeated one of the democratic congressmen in Colorado and reduced the majorities of the others.

In Oregon, also, the managers for Senator Chamberlain acknowledged the power of the women's vote by devoting the opening paragraphs in their last campaign circular to a plea against the women.

In Arizona, it was not until November 6—four days after the election—that Senator Mark Smith was known to have been elected, so strenuous was the campaign waged against him by the women. In the other states where the women worked the figures show greatly reduced majorities for the democrats who were successful, and almost universal defeat for the democratic candidates who tried to wrest from the republicans and progressives the seats which the latter held.

As the returns are completed, it is seen more clearly that the revolt against the democrats was confined principally to the industrial states of the east, the largest majorities against them being cast in states like New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and the New England states. In the states of the middle west—the farming and grain growing and cattle raising states—the democrats not only held their own but made gains. This is true of Minnesota, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Nebraska. But when it came to the suffrage states, the women were able to prevent approval of the party, by showing its suffrage record, and asking for the defeat of its candidates on the ground that the party in power had refused consideration of the suffrage amendment.

Not the least important phase of the matter is the question of 1916, the presidential year. Two more states have been added to the suffrage column—Nevada and Montana—making seven more seats in house and senate for which women may cast ballots. Montana casts four votes in the electoral college for president and Nevada three. The democratic majority in the house of representatives has been cut to twenty-four, and if the party wishes to retain control of the government, it cannot afford to lose a single vote—woman or man—in these eleven states.

The importance of the situation will be more fully realized by the democratic politicians when they understand that the wonderful fight which the women made this time was the result of a very short campaign, by only two women organizers in each state, with very little money on which to run the campaign. With two years more in which to prepare for a campaign, the women can absolutely assure democratic defeat, if that party persists in refusing to allow a vote on the suffrage amendment. Democratic politicians may be wise enough to see this, and cease party opposition to suffrage; indeed, the democratic members from the eleven suffrage states in question may force the leaders to consider it. They will be able to go to the house leaders and show that their political lives depend upon the result—that further antagonism to the woman's cause will defeat the party in the next election (other things being equal) and that it is the part of political wisdom to act. This, at least, is the prediction of the women, who appear to be well satisfied with the campaign and its results.

HUNDREDS OF FEET UP TO GET GREAT VIEW.

San Francisco, Nov. 12.—Miss Libby Pratt, a visitor at the Panama-Pacific exposition grounds wasn't satisfied with the ordinary view of the immense buildings. She wanted to glimpse the scene as the drifting gulls see it—hundreds of feet above the ground.

And so, rigged in a bo'sun's sling, she was hoisted to the top of the immense Oregon flag pole, rising 232 feet, where the wind swayed her dizzy perch underneath the surmounting golden star.

This staff is said to be the tallest in the world. Besides the 232 feet it extends above ground, nineteen feet of the pole is sunk in a concrete base to support its weight.

Miss Pratt is the first person to reach its top, accomplishing the daring feat without a tremor of fear.

"I never had a more exciting trip in my life," she laughed as she touched earth again.

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sours, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Adv.

To the Hon. Common Council.

Gentlemen I send you herewith a communication from the department of public parks asking for an appropriation of $372.00 to pay for an assessment for the construction of a sidewalk on Maumee avenue against Hayden park.

It is the ruling of the city attorney that such improvements should be paid out of the general park fund, but as this fund is not able to pay for this assessment now and the bill must be paid, I would recommend that the appropriation be made.

Respectfully yours,
W. C. BAADE,

Chicago, Nov. 5. Chicago's "spooney island" apartments may be ready for occupancy in June, and then again they may not.

To go into partnership with Cupid hard cash is as necessary as rose-colored romance. T. L. Reeve, who planned the "Spooney flats" is the exclusive Sheridan road district, counted more on credit than on cash.

Now he's in jail charged with trying to swindle the mechanics who were hired to build the steam heated turtle dove cote, out of their money.

Reeve had heard, so he declares, of cruel landladies who objected to "spooning" in their boarding house parlors and of parents who frowned upon "holding hands" when the lights are low. It was then he rushed to the rescue of Cupid. In his proposed apartments which will occupy one block there will be an artificial lake with an island covered with shrubs, trees and arbors. This will be Cupid's retreat, the place where the romantic young men and women of the apartments may make "dates." That is, if Reeves gets out of jail and resumes building operations.

"THEM BAD BOYS! THEY'RE AT IT AGAIN! THEY'VE BROKE MY WINDOW!"
"JUST AS I SUPPOSED— THEY'VE ALL FLED! BUT THERE'S MY LITTLE BROTHER. MAYBE HE CAN GIVE ME A CLEW!"
"COME, DICKIE, TELL SISTER WHO DID IT."
"WELL, SEEIN' IT'S ONLY YOU, I DONE IT!"
"WELL, SEEING IT'S ONLY YOU, I'LL MAKE SURE THAT YOU DON'T DO IT AGAIN!"

It's Up to You—Sentinel Wants are here—at your service—but "it's up to you" whether or not you realize the most out of them for yourself. If you read them religiously every day you will benefit largely—but you will profit to a much greater extent if you will employ them for your own use. Remember—every day is a good Want Ad day. We have heard folks advance theories in favor of every day from Monday to Saturday—but The Sentinel goes to the same people every day; and many people get many different kinds of results every day. The best way is to insert your Ad with instructions to run every day until you get results. —Phone 173

Keep the House Warm

It costs less to keep a warm house with Tecumseh coal than a half heated house with other kinds. Why? Because we sell you direct from our mines and save you $2 to $4 per ton. This is important to you. Right now. Investigate it.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Wheat tended to rally today because of the absence of any developments that would confirm yesterday's rumors of peace. The opening, which ranged from the same as last night to ½c higher, was followed by a moderate advance all around.

Closing prices were steady at ½c to ⅝c net advance.

The close was firm, ⅝@¾c to ¾@⅞c above last night.

Prospects of unsettled weather strengthened the corn market. After opening ½c to ⅝c up prices steadied near the top reached at the outset.

For Indiana: Rain tonight and Friday.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The storm which has passed down the St. Lawrence valley gave some rain or snow during the last twenty-four hours from northern Michigan eastward to northern New England. A well defined storm is central over eastern Nebraska this morning. As yet it has given no rains over the central states, but cloudy weather has set in over the upper Mississippi valley and the lake region, and some rain or snow is reported from Montana and the Dakotas. A storm in the southwest is giving some rains over Texas.

Moderate temperatures have continued over nearly all sections of the country. Over the Lake Superior region much colder weather is reported this morning.

The western storm will spread eastward and will give rain in this section tonight and Friday. The temperature changes will be slight.

W. S. PALMER, Local Forecaster.

They declared they would hold a mass meeting in Washington Sunday to discuss the question.

Mr. Wilson is understood to have told the committee the question was not a political one and that he would not take it upon political grounds.

ALL BERLIN IS PRAISING EMDEN

Berlin, Nov. 12.—(Via The Hague and London)—11 a. m.—All the morning papers of Berlin unite in publishing articles in praise of the commerce destroying career of the German cruiser Emden, and they declare that her final destruction always had been counted upon. The Emden was driven ashore on the Cocos island by the Australian cruiser Sydney. The Morgenpost says that since the beginning of the world never has a single ship taken part in international warfare with such terrible results.

The decoration of the Iron Cross of the first class has been conferred upon Gen. Hans von Below, who some weeks ago was given the second class decoration of this order for military valor before Namur. Gen. von Below's wife was formerly Mrs. Nina Bryce Turnbull, of Philadelphia.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Nov. 12.—Because Catherine J. Buckles, 18 years, a pretty telephone operator at Columbia City, Ind., kept him fully informed from day to day over the 'phone as to the market chances, and thus enabled him to add to his bank account, Malvin L. Burnworth, 21 year, a farmer living four miles west of that city, concluded she would make a pretty good partner to help conduct his business, with the result that the two came to Kalamazoo late yesterday afternon and were married at the county clerk's office.

"She will be just the kind of a wife I have been looking for," Burnworth told the members of the county canvassing board, who witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Hatch. The young woman 'lowed how she was of the same opinion.

IN THE CHURCHES

Leaders Are Chosen for the Thanksgiving Sunrise Gatherings.

The Associated Christian Workers of Fort Wayne will hold four sunrise prayer meetings on Thanksgiving morning at 7 o'clock in the central, southern, southeastern and eastern sections of the city. The devotional committee has chosen leaders for the meetings and music for all four places.

Following is the program as arranged by the committee:

George W. Monesmith will lead the devotionals at the Third Presbyterian church where the West Creighton Avenue, Simpson M. E. and South Side Baptist societies will meet. Mr. Likens will lead the music.

The Plymouth Congregational, First Baptist, St. John Reformed and Bethany Presbyterian societies will meet at the West Jefferson Street Church of Christ and Miss Lucile House will lead the meeting and Leslie Jacobs will direct the music.

The societies of the Grace Reformed, Crescent Avenue Evangelical and Trinity M. E. churches will gather at the First M. E. church where Jean Drewitt will lead and Marie Monroe will lead in the music.

Agatha Brenizer will be devotional leader and Helen Erwin director of music at the meeting at the St. Paul's M. E. church where the societies of the Calvary United Brethren and the East Creighton Avenue Church of Christ will meet.

This is a new feature of the work of the A. C. W. and much interest is being aroused for these meetings and it is thought that a large number will be present at the early sunrise gatherings.

OVER 25 SEEK BETTER LIFE.

Revivals at Trinity Church Increase in Attendance and Interest.

Since the opening of the revival meetings at the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church Sunday evening between twenty-five and thirty people have sought to lead a better, clean life and of this number ten or eleven were converted Wednesday evening when the evangelist, Prof. George Shaw, delivered a stirring sermon on "A Clean Heart." He took as his text, Psalm 51.

The speaker opened his address by saying that he had preached to all classes of various nations and has found that everyone needs the grace that can take that miserableness out of us that makes us do that which we do not wish to do. The evangelist said that there were many people in this community that are contemplating suicide because they have not the power to resist the blasts of disappointment in this life. He concluded by saying, "A sinful soul which harbors excuses for the failures of our lives makes life ugly and makes a man look like the devil."

Wednesday morning in the city court John McLieth, out of jail less than twenty-four hours, after serving eleven days for drunkenness, was arraigned on the same charge and said he would never take another drink as long as he lived.

He was released on this promise and was out a short time when he was again picked up for drunkenness. He drew fifteen days.

The session of the court Thursday was short. Ed Gray was fined $1 and costs for drunkenness, Ernest Brooks was in bad shape from drink and he was held until Saturday and John Conners was let go.

Macon, Ga., Nov. 12.—Four brothers, members of the Boys' Corn club of Georgia, produced 24 bushels of corn on four acres of land this year. Luther Allred, of Pickens county, one of the brothers, today won first prize at the state fair for the greatest yield from one acre. He produced 227 bushels. Clarence Allred raised 220 bushels; Elmer, 210, and Arthur, 167, according to the announcement of the judges. Walker Lee Dunson, of Alexander City, Ala., holds the national record with a yield of 2323 bushels on one acre.

(By Jack Junpmeyer.)

Sounds revolutionary, with infinite economic possibilities.

FRED CLARKE.

The initial step proposed is that of providing trained nurse field workers to look after cured patients discharged from insane asylums; to see that they do not go back to the very home conditions that caused the first mental breakdown.

It is now being considered by the state board of control, at the instance of Dr. Fred P. Clarke, of the Stockton state hospital.

At this institution 85 per cent. of insane cases caused by environmental conditions—overwork, sickness, fright, grief, alcoholism and excesses—are cured.

"But what's the use of discharging them," said Dr. Clarke, "if they go right back to the old conditions?

"We prevent a man from jeopardizing the health of his family, but we seem to care little if he overworks his wife to the point where her mind is shattered and she becomes a public charge.

"You'd be surprised to know how many women are sent here for just that reason—because their husbands overwork them and permit no recreation cooping them up inside four walls night and day.

"And then the rest of us, witnessing the result and knowing the cause, allow the discharged inmate to go right back to the same environment, practically assuring return to the asylum in a short time.

"This is economic folly, as well as inhumanity. Costly indifference!

"Through trained field workers we could keep tab on the released patients and prevent ignorance, greed and brutality from again taking its toll and increasing the tax rate.

"We have probation officers and parole agents for moral delinquents; why not show the same interest in these other unfortunates? It would pay in dollars and cents, even if only such a saving were the consideration.

"These field workers would visit the homes of former inmates, and their offices would become a great humanizing and educational function. It seems to me no more radical than sanitary inspection."

NOT A CANDIDATE.

Feick Not Seeking Speakership, Says Indianapolis Paper.

According to the Indianapolis News Fred L. Feick, of Garrett, is not a candidate for the speakership of the next house of representatives of the Indiana general assembly. The News says: "Somebody started a report that Fred L. Feick, of Garrett, would be a candidate for speaker. He was elected to the house from DeKalb county. It is said, however, that he will not start in the race and that he announced weeks ago that he would not run for that position."

FIRST EVENT BIG SUCCESS.

Inaugurating its new social season, Mizpah temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine entertained a big crowd of Masons and their wives, sons and daughters at its temple on West Main street Wednesday evening. The event was splendidly successful. The program included a concert by the Mizpah temple band, solos by Earl Thompson and Miss Ethel Doud, and a drill by the Arab patrol under command of Lieut. R. B. Garmire. Dancing followed until 12 o'clock.

A REBUFF.

The Optimist—What beautiful weather! Surely nature has made this a marvelous world!

The Pessimist—Well, don't snarl at me about it. I had no hand in it.

Promoter Will Make Test of California Anti-Prize Fight Law.

San Francisco, Nov. 12.—Constitutionality of the anti-prize fight amendment adopted at the recent election, as part of the state's penal code, will be tested it was announced today on the ground that it is class legislation. The measure allows amateur four-round boxing matches.

A local promoter who has a permit for professional four-round contests in December, said he would go ahead and base his contest on habeas corpus proceedings to be instituted whenever the principals in his fights are arrested.

RUBENS.

Big Sale Opened Yesterday Morning With a Rush.

The Rubens store at 608 Calhoun street began their Retiring From The Dry Goods Business Sale yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, with a crowd at the door that fairly choked the passage way into the store. From the minute the doors were opened in the morning until they were closed at 6 o'clock last evening this store was literally packed to its capacity and all certain parts of the morning and afternoon it was estimated that more than 500 customers were jammed together at one time in this store.
